Politics In West Africa:

Politics in West Africa William Arthur Lewis, 1965 In these Whidden Lectures for 1965 delivered at McMaster University Professor Lewis has given a brilliant summary of what he has learned and thought on eleven visits to Africa during the last 12 years An international authority on political and economic theory Professor Lewis is also an acknowledged expert on African affairs who has known the Pan African leaders for thirty years and has shared their anti imperialism In his first lecture Professor Lewis analyzes the power structure in the thirteen independent states of West Africa and explains why in all but two Nigeria and Sierra Leone effective opposition parties have been suppressed He establishes the fact that West African societies do not represent a Marxist type struggle between rich and poor nor a struggle between a modernizing middle class and a backward aristocracy The ruling parties are neither left nor right Single parties are no natural response to conditions but have been created and are maintained by force Professor Lewis goes on to analyze the differences and disagreements within the West African states The biggest problem each faces is to weld disparate tribes into single nations with a common loyalty The author considers whether single party centralization or giving each group opportunities for limited self government within a decentralized democratic state is the more likely to succeed The third lecture considers the suitability for West Africa of the English or American system of excluding minorities from office and discusses the feasibility of coalition governments on which the hope of democratic institutions and the integrity of some states seem to depend Professor Lewis s informed discussion of French speaking West Africa will be welcomed because this region is often given scant consideration by writers in English All who have the opportunity of reading this book will be grateful for the opportunity the Whidden Lectures have given Professor Lewis for writing this clear sighted penetrating study of an important area in contemporary politics Political Institutions of West Africa J. H. Price, 2023-08-18 This book originally published in 1967 looks at political institutions in Nigeria Ghana Sierra Leone Liberia and Gambia at the time of the establishment of alien rule and goes on to discuss in detail constitutional developments from 1919 to the late 20th Century paying particular attention to the constitutional arrangements of the Commonwealth West African countries after Independence Aspects such as the judiciary and the enforcement of law and order the public services and finance are discussed in separate chapters The book ends with a survey of the varying patterns of local government in English speaking West Africa Essentials of Government for West Africa Francis Adigwe, 1974 Government and Politics in West Africa 'Bisi Taiwo, 1982 Land and the Politics of Belonging in West Africa , 2005-12-01 Recognizing that land rights are ambiguous negotiable and politically embedded these case studies explore the long term processes and recent changes in contemporary rural West Africa affecting the conversion of control over land into social and political capital and vice versa They point to the colonial origins of what came to be viewed as customary tenure and to the legal pluralism characterizing pre colonial tenure arrangements Furthermore they show the spiritual and ritual importance of land that can be converted into political power and economic prerogatives a dimension neglected by much of the recent literature Analyses cover forest and savannah state and segmentary societies facilitating comparison and insights across the Anglo Francophone divide Politics in West Africa William Arthur Lewis,1965 West Africa's Political Economy in the Next Millennium Adebayo O. Olukoshi,2001 A concise study examining the various trends and structural factors in the contemporary political economy of West Africa assessing how they will affect the needs and capabilities of the sub region s countries to achieve a more rapid system of democratic government and respond to the demands of globalisation It provides an overview of the area s development issues including the prospects for regional co operation integration the important geo political and economic role played by France in West Africa changing forms of popular identity and Islam and its growing influence It argues that in this age of intensifying globalisation West Africa s future centres around the choice between the pursuit of national strategies and closer regional co operation the political will not withstanding Transformations in Trade Politics Silke Trommer,2014-01-23 This book examines the evolution and application of participatory trade politics in West Africa and discusses the theoretical implications for political economy and global governance approaches to trade policy making The author traces the involvement of a network of West African global justice Non Governmental Organizations NGO local NGO and movement platforms and trade unions in the negotiations for an Economic Partnership Agreement with the European Union Building on this empirical analysis she develops a theoretical framework of trade policy formation that is not limited to conceptualizing trade as a policy field aimed exclusively at regulating exporting and importing activities in the global economy Instead she analyzes how material and ideational spheres interact in the way in which communities set the rules that enable them to trade across long distances Attempting to reconcile demands for inclusivity with current economic policy making the author reframes the way in which we theoretically pose questions of who makes trade policy decisions through which mechanisms and why trade policy making practices change or resist change Transformations in Trade Politics will be of interest to students and scholars of International Political Economy Global Governance Social Movement Studies International Economic Relations International Trade Relations African Politics The Politics of African International Development EU politics and EU African Relations Moving with the Face of the Devil John Wallace Nunley,1987 W. Arthur Lewis and the Birth of Development Economics Robert L. Tignor,2006 He was the first black professor in a British university and also at Princeton University and the first person of African descent to win a Nobel Prize in a field other than literature or peace His writings which included his book The Theory of Economic Growth were among the first to describe the field of development economics Quickly gaining the attention of the leadership of colonized territories he helped develop blueprints for the changing relationship between the former colonies and their former rulers He made significant contributions to Ghana s quest for economic growth and the West Indies desire to create a first class institution of higher learning serving all of the Anglophone territories in the Caribbean Jacket Playing the Marginality Game Anita

Schroven,2019-03-27 In Guinea situated against the background of central government struggles rural elites use identity politics through contemporary political reforms to maintain their privileges and perpetuate a generations old local social contract that bridges ethnic and religious divides Simultaneously administrative reform and national unrest lead to the creative re combination of sources of authority and practices of legitimate rule Past periods of colonization socialism and authoritarian regime are reflected in contemporary struggles to make sense of participatory democracy and the future of the embattled Guinean national state

The Roots of Political Instability in Nigeria E.C. Ejiogu,2016-02-24 The constant drumbeat of headlines about Darfur Zimbabwe Sudan Somalia as well as the other states in Africa that are beleaguered by political instability have made the causes of failed states and intra state political conflicts a major issue both academic and practical Using Harry Eckstein and Ted R Gurr s congruence consonance theoretical framework of regime classification E C Ejiogu examines the internal variations of society evident in the Nigerian state to explain why the country experiences political conflict and instability The first time this theoretical framework has been applied to an African country E C Ejiogu offers a balanced and interdisciplinary analysis of the evolution in the Nigerian political system and the role played by evolved social traits in society Exploring themes such as colonial rule and legacies economic development political authority and religion Ejiogu insists that it is critical to examine Africa s diverse nationalities in terms of their geography social economic and authority patterns as critical elements that are disregarded in accounts of their political development At a time when the question of state building in Africa is still unresolved this timely book is a major contribution to the literature on transition processes in African politics and is particularly relevant to scholars and policy makers wanting to grapple with the issues associated with Africa s political disorder and the other social problems it spawns
