Plunging Through The Clouds Constructive Living Currents:

Plunging Through the Clouds David K. Reynolds, 1993-01-26 Constructive Living brings together two psychotherapies Morita and Naikan and their associated lifeways Both therapies were developed in this century but their roots extend back hundreds of years in East Asian history Morita was a professor of psychiatry at Jikei University School of Medicine in Tokyo Yoshimoto was a successful businessman who retired to become a lay priest in Nara Morita's method has its origins in Zen Buddhist psychology and Yoshimoto's Naikan has its origins in Jodo Shinshu Buddhist psychology Neither of these systems requires that one believe in Buddhism or have faith in anything other than one's experience They work as well for Christians and Moslems and Jews as for Buddhists Both are built on the naturalistic observations of humans and careful introspection of their founders Constructive Living isn't mystical or oriental but practical and human Naikan Gregg Krech, 2010-09

Rooted in Japanese tradition Naikan nye Kahn is a structured method for intensely meditating on our lives our interconnections our missteps Through Naikan we develop a natural and profound sense of gratitude for blessings bestowed on us by others blessings that were always there but went unnoticed This collection of introductory essays parables and inspirations explains what Naikan is and how it can be applied to life and celebrations throughout the year A Study of the Thematic Apperception Test (TAT) with Japanese Subjects Jennifer L. Gray, 1999 The purpose of the study was to identify common themes on the Thematic Apperception Test TAT for Japanese subjects In addition Japanese TAT themes were compared with American TAT themes Stein 1981 for any significant differences It was hypothesized that significant differences in narrative themes would exist between Japanese and American subjects The subjects included sixty male and female college students attending courses in Tokyo Japan Subjects were enrolled in college courses during the administration of the test and ranged in age from 18 to 27 years of age All the participants were fluent in English allowing them to make responses in that language therefore eliminating the errors inherent in translation Japanese subjects were then compared with Morris I Stein's original study of eighty American males conducted in 1981 Ten of the original Murray TAT cards were used 1 2 3BM 4 6BM 7GF 8BM 10 11 and 14 Japanese narratives were then scored using five variables for each of the ten cards hero gender the incidence of death need for achievement dominant emotional tone and the outcome of the story In conclusion common TAT themes for Japanese subjects were identified for all ten of the cards that were administered Cards 1 2 4 8BM 10 11 and 14 shared many of the same themes for Japanese and American subjects On the other hand cards 3BM 6BM and 7GF varied in theme content for Japanese and American subjects These findings will help determine the validity and reliability of the TAT as an assessment tool for Japanese subjects and open the door for future studies of Asian populations in the United States as this population is underrepresented in much of the research and literature of today New World

Psychology Lauren B. Alloy, Neil S. Jacobson, Joan Ross Acocella, 1999 Presents current perspectives and research on all psychological disorders This edition of the text features discussion on antisocial personality disorder rape and domestic violence A Groups at risk section highlights differences in prevalence by gender race and socioeconomic status Japanese Understanding of Salvation Martin Heißwolf, 2018-02-14 It is no secret that Christianity has been widely rejected in Japan with less than two percent of the population identifying as Christian The dominant worldview in Japan is deeply animistic with beliefs such as the Japanese mana concept ki the Japanese soul concept and the concept of God god's kami being deeply rooted in the culture and fundamentally influencing society Dr Martin Heißwolf with his years of experience in Japan critically examines Japanese animism in light of core Christian beliefs such as the concepts of peace and salvation Central to Japanese people's rejection of Christian truth is the diametric opposition of its supernatural message to the natural focus of Japanese animistic folk religion Hei wolf s meticulous study is framed squarely within missiological thought and praxis so Christians serving in Japanese contexts are better able to communicate the message of the gospel by more fully understanding Japanese people people by whom God wants to be known Theories of Psychotherapy and Counseling Richard S.
