Reaching Marginal Students A Primary Concern For School Renewal:

Reaching Marginal Students Robert Leo Sinclair, Ward J. Ghory, 1987      School Effectiveness and School Improvement Bert.P.M. Creemers, Ton Peters, David Reynolds, 2022-02-27 School effectiveness and school improvement have different origins School effectiveness is more directed to finding out what works in education and why school improvement is practice and policy oriented and intended to change education in the desired direction However in their orientation to outcomes input processes and context in education they also have much in common In the theoretical part different orientations have been analysed and combined in a model for effective school improvement Based on this analysis an evaluation framework was developed for the analysis of the case studies of school improvement projects in the participating countries The theoretical model and the results of the analyses of the case studies were combined in a framework of effective school improvement      Regional Strategy Meetings on Choice in Education ,1989      The Struggle for Identity in Today's Schools Patrick M. Jenlink (Ed), Faye Hicks Townes, 2009-05-16 The Struggle for Identity in Today's Schools examines cultural recognition and the struggle for identity in America's schools In particular the contributing authors focus on the recognition and misrecognition as antagonistic cultural forces that work to shape and at times distort identity What surfaces throughout the chapters are two lessons to be learned in relation to identity The first lesson is that identities and the acts attributed to them are always forming and re-forming in relation to historically specific contexts and these contexts are political in nature i.e. defined by issues of diversity such as race ethnicity language sexual orientation gender and economics The second lesson presented by the authors is that identity forms in and across intimate and social contexts over long periods of time The historical timing of identity formation cannot simply be dictated by discourse The identities posited by any particular discourse become important and a part of everyday life based on the intersection of social histories and social actors Importantly the social cultural use of identities leads to another way of conceptualizing histories personhoods cultures and their distributions over social and political groups      Advances in Education Research ,1993      Resources in Education ,1996      Enriching Esol Pedagogy Vivian Zamel, 2002-12-18 Enriching ESOL Pedagogy Readings and Activities for Engagement Reflection and Inquiry is a collection of thought provoking articles and activities designed to engage practicing and prospective ESOL teachers in an ongoing process of reflecting on critically examining and investigating theory and practice Its twofold purpose is to provide a theoretical perspective and to offer ways for making the teaching of English to speakers of other languages ESOL meaningful for both teachers and learners Underlying the activities and the readings themselves is the assumption that teachers need to play a role in exploring shaping and theorizing the work they do The readings included represent a range of genres They are informed by a common philosophical perspective about language acquisition and treat language teaching and learning holistically The book is organized into five integrated units that raise questions about conventional notions of methods take into account the complicated nature of real classrooms provide theoretical principles for teaching that promotes language acquisition include rich descriptions of actual classroom experiences and question assumptions about language and literacy Each set of readings begin with a Before Reading section and is followed by Reflecting on the Readings Reading for Further Reflection and Suggested Projects for Inquiry sections This volume is a valuable resource for practicing and prospective teachers in the field of TESOL who work with diverse student populations at all levels in both mainstream and ESL bilingual settings

Reaching and Teaching All Children Robert L. Sinclair, Ward J. Ghory, 1997-08-26 An excellent and practical treatise on revitalizing learning in our schools I highly recommend its innovative and collaborative approach to education Alvin F. Poussaint M.D. Department of Psychiatry Harvard Medical School Provoking us to ponder the authors dare evoke values and moral imperatives as critical to the process of education Flowing throughout the book is the mantra of inclusivity children families teachers and communities together in meeting the challenge of school change It is a beacon of hope for public schools in America Wendy G. Winters Professor of Sociology Howard University Washington D.C. The approach in this book makes sense to teachers parents and others who seek to improve conditions for learning and desire to increase student achievement Ramon C. Cortines Executive Director PEW Network for Standards Based Reform Stanford Editors Robert L. Sinclair University of Massachusetts Amherst Ward J. Ghory Buckingham Browne Nichols School Cambridge Massachusetts How can educators reach all children Is every child teachable These are the questions explored here The chapter authors offer up a challenge for American educators to Establish a climate of trust where students are free of censure or ridicule Raise educational expectations for and of every student Start each student on a lifelong path of continuous learning Remove educational limits set by society and let students achieve their real potential This book introduces the findings of the National Coalition for Equality in Learning It involves more than 60 schools in 7 states and was created to attack learning inequities that persist in public education The National Coalition's 5 year mission to make sure that every student gets an equal chance to learn Reaching and Teaching All Children offers these four key democratic values as educational basics Education as a moral imperative Respect for individuals Pragmatic problem solving Local decision making The chapter authors view your leadership skills as critical to improving your school Learn how to engage your staff in working together for schoolwide improvement Find out how to channel teachers' powerful leadership abilities and build effective study teams to solve even the toughest school or student problems These school leadership ideas can help you create lasting meaningful change in your school and in your classrooms What you learn can mean the difference between status quo at your school and reaching and teaching all children

Progress of Public Education in the United States of America United States. Office of Education, 1984 Progress of Education in the United States of America, 1984 Major Violation Gary D. Funk, 1991 Describes the unfortunate way in which NCAA Division I athletes reflect the ills of society in general particularly in regard to racial inequalities Towards Coherence Between Classroom Assessment and Accountability National Society for the Study of Education, 2004-04-15 In analyses of the role of national educational assessment insufficient attention has been paid to the central place of the classroom. Rather than encouraging a two way flow of information today's standards based frameworks tend to direct the flow of accountability from the outside into the classroom. The authors of this volume emphasize that assessment as it exists in schools today consists mainly of the measurements that teachers themselves design, evaluate and act upon every day. Improving the usefulness of assessment in schools primarily requires assisting and harnessing this flood of assessment information both as a means of learning within the classroom and as the source of crucial information flowing out of classrooms. This volume aims to encourage debate and reflection among educational researchers, professionals and policymakers. Five source chapters describe successful classroom assessment models developed in partnership with teachers while additional commentaries give a range of perspectives on the issues of classroom assessment, standardized testing and accountability.

Culturally Proficient Education Randall B. Lindsey, Michelle Karns, Keith Myatt, 2010-04-14 Using the framework of cultural proficiency this timely resource offers educators the knowledge and skills to maximize educational opportunities for all students independent of students socioeconomic status.

Access to Knowledge John I. Goodlad, Pamela Keating, 1994 This ambitious collection of essays by prominent educators, scholars, researchers and reformers rethinks the problem of failure in our schools and describes the various curricular and structural factors that actually create barriers blocking access to an equal and quality education for all students. The authors examine such vital issues as at risk and marginal students, striving for gender equity, assessment, tracking, school renewal, school and district organization and the role of state government.

Curriculum Studies: Curriculum knowledge David Scott, 2003

Ensuring Success for All Students John W. Dougherty, 1997

Hope at Last for At-risk Youth Robert D. Barr, William Parrett, 1995 Provides a review of new information regarding at risk youth including a synthesis of current research, evaluation of effective school programs and practices, description of promising practices still being evaluated and a collection of the author's personal anecdotes and experiences with teachers.

Parental Values and Elementary School Student Absenteeism Stephen Richard Hecker, 1994

Curriculum, Culture and Teaching Joseph Zajda, 2001 Curriculum, Culture and Teaching analyses some of the major issues confronting the curriculum and teaching in the contemporary culture of a global society. Using qualitative methodology the contributors from around the world discuss key areas in curriculum theorising, innovation and teaching. The book is divided into four interrelated parts. In Part 1 Issues in the Curriculum the authors focus on thinking about curriculum and alternative curriculum models. Chapters examine the emergent curriculum, alternative curriculum models, conceptual schemes in curriculum inquiry and teachers' narratives about curriculum practice in schools. In Part 2 Cultural Dimensions in the Curriculum the authors examine cultural pluralism and multicultural education in the curriculum and discuss innovative projects for promotion of active citizenship, peace and tolerance in schools. In Part 3 Curriculum Innovations and Teaching the authors evaluate history curriculum reform. Complex Instruction as a curriculum innovation and the concept of the outcomes in education in Australia In Part 4 Case Studies the authors using comparative research methodology evaluate children s images of picturing teaching multicultural education in the curriculum and the politics of curriculum reforms The authors including Laurie Brady Margaret Clark Gustavo Fischman Sydney Grant Talmadge Guy Ian Macpherson Cynthia Nance Jacob Perrenet John Schell William Schubert Margaret Secombe Edmund Short Jerzy Smolicz Jan Terwel and Joseph Zajda present a rich tapestry of curriculum theorising and practice in schools in different parts of the world

Teaching Children and Adolescents with Special Needs Judy L. Olson, Jennifer M. Platt, 1992 With collaboration so vital to today s educational arena this thorough well organized highly readable text concentrates on the general process of teaching the basic how to do it to help prospective teachers of children with mild disabilities in grades 12 learn to work effectively with students other teachers and families Basing coverage on their extensive experience the authors present practical research based teaching strategies that relate to everyday occurrences in schools provide motivating experience based activities and offer numerous detailed lesson plans Their personal conversational writing style makes even complex concepts accessible while their extensive coverage gives readers a solid understanding of what works and what doesn t in both special education classrooms and inclusive settings For future teachers of elementary school students with mild disabilities and learning problems
