Form and Meaning in Dorothy M. Richardson's Pilgrimage María Francisca Llantada Díaz,2007 The Pool Group and the Quest for Anthropological Universality Betsy van Schlun,2016-11-21 Pool was an avant garde group that originated in 1927 in Britain and was active under this name until 1933 The group consisted of the well known modernist poet H D the English writer Bryher and the young Scottish writer and artist Kenneth Macpherson All three were first and foremost writers who at one point discovered film as another modern experimental medium of artistic expression Pool associated with almost all the iconic modernists of their time with Ezra Pound Gertrude Stein Ernest Hemmingway James Joyce Marianne Moore William Carlos Williams T S Eliot and Virginia Woolf to name only a few In addition due to their interest in film they were also befriended with such influential filmmakers as Sergei Eisenstein and Georg Wilhelm Pabst and became closely associated with Weimar Berlin film culture Pool unites classical Modernism and modernity two directions that are usually considered to be contradictory The Pool phenomenon opens a new perspective onto Modernism and prompts a reconsideration of its canonical texts and figures Contrary to many artists of Modernism who devised highly individualistic aesthetic styles the artists of Pool strove towards a universal art of humanity that was rooted in all human nature and psychology Literary Impressionism Rebecca Bowler,2016-09-22 With its new innovations in the visual arts cinema and photography as well as the sciences of memory and perception the early twentieth century saw a crisis in the relationship between what was seen and what was known Literary Impressionism charts that modernist crisis of vision and the way that literary impressionists such as Dorothy Richardson Ford Madox Ford H D and May Sinclair used new concepts of memory in order to bridge the gap between perception and representation Exploring the fiction of these four major writers as well as their journalism manifesto writings letters and diaries from the archives Rebecca Bowler charts the progression of modernism s literary aesthetics and the changing role of memory within it The Tunnel Dorothy Richardson,2014-09-19 The Tunnel is the fourth volume in Dorothy Richardson s novel series Pilgrimage The series set in the years 1893 1912 chronicles the life of Miriam Henderson a New Woman rejecting the Victorian ideals of femininity and domesticity in favour of a modern life of independence In addition to the formal and stylistic innovations in The Tunnel its attention to women s experience of modernity is groundbreaking It chronicles Miriam s working day as a dental receptionist and her forays into the public space of caf s city streets and political and intellectual talks Richardson matches her focus on Miriam's consciousness with remarkable detail giving the narrative a powerful realism Contemporary reviews including those by Virginia Woolf and Katherine Mansfield personal letters and Richardson's essays on modernism feminism and aesthetics place this important novel in context

One Great Family: Domestic Relationships in Samuel Richardson's Novels Simone Höhn, 2021-01-25 This study examines concepts of morality and structures of domestic relationships in Samuel Richardson's novels situating them in the context of eighteenth century moral writings and reader reactions Based on a detailed analysis of Richardson's work this book maintains that he sought both to uphold hierarchical concepts of individual duty and to warn of the consequences if such hierarchies were abused In his final novel Richardson aimed at a synthesis between social hierarchy and individual liberty patriarchy and female self fulfilment His work albeit rooted in patriarchal values paved the way for proto feminist conceptions of female character

Between Dream Houses and "God's Own Junkyard": Architecture and the Built Environment in American Suburban Fiction Stefanie Strebel, 2021-06-28 The American suburb is a space dominated by architectural mass production sprawl as well as a monotonous aesthetic eclecticism and many critics argue that it has developed from a postwar utopia into a disorienting environment with which it is difficult to identify The typical suburb has come to display characteristics of an atopia that is a space without borders or even a non place a generic space of transience Dealing with the representation of architecture and the built environment in suburban literature and film from the 1920s until present this study demonstrates that in its fictional representations too suburbia has largely turned into a place of non architecture A lack of architectural ethos and an abundance of Junkspace define suburban narratives causing an increasing sense of disorientation and entropy in fictional characters

Pointed Roofs Dorothy Richardson, 2014-09-11 The first chapter volume of Dorothy Richardson's thirteen volume novel series Pilgrimage Pointed Roofs is a coming of age story The protagonist is Miriam Henderson seventeen years old Pointed Roofs tells the tale of Miriam's first adventure as an adult teaching English at a finishing school in Hanover Germany Though the tale is simple it is not simply told to capture the intensity of Miriam's seemingly mundane experiences Richardson developed a new narrative technique labelled stream of consciousness by the author May Sinclair Pointed Roofs is a compelling account of a young woman's dawning consciousness of what it means to be independent an individual and a woman in the early twentieth century This Broadview Edition places Richardson's inventive narrative technique in the context of early twentieth century literary modernism showing the startling newness in May Sinclair's words of Richardson's writing Letters from Richardson to friends publishers and critics show the complex relationships between her work and life

Sonic Modernity Sam Halliday, 2013-03-14 Reveals the many roles and forms of sound in modernism Drawing on a wealth of texts and thinkers the book shows the distinctive nature of sonic cultures in modernity Arguing that these cultures are not reducible to sound alone the book further shows that these encompass representations of sound in other media especially literature but also cinema and painting Figures discussed include canonical writers such as Joyce Richardson and Woolf relatively neglected writers such as Henry Roth and Bryher and a whole host of musicians artists and other commentators including Wagner Schoenberg Kandinsky Adorno and Benjamin Conceptually as well as topically diverse the book engages issues such as city noise and foreign accents representations of sound in silent cinema the relationship of music to language and the effects of technology on sonic production and reception
