On Tour An Autobiographical Novel Of The:

The Body in Autobiography and Autobiographical Novels Menotti Lerro, 2018-10-12 This volume explores a web of complex relationships between body and mind discussing the efforts of individuals from a wide variety of backgrounds to define to achieve or to reject the normal and in some cases to put something else in its place After considering the problems arising from other people's perceptions of non standard bodies the book turns to gender is it written upon the body established at birth determined only by physical traits and distinguished by material things such as clothes or is it written within the body defined through the subject's own feelings It considers what happens when males consider themselves female and females consider themselves male It concludes with the analysis of four books by different authors with different sexual orientations Two of these volumes might be considered genuine autobiographies while the other two are novels which include numerous autobiographical features that reflect the authors own thoughts

Encyclopedia of the Novel Paul Schellinger, 2014-04-08 The Encyclopedia of the Novel is the first reference book that focuses on the development of the novel throughout the world Entries on individual writers assess the place of that writer within the development of the novel form explaining why and in exactly what ways that writer is important Similarly an entry on an individual novel discusses the importance of that novel not only from analyzing the particular innovations that novel has introduced and the ways in which it has influenced the subsequent course of the genre A wide range of topic entries explore the history criticism theory production dissemination and reception of the novel A very important component of the Encyclopedia of the Novel is its long surveys of development of the novel in various regions of the world

Shadow Work Emily Hodgson Anderson, 2025-03-04 How is it that reading and writing can at once isolate us and bring us closer to others Blending personal narrative with literary criticism Emily Hodgson Anderson considers what a life spent with books has taught her about loneliness and human connection She delves into the unseen labor of women authors and mothers and she argues that we can reimagine intimacy through books Herself a book lover and writer a teacher of literature and a single mom Anderson reflects on the loneliness and the strength that can come from living writing and parenting alone Shadow Work puts writers such as Jane Austen Mary Shelley Laurence Sterne and Shakespeare into unexpected conversations with authors of children's literature and contemporary fiction among them Roald Dahl Laura Ingalls Wilder Zadie Smith and Lewis Carroll Elegantly and poignantly written this book examines what it means to revisit longtime literary companions and how literature can help us better understand what we show and hide about ourselves

The Violet Hour David Bergman, 2004-07-06 The members of the literary circle known as the Violet Quill Christopher Cox Robert Ferro Michael Grumley Andrew Holleran Felice Picano Edmund White and George Whitmore collectively represent the aspirations and the achievement of gay writing during and after the gay liberation movement This social history shows how the works of these authors both reflected and criticized the values principles and prejudices of the culture of gay liberation In spinning many of the most important stories gay men told of themselves in the short period between the 1969 Stonewall Riots and the devastation of the AIDS epidemic during the 1980s the Violet Quill exerted an enormous influence on gay culture Existentialist Engagement in Wallace, Eggers and Foer Allard den Dulk, 2014-12-18 The novels of David Foster Wallace Dave Eggers and Jonathan Safran Foer are increasingly regarded as representing a new trend an aesthetic sea change in contemporary American literature Post postmodernism and New Sincerity are just two of the labels that have been attached to this trend But what do these labels mean What characterizes and connects these novels Den Dulk shows that the connection between these works lies in their shared philosophical dimension On the one hand they portray excessive self reflection and endless irony as the two main problems of contemporary Western life On the other hand the novels embody an attempt to overcome these problems sincerity reality commitment and community are portrayed as the virtues needed to achieve a meaningful life This shared philosophical dimension is analyzed by viewing the novels in light of the existentialist philosophies of S ren Kierkegaard Jean Paul Sartre Ludwig Wittgenstein and Albert Camus Juan Goytisolo Stanley Black, 2007 This collection of essays looks at the most recent work of Juan Goytisolo from a variety of perspectives and critical stances The contributors all specialists in the work of the Spanish author employ theories of intertextuality postmodernist irony queer ethics and even the esoteric science of Huru sm to uncover the complexities of Goytisolo s creative practice in particular his radical blurring of the generic boundaries between fiction autobiography and literary criticism Such challenging of genre conventions is seen as both integral to the author s own questioning of his identity as an expression of his radical dissidence and essential to the response his work evokes in the reader Life and writing autobiography and ction constitute the interconnecting poles of Goytisolo s artistic universe The essays included in this volume explore the varying patterns of con uence of these twin strands in the writer s later work as a whole but particularly in novels such as Las semanas del jard n 1997 and Carajicomedia 2000 The essays are set in context by a contribution from Juan Goytisolo himself in which he sums up his philosophy of life and writing as a pursuit of non pro table knowledge The Riverside Dictionary of Biography American Heritage Dictionary, 2005 Publisher Description The Autofictional Alexandra Effe, Hannie Lawlor, 2022-01-03 This open access book offers innovative and wide ranging responses to the continuously flourishing literary phenomenon of autofiction The book shows the insights that are gained in the shift from the genre descriptor to the adjective and from a broad application of the autofictional as a theoretical lens and aesthetic strategy In three sections on Approaches Affordances and Forms the volume proposes new theoretical approaches for the study of autofiction and the autofictional offers fresh perspectives on many of the prominent authors in the discussion draws them into a dialogue with autofictional practice from across the globe and brings into view texts forms and media that have not traditionally been considered for their autofictional dimensions The book in sum expands the parameters of research on autofiction to date to allow new voices and viewpoints to emerge The Persistence of Racialization Luz Angélica Kirschner, 2024-10-18 The Persistence of Racialization Literature Gender and

Ethnicity represents an attempt at unpacking the legacy of modern ideas of race initiated and established during the conquest of the Americas and their current relevance for literary criticism of ethnic writing also known as minority writing The book challenges ideas of a post racial globalized world to question the tendency to devalue ethnic literary writing in general and ethnic women s productions in particular by questioning reductive literary criticism of ethnic writing that perpetuates bias against ethnic writing and its authors By advocating for a decolonial literary imagination the book urges literary critics of ethnic writing to consider the complexities of modern race and its enduring impact on contemporary social and cultural narratives Updated literary analyses of Jewish Argentine Turkish German and Chinese American women writers encourage literary critics of ethnic writing to explore alternative transnational frameworks that prioritize equity diversity and social justice

Travel and Identity: Studies in Literature, Culture and Language Jakub Lipski,2018-02-19 This book presents a selection of research papers dealing with the notions of travel and identity in Anglophone literature and culture Collectively the chapters ponder such notions as self and other race centre and periphery thus shedding new light on a number of issues that are highly relevant in the context of the ongoing migration crisis The contributors employ a diverse range of theoretical standpoints from close reading to deconstruction from historically informed approaches to linguistic analysis and thus offer a nuanced panorama of these issues especially from the nineteenth century onwards
