Duberman, 2014-08-12 The remarkable life of Paul Robeson quintessential Harlem Renaissance man scholar all American actor activist and firebrand Born the son of an ex slave in New Jersey in 1898 Paul Robeson endowed with multiple gifts seemed destined for fame In his youth he was as tenacious in the classroom as he was on the football field After graduating from Rutgers with high honors he went on to earn a law degree at Columbia Soon after he began a stage and film career that made him one of the country s most celebrated figures But it was not to last Robeson became increasingly vocal about defending black civil rights and criticizing Western imperialism and his radical views ran counter to the country s evermore conservative posture During the McCarthy period Robeson s passport was lifted he was denounced as a traitor and his career was destroyed Yet he refused to bow His powerful and tragic story is emblematic of the major themes of twentieth century history Martin Duberman s exhaustive biography is the result of years of research and interviews and paints a portrait worthy of its incredible subject and his improbable story Duberman uses primary documents to take us deep into Robeson s life giving Robeson the due that he so richly deserves Flakes of Dark and Light Roy Holland, 2001-02-28 The title Flakes of Dark and Light is evocative of the sharp flakes of insight and colour which characterise these tales The tales in the first part mostly depict an African setting and in fact are more recent often suggesting the climate of change and violence that has gripped southern Africa in the last two decades The stories in the second part were inspired by a more English tradition and in fact capture the climate of change that brooded over life during the Thirties and the war years A contemporary of Ted Hughes and with many of his stories set in the depressed sometimes seedy England of the Thirties and Forties which Graham Greene depicted in his early novels its not surprising that Roy Hollands images and sentences are like flakes that cut like broken glass A true artist he does not take sides but holds up a mirror to show life as it is or was whether in a pre war England or an Africa ravaged by drought and violence His tales are snapshots truthful sometimes startling of two quite distinct cultures However disparate they may seem one is invariably aware of an underlying tenderness and sympathetic vision in the portrayal of character regardless of race or background that binds them together
