Ezekiel and Other Poems Barbara Miller

Macandrew, 2015-06-25 Excerpt from Ezekiel and Other Poems Also the word of the Lord came unto me saying Son of man behold I take away from thee the desire of thine eyes with a stroke yet neither shalt thou mourn nor weep neither shall thy tears run down forbear to cry make no mourning for the dead So I spake to the people in the morning and at even my wife died He knew my soul He knew she was in truth My heart s desire and I had none on earth But only her Upon my troubled life She gently shone as shineth some fair star Upon tempestuous waters as this night Upon the swellings dark of Jordan shines The Summer Moon Until she rose on me Earth had no brightness for when visions dread Of God s unutterable glory swept Before mine eyes they left me dazzled so That the sweet common smiles of moon and sun Which gladden other men grew faint and wan And faded in my sky and served no more About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any
