Reading By Touch:

Reading by Touch Susanna Millar, 2003-09-02 Reading using vision or touch translates abstract marks on a page into an understanding of ideas. The perceptual linguistic and cognitive processes involved in sighted reading have been widely studied but the use of touch raises new issues. Drawing on her research with novice and fluent braille readers, Susanna Millar examines how people initially process braille and how skill with sounds, words, meaning and spelling patterns influence processing. The main focus is on braille but findings on the Moon script vibrotactile devices, maps and icons are also considered in the context of their practical implications and access to computer technology. Reading by Touch will be of enormous interest to all teachers and students of tactual reading systems and makes a significant contribution to theories in cognitive and developmental psychology.

Reading by Touch Royal National Institute for the Blind, 1969 Reading by Touch, 1972 Touch Reading Janet Wise, 1960 The Psychology of Touch Morton A. Heller, 2013-11-12 Designed to make research on touch understandable to those not specifically involved in tactile research, this book provides broad coverage of the field. It includes material on sensory physiology and psychophysics, thermal sensibility, pain, pattern, participation, sensory aids and tactile perception in blind people. While the volume is important for researchers in the area of touch, it should also prove valuable to a broad audience of experimental and educational psychologists and health professionals. The book should also be of interest to scientists in perception, cognition and cognitive science and can be used as a supplementary reader for courses in sensation and perception.
