Contributors comprise an international group of prominent scholars and practitioners from a variety of academic and clinical backgrounds. The result is a volume that addresses in detail current knowledge, emerging questions, and innovative educational practice in a variety of contexts. The volume takes on topics such as discussion of the transformation of efforts to identify a best language approach, the sign versus speech debate, to a stronger focus on individual strengths, potentials, and choices for selecting and even combining approaches, the effects of language on other areas of development, as well as effects from other domains on language itself, and how neurological, socio-cognitive, and linguistic bases of learning are leading to more specialized approaches to instruction that address the challenges that remain for deaf and hard of hearing individuals. This volume both complements and extends The Oxford Handbook of Deaf Studies and Deaf Education Volumes 1 and 2, going further into the unique challenges and demands for deaf or hard of hearing individuals than any other text, and providing not only compilations of what is known but setting the course for investigating what is still to be learned. Nurturing Your

Child's Math and Literacy in Pre-K-Fifth Grade, Mary Mueller, Alisa Hindin, 2016-11-23. With recent changes in the curriculum and standards in language arts and mathematics, parents often are challenged to find ways to help their children be successful in their learning endeavors. While parents want to be involved in their children's education, they are often unsure of their role in their children's learning and the best ways to help their children to succeed academically. Moreover, with the changes in how math and literacy are being taught, parents often struggle with helping even first-grade children with their homework. In this book, we set out to alleviate this struggle by offering parents a resource they can use to navigate their child's education, communicate with teachers, and support their children in learning mathematics and literacy. After providing an overview of the current educational climate and tips for communication with teachers, we share strategies and suggestions parents can use to assist their children in language arts and mathematics. We provide detailed descriptions of activities, games, books, and conversations that connect with what children will be learning at each grade level. Small Steps, Big

Differences, Hilary Craig, 2014-03-06. Each one of us learns in a different way. Traditional teaching approaches don't always suit the variety of different ways people learn, a conflict that can damage confidence and sometimes lead to failure. The key question that faces parents and teachers is how to help those who learn differently find long-term success. In Small Steps, Big Differences: A Toolkit for Parents of Children Who Fall through the Cracks, author Hilary Craig challenges this question and offers parents strategies to help. The resources provided within this toolkit are framed around the core belief that all children can make progress even if traditional learning and teaching methods in the classroom are inadequate for the way they learn. This toolkit provides support to those parents who recognize the unique abilities and talents in their children and who want practical tools to enable them to learn and succeed. Hilary Craig's experience, insight, and strategies for helping children learn effectively provide a valuable resource to accompany classroom learning. In this toolkit, she also addresses the four essential skills for effective learning: memory, listening, attention, and social skills, and strategies to develop each of these with the final

How to skin a cat Robert Blain,2018-01-15 Journalist Craig Fox arrives in Hong Kong to take up a position as a magazine editor for Pronto Media and soon finds out that all is not as it seems on the surface Rather than being serious publications the magazines are being run purely for advertising profit in a masterly sleight of hand by the proprietor Mark Chiefly He sells the advertising on the premise that the printed circulation is far higher than it really is His mantra is that advertising makes money and editorial costs money And he allocates his resources accordingly which means that his staff are either dishonest or demoralised or both By day they work grudgingly By night they embark on a spree of drink sex and drugs that culminates in an episode on a boat where one of their female companions on board overdoses on ecstasy The tenure of Fox changes with the arrival of two new members of staff at Pronto Farnsie De Villiers an accomplished and plain speaking South African journalist who reveals to Fox what a sham his place of employment is and instills a mutinous streak in his colleagues The other is the gorgeous and smart Melissa with whom the protagonist falls in love But due to feelings of vulnerability at his lowly place in the scheme of things at Pronto he is unable to woo her This is the driver for his pursuit of power From here the protagonist descends into a moral abyss as he uses any means possible to get what he wants Ye Almanack Toledo
