Impure Cinema Lúcia Nagib, Anne Jerslev, 2013-10-24 Impure Cinema goes back to Bazin s original title precisely for its defence of impurity applying it on the one hand to cinema's interbreeding with other arts and on the other to its ability to convey and promote cultural diversity. In contemporary progressive film criticism, ideas of purity, essence, and origin have been superseded by favourable approaches to hybridization, transnationalism, multiculturalism, and cross fertilizations of all sorts. Impure Cinema builds on this idea in novel and exciting ways as it draws on cinema's combination of intermedial and intercultural aspects as a means to bridge the divide between studies of aesthetics and culture. Film is revealed here as the location par excellence of media encounters, mutual questioning, and self dissolution into post medium experiments. Most importantly, the book argues film's intermedial relations can only be properly understood if their cultural determinants are taken into account. Scholars and students of film, cinefiles, and students of the arts will discover here unexpected connections across many artistic practices.

Best Jewish Writing 2002 Michael Lerner, 2002-07-29 In this much anticipated annual volume, respected intellectual and spiritual leader Michael Lerner has collected the greatest Jewish writing of the past year. A review in the Los Angeles Times said of Lerner's first volume, clearly an auspicious beginning. This new collection lives up to the promise of the first and includes poetry, fiction, and essays that highlight universal themes of healing, transformation, spirituality, politics, and cultural identity. No other book explores the challenges of contemporary Jewish life in a global postmodern culture through all types of artistic writing. This 2002 volume reflects the diversity of thought, opinion, and sensibility among Jews worldwide, including Susannah Heschel, Arthur Waskow, Wendy Wasserstein, Jonathan Rosen, Letty Pogrebin, Chaim Potok, Philip Levine, and Adrienne Rich. A special section includes a variety of articulate Jewish responses to the September 11 terrorist attacks.

Utopia and Terror in Contemporary American Fiction Judie Newman, 2014-07-17 This book examines the quest for failure of Utopia across a range of contemporary American transnational fictions in relation to terror and globalization through authors such as Susan Choi, Andr Dubus, Dalia Sofer, and John Updike. While recent critical thinkers have reengaged with Utopia, the possibility of terror, whether state or non state, external or homegrown, shadows Utopian imaginings. Terror and Utopia are linked in fiction through the exploration of the commodification of affect, a phenomenon of a globalized world in which feelings are managed, homogenized across cultures, exaggerated or expunged according to a dominant model. Narrative approaches to the terrorist offer a means to investigate the ways in which fiction can resist commodification of affect and maintain a reasoned but imaginative vision of possibilities for human community. Newman explores topics such as the first American bestseller with a Muslim protagonist, the links between writer and terrorist, the work of Iranian Jewish Americans, and the relation of race and religion to Utopian thought.
