Goldin, 2005-01-31 The Hawai i Reader in Traditional Chinese Culture is a collection of more than ninety primary sources all but a few of which were translated specifically for this volume of cultural significance from the Bronze Age to the turn of the twentieth century They take into account virtually every aspect of traditional culture including sources from the non Sinitic ethnic minorities

Negotiating Identity Ethan Christofferson, 2012-09-13 Negotiating Identity addresses the missiological problem of why the Hakka Chinese Christian community in Taiwan is so small despite evangelistic efforts there for more than 140 years Christofferson explores the tensions between being Hakka and being Christian in northwestern Taiwan and discusses what both Hakka non Christians and Christians are doing and saying in the context of these tensions This ethnographic study uses the lens of social constructionism and consequently offers an example of how social science scholarship can help missionaries and other Christian workers to gain significant insights into the thoughts feelings and actions of those living in their ministry locations Of interest is Christofferson s conclusion that the missiological perspective which puts a primary focus on ministering to a people group is inadequate for explaining and engaging the complexities encountered in many ministry settings He suggests that an awareness of the way people are negotiating their identities can help Christian workers to better understand and strategically engage people in a variety of ministry contexts throughout the world

Songs of Gold Mountain Marlon K. Hom, 1992-11-27 Marlon Hom has selected and translated 220 rhymes from two collections of Chinatown songs published in 1911 and 1915 The songs are outspoken and personal addressing subjects as diverse as sex frustrations with the American bureaucracy poverty and alienation and the loose morals of the younger generation of Americans Hom has arranged the songs thematically and gives an overview of early Chinese American literature

Wanton Women in Late-Imperial Chinese Literature , 2017-04-18 The contributors to Wanton Women in Late Imperial Chinese Literature Models Genres Subversions and Traditions draw attention to wanton woman themes across time as they were portrayed in court history McMahon fiction Stevenson drama Lam Wu and songs and ballads ki Epstein McLaren Looking back the essays challenge us with views of sexual transgression that are more heterogeneous than modern popular focus on Pan Jinlian would suggest Central among the many insights to be found is that despite gender performance in Chinese history being overwhelmingly determined by the needs of patriarchal authority men and women in the late imperial period discovered diverse ways in which to reflect on how men constantly sought their own bearings in reference to women
