The Life and Letters of Benjamin Jowett, M. A. Master of Balliol College, Oxford, by Evelyn Abbott and Lewis Campbell Evelyn Abbott, 1897 What Are You Living For? Pat Williams, Jim Denney, 2011-08-31

After speaking on teaching and influencing young people at a student gathering in Texas, Pat Williams received an email from a high school coach who had heard his talk. Coach McCall's email stated that every kid who's growing up is dying to live his life. But as people get older instead of dying to live they start living to die. His closing thought is: What are you dying for? Unable to escape this question, Pat invites readers to ask themselves: When my days on earth are over, will I discover that I have wasted my life on meaningless things that have no lasting and eternal value? Most people are living for four things: fortune, status, power, or pleasure. But there are four far more meaningful and satisfying reasons for living and for dying. These give purpose and value to our lives so that we can know our lives have eternal significance. If you died tomorrow, what would people say? Starting with Jesus's statement that whoever wants to save his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life for the gospel will save it, Pat gives a powerful, practical, and encouraging plan for how to live a life that truly matters and to leave a legacy that never dies.

The Thirteenth Tale Diane Setterfield, 2007 The Red Chill Sandman, 2009-12-31 The book is based on a little Maine town that never has anything happen. The book is made to keep you guessing right till the end and will get you thinking in many different ways. The main character, Dannie, falls in love with a man and she has dreams that are bugging her until she finds they are a calling from God to save the little town and its people. Lots of thrills and chills will make you sad, happy, angry. The book was fun to write and even made me want to read it more than once.
