Patterns Of Cancer In 5 Continents:

Patterns of Cancer in Five Continents International Agency for Research on Cancer, 1990 The Cancer Incidence in Five Continents series presents data on cancer incidence in a standardized format for every area in the world from which it is possible to obtain reliable figures Volume V published in 1987 included data from population based cancer registries covering 137 populations in 36 countries The publication depicts the data published in Volume V in a graphic format This form of presentation allows a more easy appreciation of the range and pattern of incidence internationally and highlights the interesting variations for the different cancer sites Histograms of the world standardized rates illustrate the range in incidence for 40 geographically representative populations by cancer site and by sex with the addition of bars showing the highest and lowest rates for each site among all the populations included in Volume V Pie charts show the proportions of the top ten cancer sites within each of the 137 populations in Volume V A series of graphs for 24 populations show the different pattern of incidence by age for 47 cancer sites

Carcinogenesis Michael P. Waalkes, Jerrold M. Ward, 1994-06-30 Carcinogens like chemicals with other toxic hazards often produce adverse effects only in specific organs or tissues The factors determining whether a chemical induces cancer in an organ range from simple toxicokinetics to complex phenomena such as expression or lack of expression of specific genes This volume examines the site specific factor

Global Epidemiology of Cancer Randall E. Harris, 2016 In 28 chapters Global Epidemiology of Cancer provides a basic overview of the most commonly occurring cancers their worldwide incidence and mortality Designed for the health sciences particularly those in epidemiology public health and medicine this comprehensive resource is ideal as a primary text for an overview course or seminar on Cancer or Cancer epidemiology Key Features Backed with research and draws upon worldwide information to address the global landscape of cancer Offers clear concise descriptions of each specific type of oncologic disease as well as its epidemiology etiology risk factors and preventive factors Includes a wealth of information on the pathogenesis of the disease as we currently understand it at the molecular level

Radiation Oncology for Cure and Palliation R.G. Parker, N.A. Janjan, M.T. Selch, 2013-06-29 Given that treatment with curative intent is possible in only one half of cancer victims and that such treatment frequently fails the majority of patients with cancer will require relief of symptoms and signs caused by their disease In this book the specific contribution of radiation therapy to palliation is considered within the context of multidisciplinary management Individual chapters are devoted to palliative radiation therapy for primary tumours and metastases at different sites The management of pain is discussed and chapters are also devoted to end of life care the management of complications of radiation therapy and useful medications This book will prove useful to radiation oncologists and medical students
