Critical Perspectives on Gender Equality Policies and Practices for Staff in Higher Education Sarah

Barnard, Gail Crimmins, 2022-09-13 Promoting Gender Equity in Selected Public Universities of Kenya Jane Onsongo, 2011

The purpose of this study was to examine sustainable gender equity interventions in selected public universities. The study used descriptive survey and case study research methods to carry out an in-depth analysis of the gender equity interventions in selected public universities in Kenya. The sample consisted of four public universities that were selected because they had established gender centers/institutes that were assumed to be coordinating gender equity intervention. The study has the following objectives: To establish the existing gender inequalities in the formal organisational structure of the selected universities; To identify and assess sustainability of gender equity interventions in the selected public universities; To analyse the national, regional, international and organisational culture and policy contexts that have influenced and supported the introduction of the identified gender equity interventions; To investigate the attitudes of staff, students and management towards the gender equity interventions; and to recommend appropriate institutional strategies to address existing gender inequities.

Crime John Muncie, Deborah Talbot, Reece Walters, 2014-05-22 Crime Local and Global and its sister text Criminal Justice Local and Global are two new teaching texts that aim to equip the reader with a critical understanding of the globally contested nature of crime and justice. Through an examination of key concepts and criminological approaches, the books illuminate the different ways in which crime is constructed, conceived and controlled. International case studies are used to demonstrate how crime and justice are historically and geographically located in terms of the global, local context and how processes of criminalisation and punishment are mediated in contemporary societies. Crime Local and Global covers the way local events such as prostitution have wider aspects than previously thought. Links with people traffickers, international organised crime and violence cannot be ignored any longer. Each crime or area of activity selected within this text has a global reach and is made ever more possible due to the way globalisation has opened up markets, both legitimate and illegitimate. The book's approach and scope emphasises that we can no longer view crime as something which occurs within certain jurisdictions at certain times and in particular places. For example, the chapter on cybercrime highlights the illegal acts that can be perpetrated by second-lifers anywhere in the world but are they a crime?

Feminist Perspectives on Employment Law Anne Morris, Thérèse O'Donnell, 2013-03-04 Whilst equal pay, maternity rights and sex discrimination have received attention from feminist scholars, there is an increasing awareness that the whole working environment needs to be examined. This text presents a discussion of traditional and less obvious aspects of employment.

Families, Education, and Social Differences Ben Cosin, Margaret Hales, 1997 This book completes the series of readers for the Open University's undergraduate course EU208 Exploring Educational Issues. A major theme of the book is the controversy around early years education and it looks at inequality issues.

Making Spaces: Citizenship and Difference in Schools T. Gordon, J. Holland, E. Lahelma, 2000-01-28 This book uses an ethnographic, cross-cultural approach to study everyday life in secondary schools in London and Helsinki. Employing a metaphor of dance, it explores the relationship between the official school correct steps the informal school improvised steps and the physical school the ballroom Practices and processes of differentiation marginalisation and of co operation are explored in relation to gender and its intersections with social class and ethnicity The concluding question who are the wallflowers is addressed through a critique of New Right politics and policies in education
