Rationale For A New Way Of Teaching Music:

Rationale for a New Way of Teaching Music Pierre Galin, 1983 First published in 1818 Pierre Galin's analysis of the learning processes common to language and music still present a challenge today Rationale for a new way of teaching music (from "Exposition d'une nouvelle méthode", 1818) Pierre Galin, 1983 Bernarr Rainbow on Music Bernarr Rainbow, 2010 Rainbow's memoir is followed by his life of the tonic sol fa propagandist John Curwen whom Rainbow honoured by founding the Curwen Institute in 1972 Building Choral Excellence Steven M. Demorest, 2003-04-10 Designed for both the practicing choral director and the choral methods student this is a compact and comprehensive overview of the many teaching methods strategies materials and assessments available for choral sight singing instruction Sight singing is an important if sometimes neglected facet of choral music education that often inspires fear and uncertainty in student and teacher alike Written in an accessible style this book takes the mystery out of teaching music reading Topics covered include the history of sight singing pedagogy and research prominent methods and materials and practical strategies for teaching and assessment This is the only book to provide such a wealth of information under one cover and will become an essential part of every choral conductor's library Teaching Music with Purpose Peter Loel Boonshaft, 2006 Meredith Music Resource Like his first critically acclaimed international bestseller Teaching Music with Passion this new book from Peter Boonshaft is even more poignant and powerful Called one of the most exciting and exhilarating voices in music education today Boonshaft's latest work is both inspirational and instructional and will definitely warm your heart and transform your teaching a href http://youtu.be/bHQ21_tjgEU target _blank Click here for a YouTube video on Teaching Music with Purpose a

Music Education in Crisis Peter Dickinson, 2013 Seminal lectures on music education since the 1990s There is no question that music education is in crisis today The place of music in the national curriculum is controversial there have been cuts in the provision of individual lessons and there have been severe reductions in government funding with more planned This book containing the first five Bernarr Rainbow Lectures makes an important and timely contribution to the debate on music education Baroness Warnock brings the perspective of a distinguished philosopher to bear on issues about the nature of music and its study Lord Moser urges us to maintain and expand what has been achieved since World War II the late Professor John Paynter responsible for the 1960s surge in creative approaches to music teaching presents his case in two contributions John Stephens discusses structures for music teaching and then in a second contribution brings everything up to date and Professor Gavin Henderson traces his own colourful career and supports music for all ages Also included is the 2005 Royal Philharmonic Society by the Master of the Queen's Music Sir Peter Maxwell Davies an assessment from Bernarr Rainbow himself written late in his life an indictment from Wilfrid Mellers and two reviews of Bernarr Rainbow on Music Memoirs and Selected Writings showing the continuing importance of his work fifteen years after his death This book is part of the series Classic Texts in Music Education edited by Professor Peter Dickinson and supported by the Bernarr Rainbow

Teaching Music Performance in Higher Education Helen Julia Minors, Stefan Östersjö, Gilvano Dalagna, Jorge Salgado Correia, 2024-05-27 Higher Music Performance Education as taught and learned in universities and conservatoires in Europe is undergoing transformation Since the nineteenth century the master apprentice pedagogical model has dominated creating a learning environment that emphasises the development of technical skills rather than critical and creative faculties This book contributes to the renewal of this field by being the first to address the potential of artistic research in developing student centred approaches and greater student autonomy This potential is demonstrated in chapters illustrating artistic research projects that are embedded within higher music education courses across Europe with examples ranging from instrumental tuition and ensemble work to the development of professional employability skills and inclusive practices Bringing together diverse and experienced voices working within Higher Music Education but often also as professional performers this edited collection pairs critical reflection with artistic insight to present new approaches to curricula for teaching interpretation and performance It calls for greater collaboration between Higher Education and professional music institutions to create closer bonds with music industries and thereby improve students career opportunities Teaching Music Performance in Higher Education will appeal to scholars performers teachers but also students whose interests centre on innovative practices in conservatoires and music departments

Philosophy of Music Education Challenged: Heideggerian Inspirations Frederik Pio, Øivind Varkøy, 2014-10-20 This volume offers key insights into the crisis of legitimization that music as a subject of arts education seems to be in Music as an educational subject is under intense pressure both economically due to the reduction of education budgets as well as due to a loss of status with policy makers The contributions in this book illuminate Martin Heidegger s thinking as a highly cogent theoretical framework for understanding the nature and depth of this crisis The contributors explore from various angles the relationship between the pressure on music education and the foundations of our technical and rationalized modern society and lead the way on the indispensable first steps towards reconnecting the cultural practices of education with music and its valuable contributions to personal development Teaching Music to Students with Special Needs Alice Hammel, 2017
