Rapports Text Only:

Rapport du Comité consultatif International Financial Conference,1908      The Birth of the Past Zachary S. Schiffman,2011-11-01 How we learned to distinguish past from present and see the world historically Outstanding Academic Title Choice How did people learn to distinguish between past and present How did they come to see the past as existing in its own distinctive context In The Birth of the Past Zachary Sayre Schiffman explores these questions in his sweeping survey of historical thinking in the Western world Today we automatically distinguish between past and present labeling things that appear out of place as anachronisms Schiffman shows how this tendency did not always exist and how the past as such was born of a perceived difference between past and present Schiffman takes readers on a grand tour of historical thinking from antiquity to modernity He shows how ancient historians could not distinguish between past and present because they conceived of multiple pasts Christian theologians coalesced these multiple pasts into a single temporal space where past merged with present and future Renaissance humanists began to disentangle these temporal states in their desire to resurrect classical culture creating a living past French enlighteners killed off this living past when they engendered a form of social scientific thinking that measured the relations between historical entities thus sustaining the distance between past and present and relegating each culture to its own distinctive context Featuring a foreword by the eminent historian Anthony Grafton this fascinating book draws upon a diverse range of sources ancient histories medieval theology Renaissance art literature legal thought and early modern mathematics and social science to uncover the meaning of the past and its relationship to the present      Recueil de rapports sur les différents points du programme-minimum Central Organization for a Durable Peace (Hague, Netherlands),1917      Consolidated Catalog of League of Nations Publications Offered for Sale Mary Eva Birchfield,1976      Recueil de rapports sur les différents points du programme-minimum Central Organization for a Durable Peace, The Hague,1917      Russian civil-military relations ,      Aspects of Automatic Text Analysis Alexander Mehler,Reinhard Köhler,2007 This book presents recent developments in automatic text analysis Providing an overview of linguistic modeling it collects contributions of authors from a multidisciplinary area that focus on the topic of automatic text analysis from different perspectives It includes chapters on cognitive modeling and visual systems modeling and contributes to the computational linguistic and information theoretical grounding of automatic text analysis      League of Nations Publications ,1927      Rapport Statens byggeforskningsinstitut (Denmark),1960      Romantic Reports Larry H. Derrida Simon Wortham, 2008-07-23 Derrida wrote a vast number of texts for particular events across the world as well as a series of works that portray him as a voyager As an Algerian migr a postcolonial outsider and an idiomatic writer who felt tied to a language that was not his own and as a figure obsessed by the singularity of the literary or philosophical event Derrida emerges as one whose thought always arrives on occasion But how are we to understand the event in Derrida Is there a risk that such stories of Derrida s work tend to misunderstand the essential unpredictability at work in the conditions of his thought And how are we to reconcile the importance in Derrida of the unknowable event the pull of the singular with deconstruction s critical and philosophical rigour and its claims to rethink more systematically the ethico political field This book argues that this negotiation in fact allows deconstruction to reformulate the very questions that we associate with ethical and political responsibility and shows this to be the central interest in Derrida s work

Student Engagement and Educational Rapport in Higher Education Leonie Rowan, Peter Grootenboer, 2016-11-08 This book outlines a range of innovative methods to gather student feedback and explores the complex relation between student engagement student satisfaction and student success Drawing on results from a set of numerous case studies carried out at a school of education the book reports on a range of theoretically informed teaching innovations including focus groups learning analytics data collegial conversations and insights from student researchers that have been designed to create respectful student centred and engaging learning environments In the current climate of ever increasing pressure on delivering high student satisfaction rates these results are invaluable for university students and teachers across the globe With its unique thematic focus on educational rapport and relationship centred education the book is an excellent reference point for staff with a commitment to the scholarship of learning and teaching It will be of great interest to students practitioners teachers and policy makers in higher education

Postmodern Interviewing Jaber F. Gubrium, James A. Holstein, 2003-03-21 Interview roles are less clear than they once were and in some cases the roles are even exchanged to promote new opportunities for understanding the shape and evolution of selves and experience Postmodern Interviewing offers readers an exploration of the postmodern interview a conversation with diverse purposes in which the communicative format is constructed as much within the interview conversation as it stems from predesignated research interests It provides cutting edge discussions of emerging horizons featuring reflexivity poetics and power along with discussions of new ways of gathering experiential knowledge Employing concepts from anthropology family studies history and sociology the contributors present the ambitious new directions in which the interview has gone such as How the interview process is refracted through the lens of language knowledge culture and difference How the dividing line between fact and fiction is blurred to promote richer understanding How standardized representation has given way to representational invention By exploring these exciting developments readers will be exposed to the engaging opportunities for understanding the shape and evolution of selves and social worlds that are made possible through changes in the interview process This volume is comprised of chapters from the Handbook of Interview Research Gubrium and Holstein SAGE 2001 The companion volume Inside Interviewing SAGE 2003 is also comprised of chapters from the Handbook     The Digital Coach Stella Kanatouri,2020-03-13 Thanks to digital media coaching doesn't have to be constrained by geographical and temporal boundaries Using digital media to facilitate coaching processes however creates a distinct form of coaching practice that requires additional skill from the coach The Digital Coach contains insights based on a comprehensive exploratory research that analysed the discussions of a 1 000 member strong online community of coaches and several interviews with coaches to understand their practical experiences of working with technology At the same time the book offers information insights and examples that can be readily used by the coaching practitioner Based on the developments in the field the book provides suggestions about improving the usability of coaching software and it offers reflections on how emerging technologies like immersive Virtual Reality Augmented Reality and Artificial Intelligence might extend coaching practice Whilst acknowledging the limitations and potential risks that may arise by integrating digital media in coaching the book suggests that coaching success doesn't only depend on media capabilities but also on the coach The digital coach develops enhanced coaching skills and adapts coaching practice to the media in use The book is dedicated to the coaching practitioner who uses digital media or who is considering doing so and is relevant for coaching supervisors buyers of coaching services human resource professionals and software designers     Reimagining Rapport Zane Goebel,2021-01-18 To do ethnography a researcher must have rapport with research subjects But what is rapport Ethnography and ethnographic methods have increasingly become a feature of social inquiry in general and sociolinguistics in particular and rapport is generally considered a prerequisite for fieldwork And yet unlike related terms such as communication and phatic communion this concept has remained largely unexamined Reimagining Rapport turns a critical eye to the use of the term rapport across disciplines The collection analyzes the very idea of rapport both exploring how it has been shaped by historical forces and actors within sociocultural anthropology and questioning its usefulness Rather than viewing the term as simply denoting a type of positive social relationship that needs to be formed between researcher and consultant before research can begin this book invites us to reimagine rapport theoretically methodologically and meta methodologically Zane Goebel and other leading sociolinguists challenge readers to think about how rapport has been constructed within these disciplines and ultimately to see rapport as an emergent co constructed social relationship that is actively built during situated multimodal encounters The contributors collectively examine the role of ideology and mediation in the construction of rapport and argue that reconceptualizing research subject relationships is essential for establishing more sophisticated ways of understanding interpreting and representing research context A valuable resource for scholars and students of sociolinguistics and linguistic anthropology as well as for others engaged in ethnographic fieldwork Reimagining Rapport is the first collection to provide an in depth investigation of this critically important but previously unexamined concept

Theo-Drama: Theological Dramatic Theory, Vol. 4 Hans Urs von Balthasar, 1988-01-01 Having presented his christology and mariology under the sign of the Dramatis Personae in volume three of Theo Drama von Balthasar now turns to the action of the divine drama itself Here we find his soteriology where time freedom history power sin conflict are seen in the light of the Cross the culmination of the action and passion of God and man As Balthasar expresses it in the conclusion to his preface here we discern the unity of glory and the dramatic God s glory as it appears in the world supremely in Christ is not something static that could be observed by a neutral investigator It manifests itself only through the personal involvement whereby God himself comes forth to do battle and is both victor and vanquished If this glory is to come within our range at all an analogous initiative is called for on our part Revelation is a battlefield Those who do battle on it can only be believers and theologians provided they have equipped themselves with the whole armor of God Eph 6 11

Theory and the Disappearing Future Tom Cohen, Claire Colebrook, J. Hillis Miller, with a manuscript by Paul de Man, 2011-11-10 Paul de Man is often associated with an era of high theory an era it is argued may now be coming to a close This book written by three leading contemporary scholars includes both a transcript and facsimile print of a previously unpublished text by de Man of his handwritten notes for a lecture on Walter Benjamin Challenging and relevant this volume presents de Man s work as a critical resource for dealing with the most important questions of the twenty first century and argues for the place of theory within it The humanities are flooded with crises of globalism capitalism and terrorism contemporary narratives of financial collapse viral annihilation species extinction environmental disaster and terrorist destruction Cohen Colebrook and Miller draw out the implications of these crises and their narratives and reflecting on this work by de Man explore the limits of political thinking of historical retrieval and the ethics of archives and cultural memory

Qualitative Research Methods in Public Relations and Marketing Communications Christine Daymon, Immy Holloway, 2010-09-13 The second edition of this highly accessible core textbook continues to offer students a practical guide to the process of planning undertaking and writing about qualitative research in public relations and marketing communications Through clear explanations and illustrations the book encourages undergraduate and master level students to engage with the main approaches and techniques for conducting critical reflective investigations This new edition Identifies the skills and strategies needed to conduct authentic trustworthy research Highlights specific analytical techniques associated within the main research approaches Provides new sections on internet based research critical discourse analysis historical research action research and mixed methods research Qualitative Research Methods in Public Relations and Marketing Communications will be invaluable for those undertaking research methods courses on public relations and marketing communication degrees as well as those working on a dissertation     Inside Interviewing James Holstein, Jaber F. Gubrium, 2003-03-21 Inside Interviewing highlights the fluctuating and diverse moral worlds put into place during interview research when gender race culture and other subject positions are brought narratively to the foreground It explores the facts thoughts feelings and perspectives of respondents and how this impacts on the research process
