Local and National Poets of America with Interesting Biographical Sketches and Choice Selections from Over One Thousand Living American Poets Thomas William Herringshaw, 1892 American Poetry: The Seventeenth and Eighteenth Centuries (LOA #178) David Shields, 2007-10-18 This groundbreaking Library of America volume offers a fresh look at early American poetry charting its evolution over a span of almost two centuries from the first years of English settlement in the New World to the death of George Washington Gathering the work of more than 100 poets including many poems never previously anthologized and some published here for the first time it is the most comprehensive collection of its kind ever assembled a celebration of the rich varied and often surprising beginnings of American poetry The range of voices is unprecedented broadside and newspaper satires epitaphs children's verse popular songs ballads and Christian hymns evoke the vital currency of poetry in daily life exhortatory elegies for public figures and historical epics declaimed on occasions of state stand alongside intricate meditative lyrics and private epistolary verses The dramatic unfolding of American history is made immediate and vivid in the words of the participants William Bradford reflects on the growth of New England's first colonies Roger Wolcott recounts the incidents of the Pequot War Thomas Paine hails the victories of the American Revolution Ann Eliza Bleecker describes her flight from General Burgoyne's invading army loyalist Jonathan Odell bitterly mocks the new Continental Congress The first comprehensive anthology of early American poetry in more than a generation this volume incorporates recent scholarly discoveries that have altered our understanding of the early American literary landscape. Alongside generous selections from long admired New England poets such as Anne Bradstreet, Edward Taylor, and Michael Wigglesworth are poets from the Middle Colonies and the South newly emerged from the archives. Along with familiar favorites by Phillis Wheatley, celebrated pioneer of the African American tradition in poetry, are little known verses by Benjamin Banneker, known as the Sable Astronomer, and African American Minuteman Lemuel Haynes. The anthology includes hymns recently attributed to Mohegan preacher Samson Occom and the earliest known translation of a traditional Native American chant, Henry Timberlake's Cherokee War Song. The unpublished poems of Henry Brooke, Elizabeth Graeme Fergusson, Joseph Green, Hannah Griffitts, Margaret Lowther Page, and Annis Boudinot Stockton, among others, reflect the rediscovered vitality and importance of manuscript exchange as a form of publication in an era when it was sometimes considered indecorous, especially for women, to appear in print. Unprecedented in its textual authority and unrivaled in its scope, the anthology includes newly researched biographical sketches of each poet and extensive notes.

By 1940 the revolution we call Modernism had run its course; the battle against the nineteenth century had been won with time's help, and the poetry of experimentation was so secure that it became a new academicism. Whereas we had gone out of our way in earlier decades to make a pact with the most radical poet of the nineteenth century, Walt Whitman, we accepted quite matter-of-factly our association with Longfellow. In fact, it is part of the character of American poetry since 1940 to have made friends with everyone. Mark Strand from the Preface

Poets of America Edmund Clarence Stedman, 2023-07-18 This collection of poetry offers a comprehensive survey of American poets from the 19th and early 20th centuries as selected by Edmund Clarence Stedman.
