RED ROSES

I'm waitin' for de springtime
When de tulips grow—
Sweet, sweet springtime
When de tulips grow;
Cause if I'd die in de winter
They'd bury me under snow.

Un'neath de snow, Lawd,
Oh, what would I do?
Un'neath de snow,
I say what would I do?
It's bad enough to die but
I don't want freezin' too.

I'm waitin' for de springtime
An' de roses red,
Waitin' for de springtime
When de roses red
'Ll make a nice coverin'
Fer a gal that's dead.

The Rose Garden William Paul,1903 Roses from the Divine Carol Coles,2015-03-12 This book reflects poems of everyday people who have risen from the pit of life to excellence and people who have fallen into the pit of life and may never rise up to their human potential of excellence Carol Coles has been touched by Roses from the Divine experiencing life changes from the ghetto and rising to a measure of excellence by traveling across the United States from the East Midwest and finally to the West settling in California Each city held its own beauty challenges tears and love with every divine rose that came into the author s life then faded leaving life s lessons that can only be told through poetry of the written word Roses from the Divine moves from life s observance of women who rose out of nothing to claim their place in the world as written in the poem Women of Excellence Women whose work was steadfast and their beliefs in the impossible become the possible Women whose strength love and dedication to the goal was unrivaled no matter the challenges both big and small which uplifted them role models for those women who would follow and make their own paths of excellence Roses from the Divine moves the reader to those that fall into the pit of life as in the poem Walk the Streets which paints a picture of daily destruction of the soul A painful reminder of lives that never see beyond the dark but in their hearts look for a way out but life may not show them a way out until the final darkness closes their soul of hope In Roses from the Divine the poet reaches out and reflects on individual encounters friends and passersby observations of nature s mystery and those individuals touched by the divine Finally we reach the portal of time where all of us individually must go and step through the portal with the realization that we look into infinity with our individual souls that reflect I am May all of us reach the portal of time knowing that we gave this life our best

Poem of the Roses Erminia Passannanti,2004 Erminia Passannanti s analysis is lucid even as she compiles the daunting number of references that Fortini drew on in writing this tour de force Her critique winds through the eighteen meandering octaves in seven sections or fragments to signal allusions to literary ideological and mythological sources Particularly apt are the critic s elucidation of Fortini s use of an expressionist style one which was not his own but which he employed in order to critique a particular historical poetic mode of inertia and self indulgence broadly understood as experimentalist Fortini s poem stands as
