A Place Called Nunavut Karin Irma Margot van Dam, Kim van Dam, 2008 In 1999 Nunavut Territory was created in the Canadian Arctic The area is about 50 times as large as the Netherlands and is inhabited by a population of 30 000 85% of the population is Inuit the indigenous people in this area The central questions in this research project are what place or regional identities are being ascribed to Nunavut by different groups of people from within and from outside the region and how do these identities work In the process of the formation of the region the territorial Government of Nunavut is an important actor in producing a regional identity that is based on the cultural identity of the Inuit the Inuit Homeland This official regional identity creates a symbolic unity that is important in linking people to the region and through which the land the history and the people are united in a new territorial membership However there is no reason to assume that there is only one regional identity for Nunavut Different individuals or groups of people from within and from outside the region such as the people who live in one of the 25 communities and those who work for the multinational mining corporations or as tourist operators are also involved in the production and reproduction of identities for Nunavut They represent Nunavut for example as a place to live a resource region a wilderness or as a sustainable place Nunavut Government also links these alternative identities to the area because as a government they are not only interested in protecting Inuit culture but also aim to modernize the economy in order to enhance prosperity and well being As such the place identities are hybrid and identities that before were produced only by external actors are now also being produced by internal actors and vice versa

Inuit Stories of Being and Rebirth Bernard Saladin d'Anglure, 2018-11-30 Ujaraq Iqallijuq and Kupaaq were elders from the Inuit community on Igloodik Island in Nunavut The three elders among others shared with Bernard Saladin d'Anglure the narratives which make up the heart of Inuit Stories of Being and Rebirth Through their words and historical sources recorded by Franz Boas and Knud Rasmussen Saladin d'Anglure examines the Inuit notion of personhood and its relationship to cosmology and mythology Central to these stories are womb memories narratives of birth and reincarnation and the concept of the third sex an intermediate identity between male and female As explained through first person accounts and traditional legends myths and folk tales the presence of transgender individuals informs Inuit relationships to one another and to the world at large transcending the dualities of male and female human and animal human and spirit This new English edition includes the 2006 preface by Claude Lévi Strauss and an afterword by Bernard Saladin d'Anglure
