Martinsen, 1997 Given the restrictions on political action and even political discussion in Russia Russian literary journals have served as the principal means by which Russia discovered defined and shaped itself Every issue of importance for literate Russians social economic literary made its appearance in one way or another on the pages of these journals and virtually every major Russian novel of the nineteenth century was first published there in serial form Literary Journals in Imperial Russia a collection of essays by leading scholars originally published in 1998 was the first work to examine the extraordinary history of these journals in imperial Russia The major social forces and issues that shaped literary journals during the period are analysed detailed accounts are provided of individual journals and journalists and descriptions are offered of the factors that contributed to their success      Alexander Solzhenitsyn: Cold War Icon, Gulag Author, Russian Nationalist? Elisa Kriza, 2014-10-01      Tolstoy's Art and Thought, 1847-1880 Donna Tussing Orwin, 2013-05-16 My aim is to present Tolstoy s work as he may have understood it himself writes Donna Orwin Reconstructing the intellectual and psychic struggles behind the masterpieces of his early and middle age this major study covers the period during which he wrote The Cossacks War and Peace and Anna Karenina Orwin uses the tools of biography intellectual and literary history and textual analysis to explain how Tolstoy s tormented search for moral certainty unfolded creating fundamental differences among the great novels of the pre crisis period Distinguished by its historical emphasis this book demonstrates that the great novelist who had once seen a fundamental harmony between human conscience and nature s vitality began eventually to believe in a dangerous rift between the two during the years discussed here Tolstoy moved gradually from a celebration of life to instruction about its moral dimensions Paying special attention to Tolstoy's reading of Rousseau Goethe Schopenhauer and the Russian thinker N N Strakhov Orwin also explores numerous other influences on his thought In so doing she shows how his philosophical and emotional conflicts changed form but continued unabated until with his religious conversion of 1880 he surrendered his long attempt to make sense of life through art alone A Karenina Companion C.J.G. Turner,2010-10-30 Although Anna Karenina has been described as the European novel by Frank Leavis the geographical setting of the novel and increasingly its temporal and cultural setting render it a foreign novel to most readers A Karenina Companion offers a wealth of information including a great deal that has previously not been available in English for the scholarly and literary appreciation of this great novel Chapter 1 is a biographical introduction and Chapter 2 an examination of the way in which the novel was composed In Chapter 3 the author brings together Tolstoy's own substantial comments on his work Chapter 4 adduces the main differences between the latest edition of the text and what has been the standard edition for over 50 years Chapter 5 outlines what Tolstoy was reading as he was writing the novel The final chapter provides a survey of significant secondary literature with English language works listed in appendices A Karenina Companion will facilitate both the reading and understanding of the novel by English speakers and the writing of informed and reliable critical appreciations Understanding Chekhov Donald Rayfield,1999 Of all Russian writers Chekhov is one of the best liked and most easily appreciated Yet he is also one of the most elusive Here Donald Rayfield reveals the layers of meaning on which the great dramatist's stories and plays are built He examines his brief twenty year creative life from medical student supplementing his income by writing comic stories to his rapid rise as the father of twentieth century drama and narrative prose Understanding Chekhov is enriched by revelations from previously unexplored archival material which deepen our understanding of Chekhov's sources preoccupations philosophy and his relations with theater with fellow writers and with contemporary ideas The Supernatural in Slavic and Baltic Literature Amy Mandelker,Roberta Reeder,1988 Mikhail Bulgakov Edythe C. Haber,1998 A foremost Russian writer of the Soviet period Bulgakov 1891-1940 has attracted much critical attention yet Haber is the first to explore in depth his formative years Blending biography and literary analysis of motifs story and characterization Haber tracks one writer's answer to the dislocations of revolution civil war and Bolshevism Folk Horror Dawn Keetley,Ruth Heholt,2023-04-15 While the undisputed heyday of folk horror was Britain in the 1960s and 1970s the genre has not only a rich cinematic and literary prehistory but directors and novelists around the world have also been reinventing folk horror for the contemporary moment This study sets out to rethink the assumptions that have guided critical writing on the genre in the face of such expansions with chapters exploring a range of subjects from the fiction of E F Benson to Scooby Doo video games and community engagement with the Lancashire witches In looking beyond Britain the essays collected here extend folk horror's geographic terrain to map new conceptualisations of the genre now seen emerging from Italy Ukraine Thailand Mexico and the Appalachian region of the US Nineteenth-century Russian Literature in English
