Loot Sharon Waxman,2003-01-18 A journey across four continents to the heart of the conflict over who should own the great works of ancient art Why are the Elgin Marbles in London and not on the Acropolis Why do there seem to be as many mummies in France as there are in Egypt Why are so many Etruscan masterworks in America For the past two centuries the West has been plundering the treasures of the ancient world to fill its great museums but in recent years the countries where ancient civilizations originated have begun to push back taking museums to court prosecuting curators and threatening to force the return of these priceless objects Where do these treasures rightly belong Sharon Waxman a former culture reporter for The New York Times and a longtime foreign correspondent brings us inside this high stakes conflict examining the implications for the preservation of the objects themselves and for how we understand our shared cultural heritage Her journey takes readers from the great cities of Europe and America to Egypt Turkey Greece and Italy as these countries face down the Louvre the Metropolitan Museum the British Museum and the J Paul Getty Museum She also introduces a cast of determined and implacable characters whose battles may strip these museums of some of their most cherished treasures For readers who are fascinated by antiquity who love to frequent museums and who believe in the value of cultural exchange Loot opens a new window on an enduring conflict

Jacqueline Elam,Chase Pielak,2018-06-13 This book takes a critical glance at the ways in which we attend to the corpse tracing a trajectory from encounter toward considering options for disposal veneered mortuary interment green burial and its attendant rot cremation and alkaline hydrolysis donation and display and ecological burial Through tracing the possible futures of the dead that haunt the living through both the stories that we tell and physical manifestations following the end of life we expose the workings of aesthetics that shape corpses as well as the ways in which corpses spill over resisting aestheticization This book creates a space for ritualized practices surrounding death corpse disposal corpse aesthetics that shape both practices attendant upon and representations of the corpse and literary figural and cultural representations that deploy these practices to tell a story about dead bodies about their separation from the living about their disposability and ultimately about the living who survive the dead if only for a while There is an aesthetics of erasure persistently at work on the dead body It must be quickly hidden from sight to shield us from the certain trauma of our own demise or so the unspoken argument goes Experts scientists forensic specialists death care professionals and law enforcement are the only ones qualified to view the dead for any extended period of time The rest of us with only brief doses inoculate ourselves from the materiality of death in complex and highly ritualized ceremonies Beyond participating in the project of restoring our sense of finitude we try to make sense of the untouchable unviewable haunting and taboo presence of the corpse itself

Imagination Holger Hoock, 2010-07-09 Between the mid 18th and mid 19th centuries Britain evolved from a substantial international power yet relative artistic backwater into a global superpower and a leading cultural force in Europe. In this original and wide ranging book Hoock illuminates the manifold ways in which the culture of power and the power of culture were interwoven in this period of dramatic change. Britons invested artistic and imaginative effort to come to terms with the loss of the American colonies to sustain the generation long fight against Revolutionary and Napoleonic France and to assert and legitimate their growing empire in India. Demonstrating how Britain fought international culture wars over prize antiquities from the Mediterranean and Near East the book explores how Britons appropriated ancient cultures from the Mediterranean the Near East and India and casts a fresh eye on iconic objects such as the Rosetta Stone and the Parthenon Marbles.

Of the Past, for the Future Neville Agnew, Janet Bridgland, 2006-03-06 Conservation is a core value for most archaeological societies. It is highlighted in their codes of ethics statements of mission and governance. In recognition of this the World Archaeological Congress with the Getty Conservation Institute and a consortium of other conservation organizations brought together scholars working throughout the globe to discuss vital issues that affect archaeological heritage today. This volume presents the proceedings of the Conservation Theme at the Congress held in Washington D C June 22-26 2003. Among the topics discussed are Innovative Approaches to Policy and Management of Archaeological Sites, Finding Common Ground, The Role of Stakeholders in Decision Making, Archaeology and Tourism A Viable Partnership, Preserving the Cultural Heritage of Iraq and Afghanistan, Archaeology and Conservation in China Today and Managing Archaeological Sites and Rock Art Sites in Southern Africa. These proceedings should do much to promote and strengthen the relationship between the disciplines of conservation and archaeology.
