Mouth To Mouth Poems By Twelve Contemporary Mexican Women:

Mouth to mouth : poems by twelve contemporary mexican women ,1993 Mouth to Mouth Forrest Gander,1993 Poems by 12 contemporary Mexican authors including Carmen Boullosa Elsa Cross Kyra Galvan and Monica Mansour The Boom Femenino in Mexico Nuala Finnegan,Jane E. Lavery,2010-04-16 The Boom Femenino in Mexico Reading Contemporary Women s Writing is a collection of essays that focuses on literary production by women in Mexico over the last three decades In its exploration of the boom femenino phenomenon the book traces the history of the earlier boom in Latin American culture and investigates the implications of the use of the same term in the context of contemporary women s writing from Mexico In this way it engages critically with the cultural historical and literary significance of the term illuminating the concept for a wide range of readers It is clear that the entry of so many women writers into an arena traditionally reserved for men has prompted discussion around concepts such as women s writing and the very definition of literature itself Many of the contributors grapple with the theoretical tensions that such debates provoke offering an important opportunity to think critically about the texts produced during this period and the ways in which they have impacted on the Mexican and international cultural spheres The project is comprehensive in its scope and for the first time brings together scholars from Mexico the U S and Europe in a transnational forum The book posits that despite certain aesthetic and thematic commonalities the increased output by women writers in Mexico cannot be appraised as a unified literary movement Instead it embraces a wide range of different generic forms and the subjects under study in the essays in the book include the best selling work of Angeles Mastretta Elena Poniatowska and Laura Esquivel as well as the social and political preoccupations of journalists Rosanna Reguillo and Cristina Pacheco Contributors offer readings of the aesthetic visions of writers as diverse as Carmen Boullosa Ana Garc a Bergua and Eve Gil while other essays examine the nuances of contemporary gender identity in the work of Ana Clavel Sabina Berman Brianda Domecq and Mar a Luisa Puga There are essays devoted to poetry by indigenous Mayan women and an analysis of the complex place of poetry within the broader framework of literary production The problems that emerge as a result of literary cataloguing based on gender politics are also considered at length in a number of essays that take a panoramic view of literary production over the period Various critical approaches are employed throughout and the collection as a whole demonstrates that academic interest in Mexican women s writing of the boom femenino is thriving Above all the essays here provide a space in which the location of women within prevailing cultural paradigms in Mexico and their role in the mapping of power in evolving textual canons may be interrogated It is clear from the collection that interest in such issues is still alive and that the debate is far from over

Contemporary Hispanic Poets: Cultural Production in the Global, Digital Age - Student Edition John Burns,2015-07-30 Note this is an abridged version of the book with references removed The complete edition is also available on this website Poets writing in Spanish by the end of the twentieth century had to contend with globalization as a backdrop for their literary production They could embrace it ignore it or potentially re imagine the role of the poet altogether This book examines some of the efforts of Spanish language poets to cope with the globalizing cultural economy of the late twentieth century This study looks at the similarities and differences in both text and context of poets some major and some minor writing in Chile Mexico the Mexican American community and Spain These poets write in a variety of styles from highly experimental approaches to poetry to more traditional methods of writing Included in this study are Chileans Raúl Zurita and Cecilia Vicuña Spaniards Leopoldo María Panero and Luis García Montero Mexicans Silvia Tomasa Rivera and Guillermo Gómez-Peña and Mexican American Juan Felipe Herrera Some of them embrace and are even embraced by media both old and new whereas others eschew it Some continue their work in the vein of national traditions while others become difficult to situate within any one single national tradition Exploring the varieties of strategies these writers employ this book makes it clear that Spanish language poets have not been exempt from the process of globalization Individually these poets have been studied to varying degrees Globalization has been studied extensively from a variety of disciplinary approaches particularly in the context of the Latin American region and Spain However it is a relative rarity to see poets being studied as they are in this work in terms of their relationship to globalization Taken as a sample or snapshot of writing tendencies in Latin American and Spanish poetry of the late twentieth century this book studies them as part of a greater circuit of cultural production by establishing their literary as well as extra literary genealogies and connections It situates these poets in terms of their writing itself as well as in terms of their literary traditions their methods of contending with neoliberal economic models and global information flows from the television and Internet Although many literary critics attempt to study the connections and relationships between poetry and the world beyond the page few monographs go about it the way this one does It takes a transatlantic approach to contemporary Spanish language poetry focusing on poets from Spain and the American continent emphasizing their connections commonalities and differences across increasingly porous borders in the age of information The relationship between text and context is explored with a cultural studies approach more often associated with media studies than with literary studies Literature is not treated as a privileged object of isolated study but rather as a system of ideas and images that is deeply interwoven with other forms of human expression that have arisen in the last decades of the twentieth century The result is a suggestive analysis of the figure of the poet in the broader globalized marketplace of cultural goods and ideas
