The Songs of a Sentimental Bloke Clarence James Dennis, 1915 The Sentimental Bloke and Other Selected Verse Clarence James Dennis, 1970 The Songs of a Sentimental Bloke Clarence James Dennis, 2004-06 But struth the wimmin Ow they love this frill Fer Auntie Liz an Mar o course wus there An Mar s two uncles wives an Cousin Lil An arf a dozen more to grin and stare I couldn t make me ands fit anywhere I felt like I wus up afore the Beak But my Doreen she never turns a air Nor misses once when it s er turn to speak The Sentimental Bloke Clarence James Dennis, 1932 The Songs of a Sentimental Bloke (Classic Reprint) C. J. Dennis, 2015-07-19 Excerpt from The Songs of a Sentimental Bloke Nearly a year ago Henry Lawson wrote in his preface to the first edition of these rhymes I think a man can best write a preface to his own book provided he knows it is good Now and at the end of some twelve months of rather bewildering success I have to confess that I do not know But I do know that it is popular and to write a preface to the fifty first thousand of ones own book is rather a pleasant task for it is good for a writer to know that his work has found appreciation in his own land and even beyond But far more gratifying than any mere record of sales is the knowledge that has come to me of the universal kindliness of my fellows The reviews that have appeared in the Australasian and British press the letters that have reached me from many places setting aside the compliments and the praise have proved the existence of a widespread sympathy that I had never suspected It has strengthened a waning faith in the human kindness of my brothers so that indeed I have gained far more than I have given and my thanks are due twofold to those whose thanks I have received About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works The Songs of a Sentimental Bloke Clarence James Dennis, 1931 The Songs of a Sentimental Bloke C. J. Dennis, 1981 The Poetry of Les Murray Laurie Hergenhan, Bruce Clunies Ross, 2001 Les Murray is acknowledged as Australia s leading poet the one with the most substantial world recognition Yet the criticism on his work has until now been commensurate with this reputation both in bulk and quality This ground breaking collection of essays ranges across Murray s considerable output examining its lyrical qualities and its remarkable linguistic inventiveness its landscapes and soundscapes its biographical qualities its underlying poetics and world view from the mid length poems to the culminating verse Fredy Neptune Impressive in their depth as well as their coverage these original essays reveal the riches of the poetry Contributors include outstanding Murray scholars new and well known from overseas as well as Australia Those interested in Australian and world poetry teachers students general readers and historians will find this volume an indispensable companion The

Sentimental Bloke C. J. Dennis, 2022-02 The Sentimental Bloke tells the story of Bill a member of a larrikin push or gang in Melbourne's Little Lonsdale red light district who encounters Doreen a young woman of some social aspiration in a local market Narrated by Bill the poems chronicle their courtship and marriage detailing his transformation from a violence prone gang

The Two Frank Thrings Peter Fitzpatrick, 2012-08-01 They shared a name of course and their physical resemblance was startling And both Frank Thrings were huge figures in the landscape of twentieth century Australian theatre and film But in many ways they could hardly have been more different Frank Thring the father 1882 1936 began his career as a sideshow conjuror and he wheeled dealed and occasionally married his way into becoming the legendary F T impresario speculator and owner of Efftee Films Australia's first talkies studio He built for himself an image of grand patriarchal respectability a sizeable fortune and all the makings of a dynasty Frank Thring the son 1926 1994 squandered the fortune and derailed the dynasty in the course of creating his own persona a unique presence that could make most stages and foyers seem small He won fame playing tyrants in togas in Hollywood blockbusters then suddenly came home to Melbourne to play perhaps his finest role that of Frank Thring actor and personality extraordinaire Central to this role was that Frank the son was unapologetically and outrageously gay Peter Fitzpatrick's compelling dual biography tells the story of two remarkable characters It's a kind of detective story following the tracks of two men who did all they could to cover their tracks and to conceal the self Frank the father used secrecy and sleight of hand as strategies for self protection Frank the son masked a thoroughly reclusive personality with flamboyant self parody It's also the tale of a lost relationship and of the power a father may have had even over a son who hardly knew him
