The Making of Rubens Svetlana Alpers, 1996 The second problem is that of art and its consumption Beginning with Watteau the making of a Rubensian art is traced in the taste for Rubens in the eighteenth century in France where many of the pictures he had kept for his own collection had found their way In the writings of Roger de Piles and in the work of the painters to follow art is made out of the viewing and discussing of art A binary system of taste emerged for Rubens as contrasted with Poussin and critical distinctions came to be fashioned in the binary terms of gender Finally Alpers considers creativity itself and how as a man and as a painter Rubens could have viewed his own generative talent An analysis of his Munich Silenus fleshy intoxicated and following Virgil's account disempowered as a condition of producing his songs reveals a sense of the creative gift as humanly indeterminate and equivocal ~THEœ MAKING OF RUBENS. The Rape of the Masters Roger Kimball, 2005-11-25 Colleges and universities used to teach art history to encourage connoisseurship and acquaint students with the riches of our artistic heritage But now as Roger Kimball reveals in this witty and provocative book the student is less likely to learn about the aesthetics of masterworks than to be told for instance that Peter Paul Rubens' great painting Drunken Silenus is an allegory about anal rape Or that Courbet's famous hunting pictures are psychodramas about castration anxiety Or that Gauguin's Manao tupapau is an example of the way repression is written on the bodies of women Or that Jan van Eyck's masterful Arnolfini Portrait is about middle class deceptions and the treatment of women Or that Mark Rothko's abstract White Band Number 27 parallels the pictorial structure of a pieta Or that Winslow Homer's The Gulf Stream is a visual encoding of racism In The Rape of the Masters How Political Correctness Sabotages Art Kimball a noted art critic himself shows how academic art history is increasingly held hostage to radical cultural politics feminism cultural studies postcolonial studies the whole armory of academic antihumanism To make his point he describes how eight famous works of art reprinted here as illustrations have been made over to fit a radical ideological fantasy Kimball then performs a series of intellectual rescue operations explaining how these great works should be understood through a series of illuminating readings in which art not politics guides the discussion Rubens David Jaffé, Elizabeth McGrath, Amanda Bradley, Minna A. Moore Ede, National Gallery (Great Britain), 2005 A fascinating exploration of the early work of the great Flemish master Rubens Rubens's Spirit Alexander Marr, 2021-03-25 Peter Paul Rubens was the most inventive and prolific northern European artist of his age This book discusses his life and work in relation to three interrelated themes spirit ingenuity and genius It argues that Rubens and his reception were pivotal in the transformation of early modern ingenuity into Romantic genius Ranging across the artist's entire career it explores Rubens's engagement with these themes in his art and life Alexander Marr looks at Rubens's forays into altarpiece painting in Italy as well as his collaborations with fellow artists in his hometown of Antwerp and his complex relationship with the spirit of pleasure It concludes with his late landscapes in connection to genius loci the spirit of the place Historical Dictionary of Baroque

Roman Charity Jutta

Gisela Sperling, 2016-10-15 Roman Charity investigates the iconography of the breastfeeding daughter from the perspective of queer sexuality and erotic maternity. The volume explores the popularity of a topic that appealed to early modern observers for its eroticizing shock value, its ironic take on the concept of Catholic charity and its implied critique of patriarchal power structures. It analyses why early modern viewers found an incestuous adult breastfeeding scene good to think with and aims at expanding and queering our notions of early modern sexuality. Jutta Gisela Sperling discusses the different visual contexts in which Roman Charity flourished and reconstructs contemporary horizons of expectation by reference to literary sources, medical practice and legal culture.

Witch Craze Lyndal Roper, 2006-01-01 A powerful account of witches, crones and the societies that make them. From the gruesome ogress in Hansel and Gretel to the hags at the sabbath in Faust, the witch has been a powerful figure of the Western imagination. In the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries, thousands of women confessed to being witches, of making pacts with the Devil, causing babies to sicken and killing animals and crops, and were put to death. This book is a gripping account of the pursuit, interrogation, torture and burning of witches during this period and beyond. Drawing on hundreds of original trial transcripts and other rare sources in four areas of Southern Germany, where most of the witches were executed, Lyndal Roper paints a vivid picture of their lives, families and tribulations. She also explores the psychology of witch hunting, explaining why it was mostly older women that were the victims of witch crazes, why they confessed to crimes, and how the depiction of witches in art and literature has influenced the characterization of elderly women in our own culture.

Medieval and Renaissance Lactations Jutta Gisela Sperling, 2016-04-22 The premise of this volume is that the ubiquity of lactation imagery in early modern visual culture and the discourse on breastfeeding in humanist, religious, medical and literary writings is a distinct cultural phenomenon that deserves systematic study. Chapters by art historians, social and legal historians, historians of science and literary scholars explore some of the ambiguities and contradictions surrounding the issue and point to the need for further study, in particular in the realm of lactation imagery in the visual arts. This volume builds on existing scholarship on representations of the breast, the iconography of the Madonna Lactans, allegories of abundance, nature and charity, women mystics, food-centered practices of devotion, the ubiquitous practice of wet nursing and medical theories of conception. It is informed by studies on queer kinship in early modern Europe, notions of sacred eroticism in pre-Tridentine Catholicism, feminist investigations of breastfeeding as a sexual practice, and by anthropological and historical scholarship on milk exchange and ritual kinship in ancient Mediterranean and medieval Islamic societies. Proposing a variety of different methods and analytical frameworks within which to consider instances of lactation imagery, breastfeeding practices and their textual references, this volume also offers tools to support further research on the topic.
