

The background image is a composite of two parts. The top half shows a sky with warm, orange and red hues, suggesting a sunset or sunrise, with some wispy clouds. The bottom half shows a long, straight road or highway stretching from the foreground into the distance, flanked by dark, silhouetted hills or mountains. The road has multiple lanes and some light trails, possibly from traffic, giving it a sense of depth and perspective.

written for the magazine Inside Charter Schools Bruce Fuller,2009-06-30 Deepening disaffection with conventional public schools has inspired flight to private schools home schooling and new alternatives such as charter schools Barely a decade old the charter school movement has attracted a colorful band of supporters from presidential candidates to ethnic activists to the religious Right At present there are about 1 700 charter schools with total enrollment estimated to reach one million early in the century Yet until now little has been known about the inner workings of these small inventive schools that rely on public money but are largely independent of local school boards Inside Charter Schools takes readers into six strikingly different schools from an evangelical home schooling charter in California to a back to basics charter in a black neighborhood in Lansing Michigan With a keen eye for human aspirations and dilemmas the authors provide incisive analysis of the challenges and problems facing this young movement Do charter schools really spur innovation or do they simply exacerbate tribal forms of American pluralism Inside Charter Schools provides shrewd and illuminating studies of the struggles and achievements of these new schools and offers practical lessons for educators scholars policymakers and parents
