Program of the ... Annual Meeting American Historical Association. Meeting, 2004 Program of the ... Annual Meeting American Historical Association, 2004 Making a Nation Jeanne Boydston, Jan Ellen Lewis, James Oakes, 2003 Contemporary Nutrition is designed for students with little or no background in college level biology chemistry or physiology It provides the ideal balance of reliable nutrition information and practical consumer oriented knowledge With a friendly writing style the authors act as the student s personal guide to dispelling common misconceptions and to gaining a solid foundation for making informed nutrition choices Contemporary Nutrition emphasizes that a population consists of individuals with varying genetic and cultural backgrounds and these individuals will have varying responses to diet The knowledge gained from this text will allow students to personalize nutrition information and make smart choices Buildings and Landmarks of 19th-Century America Elizabeth B. Greene, 2017-05-05 An invaluable resource for readers interested in architecture and design that demonstrates how the construction form and function of key structures in the 19th century influenced American social political economic and intellectual life America has always been a nation of thinkers believers creators and builders Evidence of this is plentiful among the landmarks constructed in the 19th century Buildings and Landmarks of 19th Century America American Society Revealed examines many examples that include homes office buildings recreational spaces military sites religious buildings and other landmarks in a variety of geographical locations discussing the background architecture and cultural significance of each Each engaging accessible entry not only provides readers detailed information about how the landmark relates to what was going on in American society at the time of its construction but also sparks the reader s interest to research the subject further As examples consider that a rural cemetery built in Massachusetts in the early 19th century was the prime influence on public park design and led to the construction of New York s Central Park and many other public parks since The millionaire industrialist and philanthropist Andrew Carnegie built many of the first free public libraries in the country which led to the development of municipal public library systems The huge success of 19th century world s fairs like the 1876 Centennial Exhibition and the 1893 World s Columbian Exhibition had lasting effects on society through the many new products that they introduced to the public Throughout the book landmarks are analyzed to elucidate their influence on many aspects of 19th century society including the treatment of the mentally ill impact of religious revivals growth of leisure and vacation time and housing for the poor and the western homesteader among many others In the How to Evaluate Buildings and Structures section readers are prompted to consider questions such as What specific purposes did the building or structure have When was it constructed and what were the circumstances and What was the need it addressed Students will learn about the period while also developing the skills of observation and assessment needed to analyze these landmarks and draw meaningful conclusions from them about their context and significance The discussion of each landmark serves to help readers with these elements of critical thinking assessment and analysis

Bigger Isn't Necessarily Better Frederick Abernathy, 2012 Bigger Isn't

Necessarily Better examines the performance and operation of the US homebuilding sector based on a detailed survey of large home builders conducted by the authors in the period of the great building boom of the 2000s In contrast to the many books that have focused on the financial side of the housing sector prior to the Great Recession the book examines the operational side of the industry and what did and more importantly what did not happen during the period of unprecedented growth Despite the rise of very large national homebuilders during the boom years from 1999 to 2005 and the consolidation of the industry that accompanied it the authors find that major homebuilders often did not adopt innovations in areas ranging from information technology supply chain practices and work site management nor improve their operational performance Given this the book discusses what homebuilders can learn from other industries as they face a challenging future Public Affairs Information Service Bulletin ,1980 Money and Justice Leszek Niewdana,2015-02-11 Money has always represented power For Aristotle this power was inseparable from the exercise of justice within a community This is why issuance of money was the prerogative of the lawful authority government Such a view of monetary power was widespread and includes societies as distant as China Over the past several centuries however private interests increasingly tapped into the exercise of the money power Through gradual shifts commercial banks have gained a legally protected right to create money through issuance of debts The aim of this book is to unravel various layers hiding the real workings of modern money and banking systems and injustices ingrained in them By asking what money really is who controls it and for what purpose why the book provides insight into understanding of modern money and banking systems as well as the causes of growing financialization of economies throughout the world money manias and economic instability The book also increases the awareness of injustices hidden in the workings of modern money and banking systems and the need for moral underpinnings of such systems Finally it suggests a money system which could immensely improve human economic and ecological conditions
