Poems Song Lyrics Essays And Short Stories:

Poems, Song Lyrics, Essays, and Short Stories Nina Hatchitt Duffield, 2005-01-26 Life on the farm in Minnesota was not easy during the early 1900s All family members had to work long hours as a team to maintain an adequate supply of food clothing and shelter the basic necessities of human existence A trip to the annual County Fair was a treat beyond the comprehension of today's leisure-burdened Americans Why then would a talented and attractive young woman named Nina Hatchitt leave a successful career in the heady cultural environment of Washington D C to marry a Minnesota farmer Nina's decision was driven by love of a particular man and by love of family in the broadest and purest sense Her choice was between the probability of new sensations of pleasure and more money to spend on things and the promise of life-long heart happiness She made her decision at a time when her already successful career was about to soar to higher levels But by becoming a farmer's wife she simply added a second career to an already impressive resume Somehow she managed to continue writing poetry song lyrics and prose while giving birth to and raising six children under the difficult conditions of farm life She was able to get a few of her pieces into print but most have gathered dust in family archives during the eight decades since her death By compiling and annotating Nina's writings Wendell and Anne Duffield record a bit of early 1900s farm life history while documenting engaging literature of broad and universal appeal

Unveiled Voices, Unvarnished Memories Adelaide M. Cromwell, 2007 When an industrious slave named Willis Hodges Cromwell earned the money to obtain liberty for his wife who then bought freedom for him and for their children he set in motion a family saga that resounds today His youngest son John Wesley Cromwell became an educator lawyer and newspaper publisher and one of the most influential men of letters in the generation that bridged Frederick Douglass and W E B Du Bois Now in Unveiled Voices Unvarnished Memories his granddaughter Adelaide M Cromwell documents the journey of her family from the slave marts of Annapolis to achievements in a variety of learned professions John W Cromwell began the family archives from which this book is drawn letters and documents that provide an unprecedented view of how one black family thought strived and survived in American society from the seventeenth century to the twentieth These papers reflect intimate thoughts about such topics as national and local leaders moral behavior color consciousness and the challenges of everyday life in a racist society They also convey a wealth of rich insights on the burdens that black parents demands for achievement placed on their children the frequently bitter rivalries within the intellectual class of the African American community and the negative impact on African American women of sexism in a world dominated by black men whose own hold on respect was tentative at best The voices gathered here give readers an inside look at the formation and networks of the African American elite as John Cromwell forged friendships with such figures as journalist John E Bruce and the Reverend Theophilus Gould Steward Letters with those two faithfully depict the forces that shaped the worldview of the small but steadily expanding community of African American intellectuals who helped transform the nation s attitudes and policies on race and whose unguarded comments on a wide range of matters will be of particular interest to social historians Additional correspondence between John and his son John Jr brings the family story into modern times Unveiled Voices Unvarnished Memories is a rare look at the public and private world of individuals who refused to be circumscribed by racism and the ghetto while pursuing their own well being Its narrative depth breaks new ground in African American history and offers a unique primary source for that community
