Public Poetics Bart Vautour, Erin Wunker, Travis V. Mason, Christl Verduyn, 2015-06-18 Public Poetics is a collection of essays and poems that address some of the most pressing issues of the discipline in the twenty first century The collection brings together fifteen original essays addressing public poetry and poetics from the situated space of Canada while simultaneously troubling the notion of the nation as a stable term It asks hard questions about who and what count as public in Canada Critical essays stand alongside poetry as visual and editorial reminders of the cross pollination required in thinking through both poetry and poetics Public Poetics is divided into three thematic sections The first contains essays surveying poetics in the present moment through the lens of the public private divide systematic racism in Canada the counterpublic feminist poetics and Canadian innovations on postmodern poetics The second section contains author specific studies of public poets The final section contains essays that use innovative renderings of poetics as a means of articulating alternative communities and practices Each section is paired with a collection of original poetry by ten contemporary Canadian poets This collection attends to the changing landscape of critical discourse around poetry and poetics in Canada and will be of use to teachers and students of poetry and poetics 70 Canadian Poets Distinguished Professor of Canadian Culture Gary Geddes, 2014-02-11

Introducing students to the depth breadth and character of Canadian poetry for over 40 years this collection of classic and contemporary poems offers a rich representation of this country s diverse poetic landscape Featuring a combination of established and up and coming poets this edition introduces students to a wide range of engaging voices from across the country Alan Crawley and Contemporary Verse Joan McCullagh, 2011-11-01

Little magazines like Alan Crawley s Contemporary Verse are the life blood of literary culture They provide an ongoing forum in which both well established and new poets can experiment and present their latest work and it is often with the little magazines therefore that literary change and originality have their beginnings Today there is no shortage of such outlets in Canada But in 1941 when Alan Crawley began to publish Contemporary Verse in North Vancouver there were only two in the whole country Both of these Canadian Poetry Magazine and Canadian Forum were in the East and neither was in any way committed to modernism Contemporary Verse thus became a major element in the foundations of modern Canadian poetry In this book Joan McCullagh shows how between 1941 and 1952 the magazine charted the establishment of modernism in Canadian poetry by publishing even before 1947 the largest most impressive and most representative collection of early forties poetry in the country Her extensive quotation from the hitherto unpublished correspondence between Crawley and nearly every major poet of the forties also shows how important and valued a literary influence Crawley himself was as a critic and advisor behind the scenes Daryl Hine and Jay Macpherson are only two of the poets who were first encouraged and guided by Alan Crawley s private criticism of work they sent him and then first published in Contemporary Verse Other poets with whom he corresponded at length and whose poetry he published including P K Page James Reaney Louis Dudek Raymond Souster Dorothy Livesay Anne Wilkinson and Earle Birney Very few libraries even in Canada hold a complete set of the 39 issues of Contemporary Verse The index to the magazine that Joan McCullagh has compiled and included here will therefore serve not only as a guide to Contemporary Verse itself but also as an indispensable publishing record of many Canadian poets during the 1940 s Poet's Market 2020 Robert Lee Brewer, 2019-11-26
