Patriarchy As A Conceptual Trap:

Patriarchy as a Conceptual Trap Elizabeth Dodson Gray, 1982 The Horned God (RLE Feminist Theory) John Rowan, 2012-11-27 This original and pioneering study of how men relate to feminism will appeal to all men who are concerned about their response to the women's movement and to the women in their lives. It will also be helpful for women seeking a constructive response from men. John Rowan drawing on his personal journey through feminism and on his considerable experience as a therapist tackles the issues in a much deeper way than has been attempted before. For men to discover feminism is wounding for them. It can even make them despair about being men at all. But unless they accept that wound, nothing much will change. John Rowan shows that men have to heal that wound at a conscious social/political level, changing laws, practice and daily behaviour. They have to heal it at an unconscious level through therapy, exploring their profound feelings about their mothers, their fathers and their own internal female nature. They also have to heal the wound at a spiritual, transpersonal level, exploring the world of the Goddess and the Horned God. Only then, says John Rowan, can they start to have any real dialogue with women and only then can the world begin to change for both men and women. The Goddess Re-Awakening, 2014-08-22 This anthology with essays by Riane Eisler, June Singer and others considers Goddess myths, current psychological perspectives and the feminine principle in spirituality today. It offers a worldview that integrates intuition, intellect and feeling. Future Survey Annual 1983 Michael Marien, 1984-01-01 Feminism, Violence and Nonviolence Selina Gallo-Cruz, 2024-05-31 What can nonviolence offer to feminists working to end violence against women? Can nonviolence be used by women to protect themselves from street and work harassment, from partner battering, date rape and sexual assault? What are the connections between war and sexism and how should nonviolent activists address them? How should feminists confront the structural violence of racism, xenophobia, colonialism, land displacement and environmental destruction? Feminism, Violence and Nonviolence features a carefully curated selection of seminal texts originally published from the 1970s to the 2000s which document dynamic feminist thinking on the root causes of violence, the social forces inculcating violence into patriarchal institutions and relationships and the many insights that nonviolence can gain from a feminist perspective. This collection of essays, articles, pamphlets, flyers and excerpts from books of feminist thought brings together the voices of the women and men who helped to transform movement consciousness on issues of sexism, racism, colonialism and a broader array of otherisms, expanding and diversifying nonviolent philosophy. With a sociological and historical introduction to the movement and author and organisational biographies, this is an essential resource for students of gendered and sexualised peace, violence and justice. Beyond Patching Sandra Marie Schneiders, 2004 Asserts that the current half-hearted attempts to patch up the excruciating tensions due to the sometimes morally unacceptable way women are treated in the Catholic Church must be replaced with a whole-hearted renewal or the Church stands in danger of losing touch with many of its women. Reissue The Rights of Nature Roderick Frazier Nash, 1989-01-17 Charting the history of contemporary philosophical and religious beliefs regarding nature Roderick Nash focuses primarily on changing attitudes toward nature in the United States His work is the first comprehensive history of the concept that nature has rights and that American liberalism has in effect been extended to the nonhuman world A splendid book Roderick Nash has written another classic This exploration of a new dimension in environmental ethics is both illuminating and overdue Stewart Udall His account makes history come alive Sierra So smoothly written that one almost does not notice the breadth of scholarship that went into this original and important work of environmental history Philip Shabecoff New York Times Book Review Clarifying and challenging this is an essential text for deep ecologists and ecophilosophers Stephanie Mills Utne Reader Mother / Nature Catherine M. Roach, 2003-01-30 This brief but ambitious book explores our relationship with nature through the imagery we use when we talk about Mother Nature Employing the critical tools of religious studies psychology and gender studies Catherine M Roach examines the various manifestations of nature as mother and what that idea implies for the way we approach the natural world Part One Nature as Good Mother discusses the notion that nature is or is like a beneficent and nurturing mother who provides and maintains life In studying the green slogan Love Your Mother Roach questions the effects for women and for the environment of imputing female gender to nature She asks us to look at the associations that motherhood and mothering carry within a culture still shaped by patriarchy She notes the danger of such an apparently pro environmental slogan if mother evokes the bountiful self sacrificing provider who herself requires no care Part Two Nature as Bad Mother looks at the contrary notion of nature as a violent threatening and wrathful mother This image arises most often when humans and technology are depicted as masters of unruly nature Here Roach draws on theological reflection to analyze this ambivalence toward nature manifested in a fantasy that casts humans as gods She explores the contributions of eco theology and eco psychology to a heart of darkness perspective Finally Part Three Nature as Hurt Mother looks at possibilities and pitfalls of environmental healing inherent in the image of nature as a mother we have wounded and now seek to heal Reformed and Feminist Johanna W. H. Van Wijk-Bos, 1991-01-01 Explores the nature and function of Biblical authority in Christian feminism Drawing on her personal experiences of an early childhood spent in the Nazi occupied Netherlands and an adolescence in a faith community with a strong Calvinist cast the author illustrates the ways in which Biblical authority undergirds and expands feminist perspectives back cover Separatism and Women's Community Dana R. Shugar, 1995-01-01 This is the kind of book I've been looking for Bonnie Zimmerman author of The Safe Sea of Women Lesbian Fiction 1969 1989 The energy spent on all sides of debates about women's separatism demonstrates the vitality of separatism as an important issue Excited by the prospect that changes in their personal lives could reverberate through the nation many women have organized rural communes and urban business collectives putting ideas into practice Separatism and Women's Community reviews debates in separatist theory historical narratives by members of separatist collectives and utopian novels that envision how collectives might be formed Shugar compares the ideas and proposals of theorists including Robin Morgan Shulamith Firestone Joyce Cheney Joan Nestle Ti Grace Atkinson and the Radicalesbians with the experience of women from collectives as diverse as Cell 16 the Combahee River Collective the Gutter Dyke Collective the Seattle Collective the Bloodroot Collective and the Lavender Woman Collective of Chicago Despite the attempts to connect action and thought many women were ill prepared for the problems they found in collective life Women who theorized that oppression based on difference was a man made phenomenon were confronted by other women who challenged their racism classism or homophobia The community had to respond to these confrontations in ways that would strengthen rather than destroy their tentative connections with other women Dana R Shugar is an assistant professor of English and women s studies at the University of Rhode Island
