concerned with the diagnosis and treatment of bona fide illnesses Psychiatric tradition social expectation and the law make it clear that coercion is the profession's determining characteristic Psychiatrists may diagnose or treat people without their consent or even against their clearly expressed wishes and these involuntary psychiatric interventions are as different as are sexual relations between consenting adults and the sexual violence we call rape But the point is not merely the difference between coerced and consensual psychiatry but to contrast them The term psychiatry ought to be applied to one or the other but not both As long as psychiatrists and society refuse to recognize this there can be no real psychiatric historiography The coercive character of psychiatry was more apparent in the past than it is now Then insanity was synonymous with unfitness for liberty Toward the end of the nineteenth century a new type of psychiatric relationship developed when people experiencing so called nervous symptoms sought help This led to a distinction between two kinds of mental diseases neuroses and psychoses Persons who complained about their own behavior were classified as neurotic whereas persons about whose behavior others complained were classified as psychotic The legal medical psychiatric and social denial of this simple distinction and its far reaching implications undergirds the house of cards that is modern psychiatry Coercion as Cure is the most important book by Szasz since his landmark The Myth of Mental Illness Introduction to Criminal Justice Kenneth J. Management and the Dominance of Managers Thomas Diefenbach, 2009-05-22 Managers are powerful The organizations of our time are in essence managerial organizations even our societies are managerial societies This book looks behind the portrait of management as value free technicality and challenges the image of managers as the selfless pursuer of an organization's survival and development It explains that individual interests and careers of managers are only part of a wider epochal and historic picture the picture of managers as the new ruling class using and misusing organizations for their own personal and group interests while portraying their own roles and actions as increasing the efficiency of organizations and serving the public interest But why exactly are managers so powerful Why and how do managers dominate our organizations It will be argued that the prevailing understanding of management and managers is only at the surface about functional aspects In its very core management has been and is all about the power and control interests and ideology of managers in short the dominance of managers over other groups of people In order to investigate and explain this dominance a multi dimensional theory of social dominance of managers will be developed which reveals the personal and group interests behind such claims and is based in its core on three explanatory factors power interests and ideology These factors themselves will be analyzed as comprehensive multi dimensional and interdisciplinary concepts in order to address the complex nature of managers dominance appropriately Results Now for Nonprofits Mark Light,2011-01-06 Build your nonprofit into a high performer with this practical approach to purpose strategy operations and governance Planning is vital to achieving your nonprofit s purpose too bad most nonprofits are strapped for time Not anymore Using a lightning fast and inclusive process Results Now puts purpose strategy operations and governance into one user friendly comprehensive plan that your board can pass in a single vote and your organization can maintain as a regular part of its business throughout the year Results Now for Nonprofits relies on accountability and performance measurement to increase the level of effective decision making This big picture first details next planning process helps you Use the Results Now master plan as a centerpiece of board meetings and as a standard part of board meeting advance information Foster a welcome climate for give and take strategic thinking Clarify the organization s story for the community and keep people on point about what s important Develop team cohesion Orient newer leadership members and recharge seasoned ones Attract new funders who reward nonprofits who plan A must have for all nonprofit executives and directors members of boards and trustees and nonprofit managers Results Now for Nonprofits is a results driven practical tool that will help your organization achieve its mission values and destiny Thanks, Praise, Honor, and Glory to the Triune God for Leading and Guidance in Documenting Lead Poisoning in the Public Schools and the Obstructions of Justice in Order to Conceal the Indisputable Truths Diana R.
