Joel Andreas,2019-08-01 In the decades following World War II factories in many countries not only provided secure employment and a range of economic entitlements but also recognized workers as legitimate stakeholders enabling them to claim rights to participate in decision making and hold factory leaders accountable In recent decades as employment has become more precarious these attributes of industrial citizenship have been eroded and workers have increasingly been reduced to hired hands As Joel Andreas shows in Disenfranchised no country has experienced these changes as dramatically as China Drawing on a decade of field research including interviews with both factory workers and managers Andreas traces the changing political status of workers inside Chinese factories from 1949 to the present carefully analyzing how much
