On The Edge A History Of Poor Black Children And Their American Dreams:

On The Edge Carl H Nightingale,1995-01-04 Filled with fascinating insights into the collective emotional life of inner city kids this book is also a highly original history of the erosion of urban community life since World War II

The American Dream and the Power of Wealth Heather Beth Johnson,2014-05-01 In contemporary America the racial wealth gap is growing with families transmitting race and class inequalities from generation to generation Yet Americans continue to hold deep rooted beliefs in the principles of individualism equal opportunity and meritocracy Education the Great Equalizer is supposed to level the playing field ensuring that every child regardless of family of origin gets an equal chance at success Drawing on in depth interviews with 200 black and white families The American Dream and the Power of Wealth starkly reveals the enormous extent to which parents defend their beliefs in the values that lie at the heart of the American Dream Yet the way wealth is acquired and the way it is used categorically puts children from different families on vastly different educational trajectories leaving them with uneven sets of opportunities

The American Dream and the Power of Wealth Heather Johnson,2014-11-20 Despite the overwhelming evidence against them many people still believe they can overcome the economic and racial constraints placed upon them at birth In the first edition Heather Beth Johnson explored this belief in the American Dream with over 200 in depth interviews with black and white families highlighting the ever increasing racial wealth gap and the actual inequality in opportunities This second edition has been updated to make it fully relevant to today s reader with new data and illustrative examples including twenty new interviews Johnson asks not just what parents are thinking about inequality and the American Dream but to what extent children believe in the American Dream and how they explain justify and understand the stratification of American society This book is an ideal addition to courses on race and inequality

The End of Racism Dinesh D'Souza,1996-09-30 The first comprehensive inquiry into the history nature and ultimate meaning of racism

Black Feminist Thought Patricia Hill Collins,2002-06-01 In spite of the double burden of racial and gender discrimination African American women have developed a rich intellectual tradition that is not widely known In Black Feminist Thought Patricia Hill Collins explores the words and ideas of Black feminist intellectuals as well as those African American women outside academe She provides an interpretive framework for the work of such prominent Black feminist thinkers as Angela Davis bell hooks Alice Walker and Audre Lorde The result is a superbly crafted book that provides the first synthetic overview of Black feminist thought

The International Handbook of Sociology Stella R Quah,Arnaud Sales,2000-09-19 The most up to date survey of the range of research in contemporary sociology extremely useful to students teachers and researchers alike Indispensable for collective and personal libraries Immanuel Wallerstein Maison des Sciences de l Homme Paris This unique Handbook provides state of the art reviews of sociology conducted by prominent scholars Drawing on dedicated knowledge and expertise the book constitutes an unrivalled guide to the central theoretical and methodological perspectives in the discipline as a whole The book is organized into six parts o conceptual perspectives o social and cultural differentiation o changing institutions and collective action o demography cities and housing o art and leisure o social problems Each chapter includes a comprehensive review of the literature covering the full range of work from contrasting traditions of thought and approaches No existing work matches this Handbook for scholarly coverage and relevance It is a primary resource for understanding the discipline As such it will appeal to lecturers researchers and advanced graduate and undergraduate students in Sociology

Representing S. Craig Watkins,1998
Representing examines developments in black cinema It looks at the distinct contradiction in American society black youths have become targets of a racial backlash but their popular cultures have become commercially viable

Resources in Education ,1994-04 The Boy Problem Julia Grant,2014-03-15 A historical perspective on the factors affecting boys relationships with school and the criminal justice system Outstanding Academic Title Choice America s educational system has a problem with boys and it s nothing new The question of what to do with boys the boy problem has vexed educators and social commentators for more than a century Contemporary debates about poor academic performance of boys especially those of color point to a myriad of reasons inadequate and punitive schools broken families poverty and cultural conflicts Julia Grant offers a historical perspective on these debates and reveals that it is a perennial issue in American schooling that says much about gender and education today Since the birth of compulsory schooling educators have contended with what exactly to do with boys of immigrant poor minority backgrounds Initially public schools developed vocational education and organized athletics and technical schools as well as evening and summer continuation schools in response to the concern that the American culture of masculinity devalued academic success in school Urban educators sought ways to deal with the bad boys almost exclusively poor immigrant or migrant who skipped school exhibited behavioral problems when they attended and sometimes landed in special education classes and reformatory institutions The problems these boys posed led to accommodations in public education and juvenile justice system This historical study sheds light on contemporary concerns over the academic performance of boys of color who now flounder in school or languish in the juvenile justice system Grant s cogent analysis will interest education policy makers and educators as well as scholars of the history of education childhood gender studies American studies and urban history

Contempt and Pity Daryl Michael Scott,2000-11-09 For over a century the idea that African Americans are psychologically damaged has played an important role in discussions of race In this provocative work Daryl Michael Scott argues that damage imagery has been the product of liberals and conservatives of racists and antiracists While racial conservatives often playing on white contempt for blacks have sought to use findings of black pathology to justify exclusionary policies racial liberals have used damage imagery primarily to promote policies of inclusion and rehabilitation In advancing his argument Scott challenges some long held beliefs about the history of damage imagery He rediscovers the liberal impulses behind Stanley Elkins s Sambo hypothesis and Daniel Patrick Moynihan s Negro Family and exposes the damage imagery in the work of Ralph Ellison the leading anti pathologist He also corrects the view that the Chicago School depicted blacks as pathological products of patriarchy New Negro experts such as Charles Johnson and E Franklin Frazier he says disdained sympathy seeking and refrained from exploring individual pathology Scott's reassessment of social science sheds new light on Brown v Board of Education revealing how experts reversed four decades of theory in order to represent segregation as inherently damaging to blacks In this controversial work Scott warns the Left of the dangers in their recent rediscovery of damage imagery in an age of conservative reform

In Near Ruins Nicholas B. Dirks, 1998 If culture is suspect what of cultural theory At a moment when culture's traditional caretakers humanism philosophy anthropology and the nation state are undergoing crisis and mutation this volume charts the tensions and contradictions in the development and deployment of the concept of culture A genuinely interdisciplinary venture In Near Ruins brings together respected writers from the fields of history anthropology literary criticism and communications Together their essays present an intriguing picture of culture at the edges of humanism of the politics of critical inquiry amid current social transformations of the status and practice of historical knowledge in an age of theory Skeptical of the concept of culture but fascinated with cultural forms the authors take up diverse topics from debates over sexuality in the contemporary United States to relations between empire capitalism and gender in nineteenth century Britain from poverty in U S inner cities to violence in war torn Sri Lanka from the operation of nostalgia on cultural practices in Japan to anthropological forms of state power in Indonesia and the writing of history in India Linked by a common urge to think through the aesthetics and politics of particular social relations amid a variety of globalizing forces revolution colonialism nationalism and the disciplinary institutions of the academy itself these writers contribute to the ongoing work of remapping the terrain of cultural analysis and reevaluating the stakes in such a daunting effort

The After-school Lives of Children Deborah Belle, 1999-03 This book reviews the extant literature on children's after school worlds and presents qualitative and quantitative data from a longitudinal study by the author For developmentalists family specialists educators policy makers and parents

Not Working Alejandra Marchevsky, Jeanne Theoharis, 2006-04-10 Not Working chronicles the devastating effects of the 1996 welfare reform legislation that ended welfare as we know it For those who now receive public assistance work means pleading with supervisors for full time hours juggling ever changing work schedules and shuffling between dead end jobs that leave one physically and psychically exhausted Through vivid story telling and pointed analysis Not Working profiles the day to day struggles of Mexican immigrant women in the Los Angeles area showing the increased vulnerability they face in the welfare office and labor market The new work first policies now enacted impose time limits and mandate work requirements for those receiving public assistance yet fail to offer real job training or needed childcare options ultimately causing many families to fall deeper below the poverty line Not Working shows that the new welfare to work regime has produced tremendous instability and insecurity for these women and their children Moreover the authors argue that the new politics of welfare enable greater infringements of rights and liberty for many of America's most vulnerable and constitute a crucial component of the broader assault on American citizenship In short the new welfare is not working

The Grind Alexis S. McCurn,2018-09-10 Few scholars have explored the collective experiences of women living in the inner city and the innovative strategies they develop to navigate daily life in this setting The Grind illustrates the lived experiences of poor African American women and the creative strategies they develop to manage these events and survive in a community commonly exposed to violence Alexis S McCurn draws on nearly two years of naturalistic field research among adolescents and adults in Oakland California to provide an ethnographic account of how black women accomplish the routine tasks necessary for basic survival in poor inner city neighborhoods and how the intersections of race gender and class shape how black women interact with others in public This book makes the case that the daily consequences of racialized poverty in the lives of African Americans cannot be fully understood without accounting for the personal and collective experiences of poor black women The Wiley Blackwell Encyclopedia of Consumption and Consumer Studies Daniel Thomas Cook,J.

Michael Ryan,2015-03-02 With entries detailing key concepts persons and approaches The Wiley Blackwell Encyclopedia of Consumption and Consumer Studies provides definitive coverage of a field that has grown dramatically in scope and popularity around the world over the last two decades Includes over 200 A Z entries varying in length from 500 to 5 000 words with a list of suggested readings for each entry and cross references as well as a lexicon by category and a timeline Brings together the latest research and theories in the field from international contributors across a range of disciplines from sociology cultural studies and advertising to anthropology business and consumer behavior Available online with interactive cross referencing links and powerful searching capabilities within the work and across Wiley s comprehensive online reference collection or as a single volume in print www.consumptionandconsumerstudies.com Unfinished Business

Keri Day,2012-01-01 This portrayal of the poverty of black women in this country describes the unemployment underemployment isolation and lack of assets they typically experience The author also takes on and demolishes the common stereotypes that castigate poor black women as morally problematic and dependent on the money of good tax paying citizens She then calls on the black churches to become potential agents of change and leaders in addressing the unequal social and economic structures that hold captive these poor women The goal is to empower poor black women to develop assets that will prevent long term poverty and allow them to flourish Children at the Millennium Timothy J Owens,Sandra L.

Hofferth,2001-08-29 Children at the Millennium Making Cities Global A. K. Sandoval-Strausz,Nancy H. Kwak,2017-09-12 In recent decades hundreds of millions of people across the world have moved from rural areas to metropolitan regions some of them crossing national borders on the way While urbanization and globalization are proceeding with an intensity that seems unprecedented these are only the most recent iterations of long term transformations cities have for centuries served as vital points of contact between different peoples economies and cultures Making Cities Global explores the intertwined development of urbanization and globalization using a historical approach that demonstrates the many forms transnationalism has taken each shaped by the circumstances of a particular time and place It also emphasizes that globalization has not been persistent or automatic many people have been as likely to resist or reject outside connections as to establish or embrace them The essays in the collection revolve around three foundational themes The first is an emphasis on connections among the United States East and Southeast Asia Latin America and South Asia Second contributors ground their studies of globalization in the built environments and everyday interactions of the city because even world spanning practices must be understood as people experience them in their neighborhoods workplaces stores and streets Last is a fundamental concern with the role powerful empires and nation states play in the emergence of globalizing and urbanizing processes Making Cities Global argues that combining urban history with a transnational approach leads to a richer understanding of our increasingly interconnected world In order to achieve prosperity peace and sustainability in metropolitan areas in the present and into the future we must understand their historical origins and development Contributors Erica Allen Kim Leandro Benmergui Matt Garcia Richard Harris Carola Hein Nancy Kwak Carl Nightingale Amy C Offner Margaret O Mara Nikhil Rao A K Sandoval Strausz Arijit Sen Thomas J Sugrue Violent Crime Darnell F. Hawkins, 2003-02-24 Analysts have long noted that some societies have much higher rates of criminal violence than others They have also observed that the risk of being a victim or a perpetrator of violent crime varies considerably from one individual to another In societies with ethnically and racially diverse populations some ethnic and racial groups have been reported to have higher rates of violent offending and victimization than other groups This series of essays explores the extent and causes of racial and ethnic differences in violent crime in the United States and several other contemporary societies Black Privilege Cassi Pittman Claytor, 2020-09-22 A compelling ethnographic account of middle class Blacks in New York City A major contribution to race consumption class and urban studies Juliet Schor author of After the Gig In their own words the subjects of this book present a rich portrait of the modern black middle class examining how cultural consumption is a critical tool for enjoying material comforts as well as challenging racism New York City has the largest population of black Americans out of any metropolitan area in the United States It is home to a steadily rising number of socio economically privileged blacks In Black Privilege Cassi Pittman Claytor examines how this economically advantaged group experiences privilege having credentials that grant them access to elite spaces and resources with which they can purchase luxuries while still confronting persistent anti black bias and racial stigma Drawing on the everyday experiences of black middle class individuals Pittman Claytor offers vivid accounts of their consumer experiences and cultural flexibility in the places where they live work and play Whether it is the majority white Wall Street firm where they re employed or the majority black Baptist church where they worship questions of class and racial identity are equally on their minds They navigate divergent social worlds that demand at times middle class sensibilities pedigree and cultural acumen and at other times pride in and connection with other blacks Rich qualitative data and original analysis help account for this special kind of privilege and the entitlements it affords materially in terms of the things they consume as well as symbolically as they strive to be unapologetically black in a society where a racial consumer hierarchy prevails
