Re Thinking The Region Spaces Of Neo Liberalism:

Rethinking the Region John Allen, Doreen B. Massey, Allan Cochrane, Julie Charlesworth, 1998 Rethinking the Region argues that regions are not simply bounded spaces on a map This book uses unique research of England during the 1980s to show how regions are made and unmade by social processes The book examines how new lines of division both social and geographical were laid down as free market growth reconstructed the south east of England as a neo liberal region The authors argue that a more balanced form of growth is possible within and between regions as well as between social groups This book shows that to grasp the complexities of growth we must re think the region in time as well as in space

Rethinking Feminist Interventions into the Urban Linda Peake, Martina Rieker, 2013-05-29 In Rethinking Feminist Interventions into the Urban Linda Peake and Martina Rieker embark on an ambitious project to explore the extent to which a feminist re imagining of the twenty first century city can form the core of a new emerging analytic of women and the neoliberal urban In a world in which the majority of the population now live in urban centres they take as their starting point the need to examine the production of knowledge about the city through the problematic divide of the global north and south asking what might a feminist intervention a position itself fraught with possibilities and problems into this dominant geographical imaginary look like Providing a meaningful discussion of the ways in which feminism gender and women have been understood in relation to the city and urban studies they ask probing and insightful questions that indicate new directions for theory and research illustrating the necessity of a re formulation of the north south divide as a critical and urgent project for feminist urban studies Working through platforms as diverse as policy formulations and telling stories the contributors to the book come from a range of disciplinary backgrounds and geographic locations ranging through the Caribbean North America Western Europe South East and South East Asia the Middle East and Latin America They identify a range of issues such as care work violence the household mobility intimacy and poverty that they analytically address to make sense of and reanimate resistance to the contemporary urban through articulations of new grammars of gendered geographies of justice

Imagining Urban Complexity Frans-Willem Korsten, Anthony T. Albright, 2024-07-30 Imagining Urban Complexity introduces passionate and critical perspectives on the link between the humanities and urban studies It emphasizes tropes media and genres as cultural techniques that shape complexity in urban environments by distributing affordances modes of sensing and modes of sense making Focusing on urban political and cultural dynamics in 24 global cities the book shows that urban environments are thematized in literature and art but are also entities that are shaped perceived interpreted and experienced through sense making techniques that have long been central concerns of the humanities These techniques the book argues activate a dialectic between urban imaginations and cancellations Tropes media and genres are aesthetically and politically powerful they propel imaginations and open up multiplicities of urban possibilities they naturalize actualized orders and they cancel alternatives The book moves between close readings of city spaces and more systemic and infrastructural approaches to urban environments providing tools and strategies that can be adapted and extended to understand urban complexity in different cultural and political contexts The book speaks to global audiences from a continental philosophical tradition It is relevant to undergraduates postgraduates and academic researchers in the fields of critical urban studies urban design comparative literature cultural studies cultural analysis ecocriticism political theory and ethics The Middle East and the Making of the Modern World Cyrus

Schayegh,2017-08-28 How do historians make sense of the spatial layeredness of the past Cyrus Schayegh argues that the modern world s ultimate socio spatial feature is not the oft studied processes of globalization or state formation or urbanization but rather the fast paced mutually transformative intertwinements of cities regions states and global circuits

Companion Encyclopedia of Geography Ian Douglas,Richard Huggett,Chris Perkins,2022-05-29 This revised edition takes the theme of place as the unifying principle for a full account of the discipline at the beginning of the twenty first century The work comprises 64 substantial essays addressing human and physical geography and exploring their inter relations The encyclopedia does full justice to the enormous growth of social and cultural geography in recent years Leading international academics from ten countries and four continents have contributed ensuring that differing traditions in geography around the world are represented In addition to references the essays also have recommendations for further reading As with the original work the new Companion Encyclopedia of Geography provides a state of the art survey of the discipline and is an indispensable addition to the reference shelves of libraries supporting research and teaching in geography Making

Geography Matter Noel Castree,Trevor Barnes,Jennifer Salmond,2025-02-28 What is the purpose of Geography What do geographers study and why How do they seek to shape the world they interrogate This book addresses these questions by examining the lives and works of individual geographers both past and present Like all disciplines Geography is no more nor less than the collective endeavours of researchers and teachers operating in specific contexts The contexts both shape and are shaped by these individuals This book s biographical and autobiographical chapters transport readers to the times and places where geographers have sought to make Geography matter The result is a more vivid grounded understanding of the discipline than the many high level surveys of geographic thought paradigms currently written for university students This book s accessible essays each conclude with a study task Making Geography Matter is aimed at university students and their teachers who wish to understand the goals history and evolving practice of Geography It provides an alternative perspective both concrete and engaging to the many student focussed texts that map out numerous isms and ologies Introducing Social Geographies Rachel Pain, Jamie Gough, Graham Mowl, Michael Barke, Robert MacFarlane, Duncan Fuller, 2014-05-01

Introducing Social Geographies is a major new text offering a comprehensive and up to date introduction to this important area of human geography It presents a broad overview of social geography clearly outlining the key theoretical and political positions and making extensive use of examples to show how these frameworks can be used to analyse real social issues The book is ideal for undergraduates first encountering social geography and includes topic overviews summaries of key points critiques boxed case studies and suggestions for further reading Key Concepts in Urban Geography Alan Latham, Derek McCormack, Kim McNamara, Donald McNeill, 2008-12-19

This extraordinary collage of sophisticated essays on key terms in urban geography both provides a conventional basis to and recasts innovatively a burgeoning field in the discipline Roger Keil co Editor International Journal of Urban and Regional Research The city is an obvious but confounding object of geographical analysis urban structure and life are shaped by an astounding array of social economic and political dynamics This volume embraces these complexities of city form in a wide ranging readable well informed and highly interdisciplinary analysis of key topics in urban studies With its fresh approach this book provides an accessible entry point for the newcomer to urban geography yet also delivers creative insights for those with greater familiarity Professor Steven K Herbert University of Washington

Organized around 20 short essays Key Concepts in Urban Geography provides a cutting edge introduction to the central concepts that define contemporary research in urban geography Involving detailed and expansive discussions the book includes An introductory chapter providing a succinct overview of the recent developments in the field Over 20 key concept entries with comprehensive explanations definitions and evolutions of the subject A glossary figures diagrams and suggested further reading This is an ideal companion text for upper level undergraduate and postgraduate students in urban geography and covers the expected staples of the subdiscipline from global cities and urban nature to transnational urbanism and virtuality

Shooting from the East Darrell Varga, 2015-11-01 Atlantic Canada has a rich tradition of storytelling and creativity that has extended to critical and audience praise for films from the region's four provinces Until now there has been no comprehensive history of this diverse body of work In Shooting from the East Darrell Varga traces the emergence of art cinema in the 1970s and 80s and subsequent rise of a contemporary commercial feature film and television industry by way of representative examples of a great range of titles including The Adventure of Faustus Bidgood Life Classes The Disappeared and Trailer Park Boys He provides analysis of documentary filmmaking to emphasize concerns such as the establishment of the regional National Film Board studio and the influence of broadcast policy but also considers significant recurring themes including the environment the body race and First Nations and the North Through critical analyses of key films and interviews conducted with filmmakers from all corners of the region Varga uncovers

patterns of meaning across diverse productions and interrogates the concept of region in relation to prevailing notions of national cinema and transnational media culture With a focus on short films and an extensive history and analysis of the filmmaking production co operatives located in each province Shooting from the East sheds light on the creative processes and local economic and cultural conditions for making images on the edge of the Atlantic Arctic Fever Anastasia Likhacheva,2022-08-22 This book explores the Arctic as a rapidly evolving phenomenon in international affairs of a rising number of stakeholders For decades Arctic studies used to be an affair of a relatively narrow group of experts from northern countries This time is over due to a new Chinese Arctic policy as well as growing regional interests from South Korea Singapore India and Japan Contributors reflect on new roles for the Arctic region both as a playground for the old school nation state competition and even confrontation and a new source for international cooperation in energy logistics and natural sciences Climate change political tensions and economic competition make Arctic a hotter venue of international relations This new Arctic fever studied through a comparative analysis of different regional agendas especially with a focus on the US China Russia triangle represents the main subject of our book which will be of interest to scholars of geopolitics of climate change and of 21st century energy economics Geographic Thought Tim Cresswell,2013-01-22 This engaging and accessible introduction to geographic thought explores the major thinkers and key theoretical developments in the field of human geography Covers the complete range of the development of theoretical knowledge of the field from ancient geography to contemporary non representational theory Presents theories in an accessible manner through the author s engaging writing style Examines the influence of Darwin and Marx the emergence of anarchist geographies the impact of feminism and myriad other important bodies of thought Stresses the importance of geographic thought and its relevance to our understanding of what it is to be human and to the people places and cultures of the world in which we live

Rethinking Israeli Space Erez Tzfadia,Haim Yacobi,2011-04-26 This book sheds light on the production of Israeli space and the politics of Jewish and Arab cities The authors postcolonial approach deals with the notion of periphery and peripherality covering issues of spatial protest urban policy and urban planning Discussing periphery as a political social and spatial phenomenon and both a product and a process manufactured by power mechanisms the authors show how the state the regime of citizenship the capitalist logic and the logic of ethnonationalism have all resulted in ethno class division and stratification which have been shaped by spatial policy Rather than using the term periphery to describe an economic geographical and social situation in which disadvantaged communities are located this critical examination addresses the traditionally passive dimension of this term suggest that the reality of peripheral communities and spaces is rather more conflicted and controversial The multidisciplinary approach taken by this book means it will be a valuable contribution to the fields of planning theory political science and public policy urban sociology critical geography and Middle East studies

The Neoliberal City Jason Hackworth,2014-01-15 The shift in the ideological winds toward a free market economy has brought profound effects in urban areas The Neoliberal City presents an overview of the effect of these changes on today's cities The term neoliberalism was originally used in reference to a set of practices that first world institutions like the IMF and World Bank impose on third world countries and cities The support of unimpeded trade and individual freedoms and the discouragement of state regulation and social spending are the putative centerpieces of this vision More and more though people have come to recognize that first world cities are undergoing the same processes In The Neoliberal City Jason Hackworth argues that neoliberal policies are in fact having a profound effect on the nature and direction of urbanization in the United States and other wealthy countries and that much can be learned from studying its effect He explores the impact that neoliberalism has had on three aspects of urbanization in the United States governance urban form and social movements The American inner city is seen as a crucial battle zone for the wider neoliberal transition primarily because it embodies neoliberalism's antithesis Keynesian egalitarian liberalism Focusing on issues such as gentrification in New York City public housing policy in New York Chicago and Seattle downtown redevelopment in Phoenix and urban landscape change in New Brunswick N J Hackworth shows us how material and symbolic changes to institutions neighborhoods and entire urban regions can be traced in part to the rise of neoliberalism

An Aqueous Territory Ernesto Bassi

Arevalo, 2017-01-03 Ernesto Bassi examines the lives of those who resided in the Caribbean between 1760 and 1860 to trace the configuration of a dynamic geographic space he calls the transimperial Greater Caribbean where residents made their own geographies and futures while trade information and people circulated freely across borders

Globalizing Regional Development in East Asia Henry Wai-chung Yeung, 2013-09-13 Significant historical and geographical differences account for the many processes and trajectories of regional development in East Asia These historical and geographical specificities in East Asia have prompted serious re-examination of existing theories in regional development and in particular the new regionalism approach associated with such ideas as the learning region institutional thickness relational assets and regional innovation system This book brings together a group of leading researchers specializing in local and regional development in East Asian economies Through in-depth empirical studies of specific regions and localities these authors offer fresh and innovative perspectives on how regions evolve and develop over time in the world's most dynamic macro regional economy In particular their work points to the critical importance of local and trans-local processes in shaping regional development trajectories The book is timely given that the debate on the nature and dynamics of regional development in both academic and policy circles has now moved on From the earlier focus on endogenous regional assets such as localized networks of association and trust scholars and policymakers are now analyzing the complex relationship between economic globalization and regional change This high-calibre collection makes a significant contribution to the literature on local and regional development in Asia and provides an important resource for researchers students and policy makers interested in East Asia This book was published as a special issue of Regional Studies

Rethinking Climate Change Research Pernille

Almlund,2016-04-08 The problems and debates surrounding climate change possess closely intertwined social and scientific aspects This book highlights the importance of researching climate change through a multi disciplinary approach namely through cultural studies communication studies and clean technology studies These three dimensions taken together have the ability to constitute a positive agenda for climate change science in its broader understanding To cope with the climate change challenge not only do we need new energy efficient technologies other ways of living and new ways to communicate but we especially need new ways to start thinking about climate change across disciplines and backgrounds We need to begin thinking across engineering cultural science and communication in order to create innovative solutions as well as to generate optimistic and progressive narratives about the future Accentuating these softer scientific disciplines their overlaps and the positive discourses they can create this book provides some more profoundly researched themes pertaining to climate change and by that strengthening the analytical as well as the integrative approaches toward the fundamental questions at stake Regional Insecurity After the Arab Uprisings E. Monier,2015-06-11 This book presents an in depth exploration of the impact of the Arab Uprisings on the relationship between constructions of in security narratives of threat and patterns of socio political change within the Middle East and North Africa region It also offers insights into the study of regional security and the operation of threat perceptions A Research Agenda for Regeneration Economies John R. Bryson,Lauren Andres,Rachel Mulhall,2018-12-28 This Research Agenda provides both a state of the art review of existing research on city regions and expands on new research approaches Expert contributors from across the globe explore key areas for reading city regions including trade services and people regional differentiation big data global production networks governance and policy and regional development The book focuses on developing a more integrated and systematic approach to reading city regions as part of regeneration economics identifying conceptual and methodological developments in this field of study Rethinking Food Systems Nadia C.S. Lambek,Priscilla Claeys,Adrienna Wong,Lea Brilmayer,2014-01-10 Taking as a starting point that hunger results from social exclusion and distributional inequities and that lasting sustainable and just solutions are to be found in changing the structures that underlie our food systems this book examines how law shapes global food systems and their ongoing transformations Using detailed case studies historical mapping and legal analysis the contributors show how various actors farmers civil society groups government officials international bodies use or could use different legal tools legislative jurisprudential norm setting on various scales local national regional global to achieve structural changes in food systems Section 1 Institutionalizing New Approaches explores the possibility of institutionalizing social change through two alternative visions for change the right to food and food sovereignty Individual chapters discuss V a Campesina s struggle to implement food sovereignty principles into international trade law and present case studies on adopting food sovereignty legislation in Nicaragua and right to food legislation in Uganda The chapters in Section 2 Regulating for Change explore the extent to which the regulation of actors can or cannot change incentives and produce transformative results in food systems They look at the role of the state in regulating its own actions as well as the actions of third parties and analyze various means of regulating land grabs The final section Governing for Better Food Systems discusses the fragmentation of international law and the impacts of this fragmentation on the realization of human rights These chapters trace the underpinnings of the current global food system explore the challenges of competing regimes of intellectual property farmers rights and human rights and suggest new modes of governance for global and local food systems The stakes for building better food systems are high Our current path leaves many behind destroying the environment and entrenching inequality and systemic poverty While it is commonly understood that legal structures are at the heart of food systems the legal academy has yet to make a significant contribution to recent discussions on improving food systems this book aims to fill that gap
