Myth Its Meaning And Functions In Ancient And Other Cultures Sather Classical Lectures:

Myth G.S. Kirk,1970 Myth Geoffrey Stephen Kirk,1973-01-01 Myth Geoffrey Stephen Kirk,1983 Myth G. S. Kirk,2023-09-01 This book attempts to come to grips with a set of widely ranging but connected problems concerning myths their relation to folktales on the one hand to rituals on the other the validity and scope of the structuralist theory of myth the range of possible mythical functions the effects of developed social institutions and literacy the character and meaning of ancient Near Eastern myths and their influence on Greece the special forms taken by Greek myths and their involvement with rational modes of thought the status of myths as expressions of the unconscious as allied with dreams as universal symbols or as accidents of primarily narrative aims Almost none of these problems has been convincingly handled even in a provisional way up to the present and this failure has vitiated not only such few general discussions as exist of the nature meanings and functions of myths but also in many cases the detailed assessment of individual myths of different cultures The need for a coherent treatment of these and related problems and one that is not concerned simply to propagate a particular universalistic theory seems undeniable How far the present book will satisfactorily fill such a need remains to be seen At least it makes a beginning even if in doing so it risks the criticism of being neither fish nor fowl Sociologists and folklorists may find it from their specialized viewpoints a little simplistic in places and a few classical colleagues will not forgive me for straying far beyond Greek myths even though these can hardly be understood in isolation or solely in the light of studies in cult and ritual Others may find it less easy than anthropologists sociologists historians of thought or students of French and English literature to accept the relevance of Levi Strauss to some of these matters but his theory contains the one important new idea in this field since Freud it is complicated and largely untested and it demands careful attention from anyone attempting a broad understanding of the subject The beliefs of Freud and Jung on the other hand are a more familiar element in the situation and have given rise to an enormous secondary literature much of it arbitrary and some of it absurd The author has tried to isolate the crucial ideas and subject them to a pointed if too brief critique so too with those of Ernst Cassirer This book attempts to come to grips with a set of widely ranging but connected problems concerning myths their relation to folktales on the one hand to rituals on the other the validity and scope of the structuralist theory of myth the range of possible

Appealing to God or Man Nicholas J. Campbell,2025-03-31 Appealing to God or Man Contrasting Barrenness and Family Death Narratives in the Hebrew Bible and Ancient Near East argues for a reevaluation of barrenness type scenes in the Hebrew Bible and ancient Near East More specifically the argument is for a distinction women in family death narratives appeal to men while women in barrenness narratives appeal to God Even the male centric epics of the ancient Near East show that women interact with the divine more during barrenness crises e g the wife s prophetic dream in the Etana myth than during family death crises e g male divine narratives in Kirta and Aqhat This distinction not only clarifies the narrative tropes but emphasizes the role of women in these crises and intersects with discussions of household roles in the ancient Near East Male and female roles in marriage and fertility drive the responses of characters in these idealized narrative worlds especially in family death and barrenness narratives On Fiction and Adab in Medieval Arabic

Literature Philip F. Kennedy, 2005 Proceedings from a workshop in medieval Arabic literature April 21-22 2000 Human Sacrifice in Ancient Greece Dennis D. Hughes, 2013-01-11 Numerous ancient texts describe human sacrifices and other forms of ritual killing in 480 BC Themistocles sacrifices three Persian captives to Dionysus human scapegoats called pharmakoi are expelled yearly from Greek cities and according to some authors they are killed Locris girls are hunted down and slain by the Trojans on Mt Lykaion children are sacrificed and consumed by the worshippers and many other texts report human sacrifices performed regularly in the cult of the gods or during emergencies such as war and plague Archaeologists have frequently proposed human sacrifice as an explanation for their discoveries from Minoan Crete children's bones with knife cut marks the skeleton of a youth lying on a platform with a bronze blade resting on his chest skeletons sometimes bound in the dromoi of Mycenaean and Cypriot chamber tombs and dual man woman burials where it is suggested that the woman was slain or took her own life at the man's funeral If the archaeologists' interpretations and the claims in the ancient sources are accepted they present a bloody and violent picture of the religious life of the ancient Greeks from the Bronze Age well into historical times But the author expresses caution In many cases alternative if less sensational explanations of the archaeological are possible and it can often be shown that human sacrifices in the literary texts are mythical or that late authors confused mythical details with actual practices Whether the evidence is accepted or not this study offers a fascinating glimpse into the religious thought of the ancient Greeks and into changing modern conceptions of their religious behaviour National Library of Medicine Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), 1971 Drama and Religion: Volume 5 James Redmond, 1983 Themes in Drama brings together articles and review about the dramatic and theatrical activity of a wide range of cultures and periods Remembering the Unexperienced Stephen D. Campbell, 2020-11-16 This book argues that a helpful framework within which to interpret the paraenesis of Deuteronomy 4:1-40 can be constructed through interaction with the cultural memory interests of German Egyptologist Jan Assmann and the canonical approach of U.S. biblical theologian Brevard Childs By bringing Assmann's cultural memory concerns to bear on the world within the text Deuteronomy is brought into fruitful contact with questions from the field of sociology by asking these questions in interaction with the theologically rich formulation of canon offered by Childs's canonical approach Deuteronomy is interpreted as an authoritative witness to God for contemporary communities of faith As a result of this reading strategy the communal and trans-generational nature of covenant stands out This emphasis in turn influences the way Horeb is remembered by later generations and how that memory is transmitted from one generation to the next through ritual practice and the text of Scripture
