

The background of the cover is a painting of three people, possibly a family, in a field. A man is on the left, a woman is in the center, and a child is on the right. They are all looking towards the right. The painting is in a soft, painterly style. At the bottom of the cover, there is a close-up of a handwritten manuscript in cursive script, showing the words 'The Diary of William Holland' and 'A Somerset Parson, 1799-1818'.

Paupers And Pig Killers The Diary Of William Holland A Somerset Parson 1799 1818:

Paupers and Pig Killers William Holland, Jack Ayres, 1986-01-01 Paupers and Pig Killers William Holland, 2003-02 On 3rd September 1770 the Revd William Holland took possession of the Vicarage and Parish church of Overstowey in Somerset. He kept a diary throughout his tenancy in which he recorded the comings and goings of village life. The people of the time are brought vividly to life such as Revd Holland's servant Charles who might still have retained his employees' favour after being caught with the parlourmaid had he not compounded his mischief by sodomizing the sheep The Country Parson Leslie J. Francis, 1989 An Everyday Life of the English Working Class Carolyn Steedman, 2013-12-05 This book concerns two men: a stockingmaker and a magistrate who both lived in a small English village at the turn of the nineteenth century. It focuses on Joseph Woolley the stockingmaker on his way of seeing and writing the world around him and on the activities of magistrate Sir Gervase Clifton administering justice from his country house Clifton Hall. Using Woolley's voluminous diaries and Clifton's magistrate records Carolyn Steedman gives us a unique and fascinating account of working class living and loving and getting and spending. Through Woolley and his thoughts on reading and drinking, sex, the law and social relations she challenges traditional accounts which she argues have overstated the importance of work to the working man's understanding of himself as a creature of time, place and society. She shows instead that for men like Woolley law and fiction were just as critical as work in framing everyday life Aleister Crowley Tobias Churton, 2014-05-20 At last the unexpurgated true story of the amazing Aleister Crowley: philosopher, poet, artist, writer, magus, explorer, parapsychology and spy. Packed with fresh research and previously unpublished Crowleyana. For 100 years Aleister Crowley's true achievements have been suppressed and his true character defaced in a campaign of vilification unparalleled in British history. Until now Crowley's life has not been written: it has been written over. Tobias Churton is a world authority on Freemasonry, Rosicrucianism and Gnosticism. In writing Aleister Crowley he enjoyed complete access to all Crowley's restricted papers, unpublished letters and personal diaries kept in a trust at London's Warburg Institute and in the Ordo Templi Orientis archives. Ninety percent of the authentic material here has never before been published Belonging in Europe - The African Diaspora and Work Caroline Bressey, Hakim Adi, 2013-09-13 This publication does not just mark the presence of black people in Europe but brings research to a new stage by making connections across Europe through the experience of work and labour. The working experience for black peoples in Europe was not just confined to ports and large urban areas; often the place black people are located in the imagination of the European map both today and historically. Work took place in small towns, villages and on country estates. Until the 1800s enslaved Africans would have worked alongside free blacks and their white peers. How were these labour relations realised, be it on a country estate or a town house? How did this experience translate into the labour movements of the twentieth century? These are some of the questions the essays in this collection address, contributing to new understandings of European life both historically and today. This book was originally
