Reclaiming Local Control through Superintendents, School Boards, and Community Activism Meredith Mountford, Leigh Ellen Wallace, 2022-09-01 In 1987 Jacqueline Danzberger described school boards as the forgotten players However things have changed drastically for school boards over the past few years No longer are school boards the forgotten players in school governance Instead school boards often find themselves in the center of controversies stemming from the intrusion of political partisanship into local governance structures which historically and for the purposes of sustained democratic educational governance were intentionally intended to be non partisan elected boards However this is where many school boards find themselves today The chapters in this volume address several key questions school board members are currently facing as they struggle to protect some of our country's earliest guardrails of democracy local control of schools To be sure school boards are no longer the forgotten players Implications of this may be wide reaching and therefore deserve room in the current literature on educational governance Volume II of the Research on the Superintendency series highlights recent research on school boards local control governance and the superintendency Each chapter is briefly described and the chapters are in a particular order that readers may wish to pay attention to as they enjoy the book The first three chapters deal with local control in both rural and urban settings The next two chapters are studies focused mainly on school boards and how their roles have shifted over the years followed by a chapter on the relationship between school boards and their superintendents within a regulatory environment and the level of stress it can bring to board members and superintendents The final five chapters describe recent superintendent research that is closely linked to school governance or school board policies We ask readers to juxtapose lessons learned in those five chapters to the role of school boards within the context of those chapters

Resources in Education, 1997 The Board-Savvy Superintendent Paul D. Houston, Doug

Eadie, 2002-11-23 The Board Savvy Superintendent's hard hitting no nonsense advice on school board leadership capitalizes on Houston and Eadie's hands on experience working with hundreds of boards and superintendents over the past quarter century. It is a practical survive and thrive book that will help school district leaders, board members, superintendents and senior administrators learn to work together successfully in leading their districts in these extraordinarily challenging times. Filled with detailed thoroughly tested guidance on how to acquire the skills and knowledge that make up board savvy, it also addresses how to develop the school board's capacity to produce truly high impact governance and how to build a strong enduring productive board superintendent working partnership. The authors take a fresh look at the process of governing going well beyond the old fashioned control focused policy governance approach. Rather than being preoccupied with developing a static structure of policies to distinguish the board's role from the superintendent's, the book describes how the board and superintendent can creatively work together in making decisions about such critical governing products as values, vision, mission and strategic change initiatives. School district leaders will appreciate The Board Savvy Superintendent's close look at the gold standard for board involvement in school affairs leading strategic change. The authors go well beyond the conventional long range planning approach of merely projecting everything a school district is doing for some arbitrary period of 3 or 5 years which has generated tons of paper and little important change to provide the reader with detailed practical guidance on engaging school boards creatively and proactively in a much more selective vision driven process that actually results in the implementation of strategic change. Strategic Change Portfolio Jsl Vol 9-N2 JOURNAL OF SCHOOL LEADERSHIP, 1999-03-01 The Journal of School Leadership is broadening the conversation about schools and leadership and is currently accepting manuscripts. We welcome manuscripts based on cutting edge research from a wide variety of theoretical perspectives and methodological orientations. The editorial team is particularly interested in working with international authors, authors from traditionally marginalized populations and in work that is relevant to practitioners around the world. Growing numbers of educators and professors look to the six bimonthly issues to deal with problems directly related to contemporary school leadership practice, teach courses on school leadership and policy, use as a quality reference in writing articles about school leadership and improvement. Superintendent Performance Evaluation: Current Practice and Directions for Improvement I. Carl Candoli, Karen Cullen, D.L. Stufflebeam, 1997-04-30 Outlines some of the problems and deficiencies in the current practice of school boards evaluating the performance of district supervisors and suggests avenues for strengthening or replacing evaluation systems. Focuses on the day to day performance of superintendents as they implement school board policy and recommends integrating such evaluation into the larger system for evaluating the district's plans, processes and accomplishments. Explains the conceptual framework, the history and nature of the position, literature findings and models. Includes a glossary showing technical uses of common terms and 60 pages of sample documents and forms. Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc. Portland, OR The American School
