Rape Of The Masters How Political Correctness Sabotages Art:

The Rape of the Masters Roger Kimball, 2004 In this witty and provocative book a noted art critic shows how academic art history is increasingly held hostage to radical cultural politics feminism cultural studies postcolonial studies and the whole armory of academic antihumanism Art Schooled Larry Witham, 2012-01-01 One year in the life of the students teachers and artists at one of the nation's oldest and most prestigious art colleges What is Wrong with Us? Eric Coombes, Theodore Dalrymple, 2016-11-08 Can any of us entirely banish from our hearts and minds grave misgivings about the condition of the culture we now inhabit Expressions of those misgivings are mostly unheard in public forums ignored in the dominant media and if noticed at all dismissed by state supported bureaucracies and commercial vested interests To have any chance of gaining attention they must resolve themselves into coherent forms We need to clarify our perceptions of the things that trouble us by articulating and developing our thoughts about them That is we are in need of serious criticism serious criticism aesthetic social and political which is notably lacking in the contemporary world especially in places readily available to the educated non specialist such as the quality weekend newspapers and especially perhaps in relation to the visual arts The pieces collected in this volume are not presented as amounting to an overall account or theory of our cultural condition They are offered merely as examples of serious criticism of what we need if we are to begin to think more profitably about our condition daring in defiance of contemporary dogmatism to make the necessary judgements of value without which our culture will continue to disintegrate The Practice of Quixotism S. Gordon, 2006-11-13 Using postmodern theory The Practice of Quixotism explores eighteenth century women's texts that use quixote narratives which typically demand that individuals purge their minds of internalized fictions to insist instead that the reality we encounter is inevitably mediated by the texts we have read Engaging Art Steven J. Tepper, Bill Ivey, 2012-08-21 Engaging Art explores what it means to participate in the arts in contemporary society from museum attendance to music downloading Drawing on the perspectives of experts from diverse fields including Princeton scholars Robert Wuthnow and Paul DiMaggio Barry Schwartz author of The Paradox of Choice and MIT scholars Henry Jenkins and Mark Schuster this volume analyzes key trends involving technology audience demographics religion and the rise of do it yourself participatory culture Commissioned by The Wallace Foundation and independently carried out by the Curb Center at Vanderbilt University Engaging Art offers a new framework for understanding the momentous changes impacting America's cultural life over the past fifty years This volume offers suggestive glimpses into the character and consequence of a new engagement with old fashioned participation in the arts The authors in this volume hint at a bright future for art and citizen art making They argue that if we center a new commitment to arts participation in everyday art making creativity and quality of life we will not only restore the lifelong pleasure of homemade art but will likely seed a new generation of enthusiasts who will support America's signature nonprofit cultural institutions well into the future The Civil Contract of Photography Ariella Azoulay, 2021-09-14 In this groundbreaking work Ariella Azoulay thoroughly revises our understanding of the ethical status of photography It must she insists be understood in its inseparability from the many catastrophes of recent history She argues that photography is a particular set of relations between individuals and the powers that govern them and at the same time a form of relations among equals that constrains that power Anyone even a stateless person who addresses others through photographs or occupies the position of a photograph's addressee is or can become a member of the citizenry of photography The crucial arguments of the book concern two groups that have been rendered invisible by their state of exception the Palestinian noncitizens of Israel and women in Western societies Azoulay's leading question is Under what legal political or cultural conditions does it become possible to see and show disaster that befalls those with flawed citizenship in a state of exception The Civil Contract of Photography is an essential work for anyone seeking to understand the disasters of recent history and the consequences of how they and their victims are represented

The Age of the Avant-garde Hilton Kramer, 2017-07-12 Hilton Kramer well known as perhaps the most perceptive courageous and influential art critic in America is also the founder and co editor with Roger Kimball of The New Criterion This comprehensive book collects a sizable selection of his early essays and reviews published in Artforum Commentary Arts Magazine The New York Review of Books and The Times and thus constituted his first complete statement about art and the art world The principal focus is on the artists and movements of the last hundred years the Age of the Avant Garde that begins in the nineteenth century with Realism and Impressionism Most of the major artists of this rich period from Monet and Degas to Jackson Pollock and Claes Oldenburg are discussed and often drastically reevaluated A brilliant introductory essay traces the rise and fall of the avant garde as a historical phenomenon and examines some of the cultural problems which the collapse of the avant garde poses for the future of art In addition there are chapters on art critics museums the relation of avant garde art to radical politics and on the growth of photography as a fine art This collection is not intended to be the last word on one of the greatest as well as one of the most complex periods in the history of the artistic imagination The essays and reviews gathered here were written in response to particular occasions and for specific deadlines in the conviction that a start in the arduous task of critical revaluation needed to be made not because a critical theory prescribed it but because our experience compelled it

Overcoming Matthew Arnold James Walter Caufield, 2016-05-13 Opening the way for a reexamination of Matthew Arnold's unique contributions to ethical criticism James Walter Caufield emphasizes the central role of philosophical pessimism in Arnold's master tropes of culture and conduct Caufield uses Arnold's ethics as a lens through which to view key literary and cultural movements of the past 150 years demonstrating that Arnoldian conduct is grounded in a Victorian ethic of renouncement a form of altruism that wholly informs both Arnold's poetry and prose and sets him apart from the many nineteenth century public moralists Arnold's thought is situated within a cultural and philosophical context that shows the continuing relevance of renouncement to much contemporary ethical reflection from the political kenosis of Giorgio Agamben and the pensiero debole of Gianni Vattimo to the ethical criticism of Wayne C Booth and Martha Nussbaum In refocusing attention on Arnold's place within the broad history of critical and social thought Caufield returns the poet and critic to his proper place as a founding father of modern cultural criticism

The Formalesque Bernard Smith, 2007 In this well illustrated book Professor Bernard Smith who is often referred to as the father of art history in Australia condenses the arguments presented in an earlier publication Modernism's History 1998 into a very accessible and helpful text will prove useful for students and arts interested readers He begins by listing and carefully explaining those terms which frequently occur in arts literature dealing with the modern period and then goes on to show that modernism has become an historical period with its art forms both institutionalised and globalised Now an historical entity art history's basic tools can be employed to explain and describe it They include an investigation of the period's style use of form and attitudes to meaning In his defence of art history's traditions and methodologies he argues that the period that encompasses modernism in the arts might now be known as The Formalesque

Art in Crisis Hans Sedlmayr, 2006-01-01 The history of art from the early nineteenth century on ward is commonly viewed as a succession of conflicts between innovatory and established styles that culminated in the formalism and aesthetic autonomy of high modernism In Art and Crisis first published in 1948 Hans Sedlmayr argues that the aesthetic disjunctures of modern art signify more than matters of style and point to much deeper processes of cultural and religious disintegration As Roger Kimball observes in his informative new introduction Art in Crisis is as much an exercise in cultural or spiritual analysis as it is a work of art history Sedlmayr s reads the art of the last two centuries as a fever chart of the modern age in its greatness and its decay He discusses the advent of Romanticism with its freeing of the imagination as a conscious sundering of art from humanist and religious traditions with the aesthetic treated as a category independent of human need Looking at the social purposes of architecture Sedlmayr shows how the landscape garden the architectural monument and the industrial exhibition testified to a new relationship not only between man and his handiwork but also between man and the forces that transcend him In these institutions man deifies his inventive powers with which he hopes to master and supersede nature Likewise the art museum denies transcendence through a cultural leveling in which Heracles and Christ become brothers as objects of aesthetic contemplation At the center of Art in Crisis is the insight that in art as in life the pursuit of unqualified autonomy is in the end a prescription for disaster aesthetic as well as existential Sedlmayr writes as an Augustinian Catholic For him the underlying motive for the pursuit of autonomy is pride The lost center of his subtitle is God The dream of autonomy Sedlmayr argues is for finite mortal creatures

a dangerous illusion The book invites serious analysis from art critics and theological thinkers alike Hans Sedlmayr 1896-1984 was a founding member of the New Vienna School of art historians His books include The Architecture of Borromini The Revolution of Modern Art and Austrian Baroque Architecture Roger Kimball is co editor and publisher of The New Criterion and president and publisher of Encounter Books His most recent book is The Rape of the Masters How Political Correctness Sabotages Art What's Wrong with Benevolence Andrew Irvine, David Stove, 2011-07-21 Is benevolence a virtue In many cases it appears to be so But when it comes to the enlarged benevolence of the Enlightenment David Stove argues that the answer is clearly no In this insightful provocative essay Stove builds a case for the claim that when benevolence is universal disinterested and external it regularly leads to the forced redistribution of wealth which in turn leads to decreased economic incentives lower rates of productivity and increased poverty As Stove points out there is an air of paradox in saying that benevolence may be a cause of poverty But there shouldn't be Good intentions alone are never sufficient to guarantee the success of one's endeavors Utopian schemes to reorganize the world have regularly ended in failure Easily the most important example of this phenomenon is twentieth century communism As Stove reminds us the attractiveness of communism the emotional fuel of communist revolutionaries for over a hundred years has always been exactly the same as the emotional fuel of every other utopianism the passionate desire to alleviate or abolish misery Yet communism was such a monumental failure that millions of people today are still suffering its consequences In this most prescient of essays Stove warns contemporary readers just how seductive universal political benevolence can be He also shows how the failure to understand the connection between benevolence and communism has led to many of the greatest social miseries of our age Trops Forte Castaspersin, 2006-07 This book is an unmitigated outrage Confessor Diadem Donkey University of TR PS I trust the Iwrong of Irak more than Castaspersin McDermotley Rantwell TR PS delegate to L U R C H Feed him to the moby Looni Tribal Chief I don't care what you have to do sink his boat kidnap his mother follow him to the ends of the Midwestern Hemisphere with bribes of caramel lattes and fresh salmon but catch that bastard Castaspersin and bring him back for sentence then verdict Her Ladyship the Venerable Ris TR PS is the politically incorrect satirical narrative of Forte Castaspersin a castaway washed ashore in The Republic of Purgit Sowend TR PS a curious land whose ruling elite leftizenry are locked in cultural war with democratic Mehrka from whom the Republic seceded Now part of an Urban Archipelago of similar city states TR PS is governed by Her Ladyship the Venerable Ris who stops at nothing to advance the agenda politics of diversity multiculturalism secateur equality of outcomes over opportunity and tolerance of even suicidal F nahtc Welambs terrorists from the Sandstohrm Determined to eradicate all vestiges of both Mehrka and its President NoSake St Texmas The Venerable Ris relies upon academia's moral equivalency engineering under Confessor Diadem Donkey courts which seek ideologically perfect fairness rather than justice and the media clerisy of Prince Annelid Glenfiddich Massaquiddick III Borkan Logic creator Shillery Monica Flowers Nihil Ozone and many others exacerbate the

Without Criteria Steven Shaviro,2012-08-17 A Deleuzian reading of Whitehead and a Whiteheadian reading of Deleuze open the possibility of a critical aesthetics of contemporary culture In Without Criteria Steven Shaviro proposes and explores a philosophical fantasy imagine a world in which Alfred North Whitehead takes the place of Martin Heidegger What if Whitehead instead of Heidegger had set the agenda for postmodern thought Heidegger asks Why is there something rather than nothing Whitehead asks How is it that there is always something new In a world where everything from popular music to DNA is being sampled and recombined argues Shaviro Whitehead s question is the truly urgent one Without Criteria is Shaviro s experiment in rethinking postmodern theory especially the theory of aesthetics from a point of view that hearkens back to Whitehead rather than Heidegger In working through the ideas of Whitehead and Deleuze Shaviro also appeals to Kant arguing that certain aspects of Kant s thought pave the way for the philosophical constructivism embraced by both Whitehead and Deleuze Kant Whitehead and Deleuze are not commonly grouped together but the juxtaposition of them in Without Criteria helps to shed light on a variety of issues that are of concern to contemporary art and media practices
