Tiso, 2016-01-26 A leading authority on the rainbow body traces its history in the encounter of religions in medieval Central Asia exploring a previously unimagined connection between early Dzogchen and the resurrection of Jesus Francis V Tiso a noted authority on the rainbow body explores this manifestation of spiritual realization in a wide ranging and deeply informed study of the transformation of the material body into a body of light Seeking evidence on the boundary between physical science and deep spirituality that might elucidate the resurrection of Jesus he investigates the case of Khenpo A Ch a Buddhist monk who died in eastern Tibet in 1999 Rainbow Body and Resurrection chronicles the dissolution of Khenpo's material body within a week of his death including eye witness interviews Tiso describes the spiritual practices that give rise to the rainbow body and traces their history deep into the encounter of religions in medieval Central Asia His erudite exploration of the Tibetan phenomenon raises the fascinating question of whether there is a connection between the rainbow body and the dying and rising of Jesus Drawing on a wealth of recent research Tiso expands his discussion to include the contemplative geography out of which Dzogchen arose some time in the eighth century along the great Silk Road across Central Asia The result is an illuminating consideration of previously unimagined relationships between spiritual practices and beliefs in Central Asia

Have This Mind James E. Royster, 2014-04-18 Have This Mind uses a rational logical and systematic approach to spirituality religion and God by focusing on the mind or consciousness rather than doctrine ritual etc It provides a model that resolves the many seemingly conflicting views of religion and God The four largest religions of the world Hinduism Buddhism Christianity and Islam are introduced in terms of their transformative dimensions that lead to an inclusive and eminently happy life These principles and practices are illustrated with biographies of exemplary saints and sages from the traditions Have This Mind outlines three different ways of being religious regardless of one's particular religious tradition based on a progressively maturing mind Of particular import to Christian readers are interpretations of biblical and theological views that facilitate transition from a traditional and mythic outlook tending toward exclusivism to one that is rational transrational and inclusive On the basis of an appreciative and inclusive view of the world's great religions one discovers how these religions can actually enhance one's own spirituality and religious outlook A perspective central to Have This Mind is that authentic religion and spirituality lie in the loving quality of one's life and not simply the ideas or beliefs held in one's mind television are nothing more than light so are our experiences merely the dance of awareness Often we form attachments to or feel enslaved by these experiences But they are only reflections As easily as television pictures vanish when the channel is changed the power of our experiences fades if we penetrate to the heart of reality the light of the natural mind within everyone You Are the Eyes of the World presents a method for discovering awareness everywhere all the time This book does not discuss how to turn ordinary life off and it does not describe how to create beautiful spiritual experiences it shows how to live within the source of all life the unified field where experience takes place The Unity of Mystical Traditions

Randall Studstill,2018-08-14 This book argues that mystical doctrines and practices initiate parallel transformative processes in the consciousness of mystics This thesis is supported through a comparative analysis of Tibetan Buddhist Dzogchen rdzogs chen and the medieval German mysticism of Eckhart Suso and Tauler These traditions are interpreted using a system cybernetic model of consciousness This model provides a theoretical framework for assessing the cognitive effects of mystical doctrines and practices and showing how different doctrines and practices may nevertheless initiate common transformative processes This systems approach contributes to current philosophical discourse on mysticism by 1 making possible a precise analysis of the cognitive effects of mystical doctrines and practices and 2 reconciling mystical heterogeneity with the essential unity of mystical traditions Will Yoga & Meditation Really Change My Life? Stephen Cope,2025-04-08

Along with the song by Shabkar, translator Keith Dowman includes several other seminal Dzogchen texts. Dzogchen practice brings us into direct communion with the subtlest nature of our experience, the unity of samsara and nirvana as experienced within our own consciousness. Within the Nyingma school, it is held higher than even the practices of tantra for bringing the meditator face to face with the nature of reality.

Minding What Matters Robert Langan, 2006-06. Minding What Matters interweaves beautifully written expositions of Buddhist topics and compelling fictional dialogues between a patient and psychotherapist. With vivid immediacy and a sense of playfulness, Langan shows how any one of us can intimately explore the full possibilities of our own minds. This unique book offers, in Robert Coles' words, an entrancing vision of what it is possible to do and to be. Book jacket Dakini's Warm Breath Judith Simmer-Brown, 2002-12-10. A fresh interpretation of the dakini, a Tibetan Buddhist symbol of the feminine that will appeal to practitioners interested in goddess worship, female spirituality, and Tantric Buddhism. The primary emblem of the feminine in Tibetan Buddhism is the dakini or sky dancer, a semi-wrathful spirit woman who manifests in visions, dreams, and meditation experiences. Western scholars and interpreters of the dakini, influenced by Jungian psychology and feminist goddess theology, have shaped a contemporary critique of Tibetan Buddhism in which the dakini is seen as a psychological shadow, a feminine savior, or an objectified product of patriarchal fantasy. According to Judith Simmer-Brown, who writes from the point of view of an experienced practitioner of Tibetan Buddhism, such interpretations are inadequate. In the spiritual journey of the meditator, Simmer-Brown demonstrates the dakini symbolizes levels of personal realization, the sacredness of the body, both female and male, the profound meeting point of body and mind in meditation, the visionary realm of ritual practice, and the empty, spacious qualities of mind itself. When the meditator encounters the dakini, living spiritual experience is activated in a nonconceptual manner by her direct gaze, her radiant body, and her compassionate revelation of reality. Grounded in the author's personal encounter with the dakini, this unique study will appeal to both male and female spiritual seekers interested in goddess worship, women's spirituality, and the tantric tradition. Dancing with Fire John Amodeo, 2013-06-04. Draws upon the science of attachment theory to explain the misunderstood roots of suffering and how to achieve vibrant relationships by welcoming desire rather than suppressing it.
