

The credit rating agencies relied on, among other things, Enron's public filings, including its financial statements filed with the SEC, in rating Enron's debt. In addition, members of Enron's senior management spoke regularly with, and provided financial and other information to, representatives of credit rating agencies.

The New Masters of Capital Timothy J. Sinclair, 2014-07-31 In The New Masters of Capital Timothy J Sinclair examines a key aspect of the global economy the rating agencies In the global economy trust is formalized in the daily operations of such firms as Moody's and Standard Poor's which continuously monitor the financial health of bond issuers ranging from private corporations to local and national governments Their judgments affect unimaginably large sums approximately 30 trillion in outstanding debt issues according to a recent Moody's estimate The difference between an AA and a BB rating may cost millions of dollars in interest payments or determine if a corporation or government can even issue bonds Without bond rating agencies there would be no standard means to compare risks in the global economy and international investment would be problematic Most observers assume that the agencies are neutral and scientific and that they interpret their role in narrowly economic terms But these agencies by their nature wield extraordinary power and exert massive influence over public policy Sinclair offers a highly accessible account of these institutions their origins and the rating processes they use to judge creditworthiness Illustrated with a wide range of cases this book offers a fresh assessment of the role of an often overlooked institution in the dynamics of modern global capitalism

All the Presidents' Bankers Nomi Prins,2014-04-08 A groundbreaking narrative of how an elite group of men transformed the American economy and government dictated foreign and domestic policy and shaped world history Culled from original presidential archival documents All the Presidents Bankers delivers an explosive account of the hundred year interdependence between the White House and Wall Street that transcends a simple analysis of money driving politics or greed driving bankers Nomi Prins ushers us into the intimate world of exclusive clubs vacation spots and Ivy League universities that binds presidents and financiers She unravels the multi generational blood intermarriage and prot relationships that have confined national influence to a privileged cluster of people These families and individuals recycle their power through elected office and private channels in Washington DC From the Panic of 1907 to the financial crisis of 2008 this unprecedented history of American power illuminates how the same financiers retained their authoritative position through history swaying presidents regardless of party affiliation All the Presidents Bankers explores the alarming global repercussions of a system lacking barriers between public office and private power Prins leaves us with an ominous choice either we break the alliances of the power elite or they will break us

The Politics of Recession Maurice Mullard,2011-01-01 This timely book utilizes the tools of politics economics and public policy to explore the causes of the recent global financial crisis which the author argues can be explained as the absence of a public interest perspective in policy making Maurice Mullard points out that recessions are not collective shared experiences Recessions create winners and losers Furthermore recessions are not an external event but reflect the outcomes of the policy process The author looks beyond economic explanations for the economic crisis and instead points towards a structural explanation He explores the concept of social structures the effects of the relationships between power and influence and the role of ideology and income inequalities as contributory factors The commitment to deregulated financial markets created an over the counter derivatives market worth some 640 trillion dollars compared to a global GDP worth 65 trillion dollars The growth of derivatives markets the role of credit rating agencies major shifts in policy making and growing income inequalities are described as major factors explaining the present economic recession The absence of a public interest perspective the breakdown of trust in institutions policy makers dependence on financial contributions the housing bubble and the increased concentration of income have distorted the democratic process
