Reading Arab Womens Autobiographies Shahrazad Tells Her Story:

Reading Arab Women's Autobiographies Nawar Al-Hassan Golley, 2003-11-01 The author applies a number of Western critical theories to Arab women's autobiographical works including Marxism feminism colonial discourse narrative theory at the same time interrogates these theories against chosen texts to test their adequacy for analysis of writings from other cultures

Reading Arab Women's Autobiographies Nawar Al-Hassan Golley, 2010-01-01 Authors of autobiographies are always engaged in creating a self to present to their readers This process of self creation raises a number of intriguing questions why and how does anyone choose to present herself or himself in an autobiography Do women and men represent themselves in different ways and if so why How do differences in culture affect the writing of autobiography in various parts of the world This book tackles these questions through a close examination of Arab women's autobiographical writings Nawar Al Hassan Golley applies a variety of western critical theories including Marxism colonial discourse feminism and narrative theory to the autobiographies of Huda Shaarawi Fadwa Tuqan Nawal el Saadawi and others to demonstrate what these critical methodologies can reveal about Arab women's writing At the same time she also interrogates these theories against the chosen texts to see how adequate or appropriate these models are for analyzing texts from other cultures This two fold investigation sheds important new light on how the writers or editors of Arab women's autobiographies have written documented presented and organized their texts

Arabic Literature for the Classroom Mushin al-Musawi, 2017-04-21 This book presents theoretical and methodical cultural concerns in teaching literatures from non American cultures along with issues of cross cultural communication cultural competency and translation Covering topics such as the 1001 Nights Maqamat Arabic poetry women's writing classical poetics issues of gender race and class North African concerns language acquisition through literature Arab spring writing women's correspondence issues connected with the so called nahdah revival movement in the 19th century and many others the book provides perspectives and topics that serve in both the planning of new courses and accommodation to already existing programs

Arab Women's Lives Retold Nawar Al-Hassan Golley, 2007-10-18 Examining late twentieth century autobiographical writing by Arab women novelists poets and artists this essay collection explores the ways in which Arab women have portrayed and created their identities within differing social environments The collection goes well beyond dismantling standard notions of Arab female subservience exploring the many ways Arab women writers have learned to speak to each other to their readers and to the world at large Drawing from a rich body of literature the essays attest to the surprisingly lively and committed roles Arab women play in varied geographic regions at home and abroad These recent writings assess how the interplay between individual private ethnic identity and the collective public global world of politics has impacted Arab women's rights

Mapping Arab Women's Movements Pernille Arenfeldt, Nawar Al-Hassan Golley, 2012 This pioneering collection of analyses focuses on the ideologies and activities of formal women's organizations and informal women's groups across a range of Arab countries

With contributions on Syria Jordan Lebanon Palestine Iraq Egypt Kuwait the United Arab Emirates Yemen and the Arab diaspora in the United States Mapping Arab Women's Movements contributes to delineating similarities and differences between historical and contemporary efforts toward greater gender justice The authors explore the origins of women's movements trace their development during the past century and address the impact of counter movements alliances and international collaborations within the region and beyond providing accessible accounts for scholars and others interested in the Middle East and in women's movements in other settings

The Critical Imagination in African Literature Maik Nwosu, Obiwu, 2015-06-09 In African studies the Echeruoan ideal is understood as an intervention or intellectual engagement characterized by a broadness of vision as well as a depth of analysis The essays gathered in this volume celebrate that ideal and honor Echeruo's contribution to the African intellectual tradition Editors Nwosu and Obiwu explore the driving forces in the literature of Africa and the African diaspora Contributors examine such themes as migration and exile trauma and repression violence and rebellion and gender and human rights Showcasing a rich diversity of cultural and academic backgrounds this volume inaugurates a new paradigm for further examination of African literature as world literature and for analysis of African literature through the lens of psychoanalytic semiotics While varied in modes of inquiry the essays are unified in their ambition to explore new theoretical directions reinvigorating the conversation around how African literature is read and studied

Mothers and Daughters in Arab Women's Literature Dalya Abudi, 2010-11-11 This study explores the mother daughter relationship as the most fundamental and most intimate female relationship It draws on both early and contemporary writings of Arab women to illuminate the traditional and evolving nature of mother daughter relationships in Arab families and how these family dynamics reflect and influence modern Arab life

Arab, Muslim, Woman Lindsey Moore, 2008-05-14 Given a long history of representation by others what themes and techniques do Arab Muslim women writers filmmakers and visual artists foreground in their presentation of postcolonial experience Lindsey Moore's groundbreaking book demonstrates ways in which women appropriate textual and visual modes of representation often in cross fertilizing ways in challenges to Orientalist colonialist nationalist Islamist and multicultural paradigms She provides an accessible but theoretically informed analysis by foregrounding tropes of vision visibility and voice post nationalist melancholia and mother daughter narratives transformations of homes and harems and border crossings in time space language and media In doing so Moore moves beyond notions of speaking or looking back to encompass a diverse feminist poetics and politics and to emphasize ethical forms of representation and reception Aran Muslim Woman is distinctive in the eclectic body of work that it brings together Discussing Algeria Egypt Jordan Lebanon Morocco the Palestinian territories and Tunisia as well as postcolonial Europe Moore argues for better integration of Arab Muslim contexts in the postcolonial canon In a book for readers interested in women s studies history literature and visual media we encounter work by Assia Djebar Mona Hatoum Fatima Mernissi Ahlam Mosteghanemi Nawal el Saadawi Leila Sebbar Zineb Sedira Ahdaf Soueif Moufida Tlatli Fadwa Tuqan and many other women

A Poetics of Arabic Autobiography Ariel M. Sheetrit, 2020-02-27

This book examines the poetics of autobiographical masterpieces written in Arabic by Leila Abouzeid Hanan al Shaykh Samuel Shimon Abd al Rahman Munif Salim Barakat Mohamed Choukri and Hanna Abu Hanna These literary works articulate the life story of each author in ways that undermine the expectation that the self the auto of autobiography would be the dominant narrative focus Although every autobiography naturally includes and relates to others to one degree or another these autobiographies tend to foreground other characters voices places and texts to the extent that at times it appears as though the autobiographical subject has dropped out of sight even to the point of raising the question is this an autobiography These are indeed autobiographies Sheetrit argues albeit articulating the story of the self in unconventional ways Sheetrit offers in depth literary studies that expose each text s distinct strategy for life narrative Crucial to this book s approach is the innovative theoretical foundation of relational autobiography that reveals the grounding of the self within the collective not as symbolic of it This framework exposes the intersection of the story of the autobiographical subject with the stories of others and the tensions between personal and communal discourse Relational strategies for self representation expose a movement between two seemingly opposing desires the desire to separate and dissociate from others and the desire to engage and integrate within a particular relationship community culture or milieu This interplay between disentangling and conscious entangling constitutes the leitmotif that unites the studies in this book

Palestinian Literature and Film in Postcolonial Feminist Perspective Anna Ball, 2012

Palestinian Literature and Film in Postcolonial Feminist Perspective is the first sustained study of gender consciousness in the Palestinian creative imagination Drawing on concepts from postcolonial feminist theory Ball analyses a range of literary and filmic works by major creative practitioners including Michel Khleifi Liana Badr Annemarie Jacir Elia Suleiman Mona Hatoum and Suheir Hammad and reveals a hitherto unrecognized trajectory in gender consciousness under development in the Palestinian imagination from the start of the twentieth century The book explores how these works resonate with questions of power identity nation resistance and self representation in the Palestinian imagination more broadly and asks how these gender conscious narratives transform our understanding of Palestine s struggle for postcoloniality Working at the cusp of postcolonial feminist and cultural enquiry

Ball seeks to open up vital new directions in the interdisciplinary study of Palestine Contemporary Arab American Women Writers: Hyphenated Identities and Border Crossings , Women, Writing and the Iraqi Ba'thist State Al-Hassan Hawraa Al-Hassan,2020-09-04 In an effort to expand its readership and increase support for its pan Arab project the Iraqi Ba'th almost completely eradicated illiteracy among women As Iraq was metaphorically transformed into a female through its nationalist trope women writers simultaneously found opportunities and faced obstacles from the state as the woman question became a site of contention between those who would advocate the progressiveness of the Ba'th and those who would stress its repressiveness and immorality By exploring discourses on gender in both propaganda and high art fictional writings by Iraqis this book offers an alternative narrative of the literary and cultural history of Iraq Muslim Writing, Writing Muslimness in Europe Carmen Zamorano Llana,Billy Gray,Carolina León Vegas,Carles Magrinyà Badiella,2025-09-25 Throughout the first two decades of the twenty first century the so called Muslim question has intermittently though persistently taken centre stage in Western media and political discourses In terms of culture within the European context there is also a substantial body of literature that has engaged with Western anxieties projected onto the Muslim Other and in particular the Muslim migrant Other Literary criticism of Muslim writing and writing about Muslims in Europe has often highlighted the need to offer a more nuanced articulation of Muslim identity that contributes to challenging such othering practices Critical studies on Muslim writing produced over the last two decades have predominantly focused on contemporary literature and the novel in particular and they have often centred on specific linguistic and national frameworks This collection of essays adds complexity to existing analyses of contemporary Muslim writing and writing about Muslims and Islam in the European context by emphasizing the comparative perspective of writings produced in different epochs and different linguistic and cultural contexts Drawing on transcultural and world literature perspectives Muslim writing is redefined so as to incorporate genres other than the novel and critical approaches that expand on disciplinary redefinitions of literature and literary studies The thematic focus and the rigorous in depth analysis of the different case studies will make this collection relevant to students and academics within the fields of literary and cultural studies sociology and anthropology as well as to those in European studies and global studies Terrorism in Literature Bootheina Majoul,2019-08-13 This volume celebrates literature as a strong subversive tool as an alternative for change through an exploration of terrorism in various literary works It brings together scholars from all over the world including Algeria Argentina Australia Cameroon Denmark India Italy Tunisia Turkey and the USA to offer their insights As readers themselves they share an eagerness to understand the psychopathological personalities circulating among us They urge the reader to dig deep into literature to think to cogitate and to learn One of the most important literary figures dealing with terrorism in his novels is the internationally acclaimed Indian writer Tabish Khair who generously wrote the foreword to this volume He sheds light on the possibilities offered by literature as a means of dissent and a powerful tool for truth telling Handbook of Autobiography / Autofiction Martina Wagner-Egelhaaf, 2019-01-29 Autobiographical writings have been a major cultural genre from antiquity to the present time General questions of the literary as e g the relation between literature and reality truth and fiction the dependency of author narrator and figure or issues of individual and cultural styles etc can be studied preeminently in the autobiographical genre Yet the tradition of life writing has in the course of literary history developed manifold types and forms Especially in the globalized age where the media and other technological cultural factors contribute to a rapid transformation of lifestyles autobiographical writing has maintained even enhanced its popularity and importance By conceiving autobiography in a wide sense that includes memoirs diaries self portraits and autofiction as well as media transformations of the genre this three volume handbook offers a comprehensive survey of theoretical approaches systematic aspects and historical developments in an international and interdisciplinary perspective While autobiography is usually considered to be a European tradition special emphasis is placed on the modes of self representation in non Western cultures and on inter and transcultural perspectives of the genre The individual contributions are closely interconnected by a system of cross references The handbook addresses scholars of cultural and literary studies students as well as non academic readers

Transformative Communication Studies Omar Swartz, 2008-01-01 This interdisciplinary collection of essays charts intersections between communication cultural studies and a variety of emergent emancipatory and liberatory discourses Every essay attempts in one way or another to speak to the following questions What would a theory of liberation look like that is premised on a communication view of the world How would such a view expand and even redefine our understanding of liberation Finally how would such a view enlarge our understanding of what is collectively communally and organizationally possible In other words the chapters articulate what can be loosely considered a humanist theory of communication and praxis The goal is to move beyond discourses of liberation that are grounded in essentialist assumptions and to move the conversation toward an engaged criticism on cultural and social levels that facilitates and encourages progressive action This edited collection thus has as its goal a theory of human liberation grounded in communication as a resource for social and spiritual transformation The chapters comprise a mix of conceptual and applied studies that interrogate the communicative practices that naturalize our hierarchical world reifying and stultifying our moral and political imaginations As an antidote to this problem the contributors consider the importance of uncertainty and contingency in the development of human potential Rather than fearing uncertainty and contingency and allowing that fear to control us contributors argue that we should find within these conditions the source of our humanity and the strength to question and resist unjust social reifications When we do this we will rediscover the power of communication and regain an agency and control over our lives We then can start the difficult but humanizing process of constructing the world anew Case study exemplars of this construction thus are showcased

Ageing in the Modern Arabic Novel Aghacy Samira Aghacy, 2020-09-21 There are more than 15 million people aged over 65 currently living in the MENA region yet little attention has been paid to the cultural significance of growing old This book recognises the widespread silence by countering the critical corpus that reads modern Arabic novels as a political discourse with an emphasis on youth achievement By assembling a range of fictional works from different parts of the Arab world that incorporate older characters this book draws on a range of theoretical approaches to aging particularly from the perspective of gender and feminism to reconcile the biological and cultural understandings of old age It reveals that there is no standard female or male experience and no single prototype of oldness in the modern Arabic novel and that men and women manifest a multiplicity of identities concerns and experiences as they grow older Performing Democracy in Iraq and South Africa Kimberly Wedeven

Segall,2013-11-08 Reflecting twenty years of research and experience after working with guerrilla fighters in the Kurdish region of northern Iraq with Iranian refugees in Istanbul with interreligious reconciliation groups in Morocco and with former political prisoners in South Africa Segall offers a groundbreaking study of globalization gender and resistance in public spaces With timely correctives to the media lens of the Arab and African Spring the author views protest not just as an economic and political act but also as a potential space of healing and creativity amidst contentious and gendered territories Analyzing blogs graphic novels performances and public testimonials this book is unique in its attention to local expressions and creative use of technology to speak of political identities With its impressive range of generational and gendered voices Performing Democracy suggests hybrid protests that are voicing trauma seeking change
