sophisticated we might soon find ourselves interpreting the behaviour of robots too in human terms It is natural for us to humanize other beings in this way but is it philosophically or scientifically justifiable How different might the minds of animals or machines be to ours As David McFarland asks here could robots ever feel guilty and is it correct to suppose your dog can truly be happy Can we ever know what non human minds might be like or will the answer be forever out of our reach These are central and important questions in the philosophy of mind and this book is an accessible exploration of the differing philosophical positions that can be taken on the issue McFarland looks not only at philosophy but also examines new evidence from the science of animal behaviour plus the latest developments in robotics and artificial intelligence to show how many different and sometimes surprising conclusions we can draw about the nature of alien minds Horror Dogs Brian Patrick Duggan, 2023-08-07 How did beloved movie dogs become man killers like Cujo and his cinematic pack mates For the first time here is the fascinating history of canines in horror movies and why our best friends were and are still painted as malevolent Stretching back into Classical mythology treacherous hounds are found only sporadically in art and literature until the appearance of cinema s first horror dog Sherlock Holmes Hound of the Baskervilles The story intensifies through World War II s K 9 Corps to the 1970s animal horror films which broke social taboos about the good dog on screen and deliberately vilified certain breeds sometimes even fluffy lapdogs With behind the scenes insights from writers directors actors and dog trainers here are the flickering hounds of silent films through talkies and Technicolor to the latest computer generated brutes the supernatural rabid laboratory made alien feral and trained killers Cave Canem Beware the Dog or as one seminal film warned They re not pets anymore The Internet of Animals Deborah Lupton, 2023-03-07 The internet is made of cats is a half jokingly made claim Today animals of all shapes and sizes inhabit our digital spaces including companion animals wildlife feral animals and livestock In this book Deborah Lupton explores how digital technologies and datafication are changing our relationships with other animals Playfully building on the concept of The Internet of Things she discusses the complex feelings that have developed between people and animals through the use of digital devices from social media to employing animal like robots as companions and carers The book brings together a range of perspectives including those of sociology cultural geography environmental humanities critical animal studies and internet studies to consider how these new digital technologies are contributing to major changes in human animal relationships at both the micropolitical and macropolitical levels As Lupton shows while digital devices and media have strengthened people s relationships to other creatures these technologies can also objectify animals as things for human entertainment therapy or economic exploitation This original and engaging book will be of interest to scholars and students across the social sciences and humanities Humans and Robots Sven Nyholm, 2020-03-09 Can robots perform actions make decisions collaborate with humans be our friends perhaps fall in love or potentially harm us Even before these things truly happen ethical and philosophical questions already arise The reason is that we humans have a tendency to spontaneously attribute minds and agency to anything even remotely humanlike Moreover some people already say that robots should be our companions and have rights Others say that robots should be slaves This book tackles emerging ethical issues about human beings robots and agency head on It explores the ethics of creating robots that are or appear to be decision making agents From military robots to self driving cars to care robots or even sex robots equipped with artificial intelligence how should we interpret the apparent agency of such robots This book argues that we need to explore how human beings can best coordinate and collaborate with robots in responsible ways It investigates ethically important differences between human agency and robot agency to work towards an ethics of responsible human robot interaction Towards Autonomous Robotic Systems M.

Companion Robots for Older Adults Sofia Thunberg,2024-05-06 This thesis explores through a mixed methods approach what happens when companion robots are deployed in care homes for older adults by looking at different perspectives from key stakeholders Nine studies are presented with decision makers in municipalities care staff and older adults as participants and the studies have primarily been carried out in the field in care homes and activity centres where both qualitative e g observations and workshops and quantitative data surveys have been collected The thesis shows that companion robots seem to be here to stay and that they can contribute to a higher quality of life for some older adults It further presents some challenges with a certain discrepancy between what decision makers want and what staff might be able to facilitate For future research and use of companion robots it is key to evaluate each robot model and potential use case separately and develop clear routines for how they should be used and most importantly let all stakeholders be part of the process The knowledge contribution is the holistic view of how different actors affect each other when emerging robot technology is introduced in a care environment Den h r avhandlingen utforskar vad som h nder n r s llkapsrobotar inf rs p omsorgsboenden f r ldre genom att titta p perspektiv fr n olika intressenter Nio studier presenteras med kommunala beslutsfattare v rdpersonal och ldre som deltagare Studierna har i huvudsak genomf rts i f lt p s rskilda boenden och aktivitetscenter d r b de kvalitativa exempelvis observationer och workshops och kvantitativa data enk ter har samlats in Avhandlingen visar att s llkapsrobotar verkar vara h r f r att stanna och att de kan bidra till en h gre livskvalitet f r vissa ldre Den visar ven p en del utmaningar med en viss diskrepans mellan vad beslutsfattare vill inf ra och vad personalen har m jlighet att utf ra i sitt arbete F r framtida forskning och anv ndning av s llkapsrobotar r det viktigt att utv rdera varje robotmodell och varje användningsområde var för sig och ta fram tydliga rutiner för hur de ska användas och viktigast av allt låta alla intressenter vara en del av processen Kunskapsbidraget med avhandlingen ger en helhetssyn på hur olika aktörer påverkar varandra när ny robotteknik introduceras i en vardmiljö
