Making Of Christian Malta:

The Making of Christian Malta Anthony Luttrell, 2017-09-29 This title was first published in 2002 Dr Luttrell's work has helped change our understanding of the history of the small islands of Malta and Gozo providing a more coherent story of the ways in which during the Middle Ages a small isolated Muslim community was converted into a more prosperous outpost of Roman Christianity with a unique cultural mixture of Arabic speech and European institutions This selection of studies places the process within the context of developments in the medieval Mediterranean world and combines archaeological and architectural investigations with work in Maltese Sicilian and other archives with a particular focus on ecclesiastical matters a new introduction brings the subject up to date This work is of relevance to scholars of Islam and Christianity while providing insights into the nature of an unusual island community whose significance far exceeds its size

The Agency of the Conquered Eric Böhme, 2025-09-08 Eric Böhme analyses two processes of conquest which are generally considered prime examples of the expansion of Latin Christian powers into the Islamicate Mediterranean The Norman conquest of Sicily 1061 1091 put a close to more than two hundred years of Muslim rule over the island Two centuries later the Catalan Aragonese conquest of eastern al Andalus c 1229 1245 and its transformation into the Kingdom of Valencia constituted a major advance in the Christian expansion on the Iberian Peninsula The striking parallels between both changes of rulership are now analysed in depth for the first time At the centre of the analysis is the perspective of the conquered Muslim communities With what motivation and strategies did they participate in processes of interaction and negotiation with the new rulers and other immigrant groups the Mediterranean and Venice were in decline by the sixteenth century and that the Hospitaller Order claimed to be in decline by the eighteenth had given up Malta to the French as a result This book will appeal to all those interested in Crusading Orders and the history of the Crusades as well as the history of Venice Malta and the Mediterranean in the early modern period

The Hospitallers, the Mediterranean and Europe Nikolas Jaspert,2016-03-09 Modern study of the Hospitallers of other military religious orders and of their activities both in the Mediterranean and in Europe has been deeply influenced by the work of Anthony Luttrell To mark his 75th birthday in October 2007 twenty three colleagues from ten different countries have contributed to this volume The first section focuses on the crusading period in the Holy Land considering the Hospital in Jerusalem relations with the Assassins finances indulgences transportation and the careers of the brothers and knights The second and third sections move to the later Middle Ages when the Hospitallers had their centre on Rhodes and military and charitable activities in the East had to be supported with men and money from the West The papers in the second section consider the Hospitallers on Rhodes relations between Rhodes and the West and plans for crusades while the third section includes papers on the Hospitallers in the Iberian Peninsula and in Hungary the territorial administration of the Order of Montesa in Valencia a plan to transfer the headquarters of the Teutonic Order from Prussia to Frisia and a Hospitaller reconsideration of warfare and learning on the eve of the council of Trent The final paper proposes new definitions and guidelines for future work on the military religious orders The authors include both well known experts and younger scholars who promise to follow in the footsteps of Anthony Luttrell and to continue research into the Hospitallers and their fellow orders these peculiar European communities avant la lettre The Military Orders: History and heritage Malcolm Barber, Victor Mallia-Milanes, Helen J. Nicholson, 2008-01-01 The thirty papers published here record the proceedings of the Third International Conference on the Military Orders The principal focus on this occasion was the Hospital of St John but the Templars Teutonic Knights and other military orders are dealt with too Many of the papers relate to provincial life along with contributions on historiography the papacy cultural history and religious life Muslims of Medieval Italy Alex Metcalfe, 2014-03-11 A general historical introduction to the Muslims of Medieval Italy which presents specific information regarding social religious administrative political cultural artistic and intellectual questions Studies in the Origins of Early Islamic Culture and Tradition Michael Cook, 2022-04-19 In contrast to the gradual formation of the high cultures of most of the world the process by which Islamic civilisation emerged and took on its classical form between the 7th and 9th centuries was unusually sudden The studies collected here are concerned with aspects of this remarkable development Their topics are varied including the emergence of dialectical theology the origins of accounts of Pharaonic history current in medieval Egypt the sources of Muslim dietary law the Islamic background of Karaism and Max Weber's views on Islamic sects Other articles look at early Syrian eschatology and its connections with late antiquity and Byzantium at the relevance of eschatology to debates about the dating of traditions and at the attitudes of the early traditionists to the writing down of tradition The final items examine reports about the textual affiliations of a long lost Koranic codex and discussions of adultery among the baboons of Yemen A recurring theme is the relationship between Early Muslim ideas and those of non Muslim cultures sometimes very ancient ones Arabic Administration in Norman Sicily Jeremy Johns, 2002-10-07 In the late eleventh century Sicily originally part of the Islamic world was captured by Norman French and Italian adventurers led by Roger de Hauteville For the next 150 years Roger and his descendants ruled the island and its predominantly Arabic speaking Muslim population Jeremy Johns 2002 book represents a comprehensive account of the Arabic administration of Norman Sicily While it has generally been assumed that the Normans simply inherited their Arabic administration from the Muslim governors of the island the author uses the unique Sicilian Arabic documents to demonstrate that the Norman kings restructured their administration on the model of the contemporary administration of Fatimid Egypt Controversially he also suggests that in doing so their intention was not administrative efficiency but the projection of their royal image This is a compelling and accessible account of the Norman rulers and how they related to their counterparts in the Muslim Mediterranean
