Ottoman Canon and the Construction of Arabic and Turkish Literatures C. Ceyhun Arslan, 2024-03-05 The Ottoman Canon and the Construction of Arabic and Turkish Literatures fleshes out the Ottoman canon s multilingual character to call for a literary history that can reassess and even move beyond categories that many critics take for granted such as classical Arabic literature and Ottoman literature It gives a historically contextualised close reading of works from authors who have been studied as pioneers of Arabic and Turkish literatures such as Ziya Pasha Jurji Zaydan Ma ruf al Rusafi and Ahmet Hamdi Tanpinar The Ottoman Canon analyses how these authors prepared the arguments and concepts that shape how we study Arabic and Turkish literatures today as they reassessed the relationship among the Ottoman canon s linguistic traditions Furthermore The Ottoman Canon examines the Ottoman reception of pre Ottoman poets such as Kab ibn Zuhayr hence opening up new research avenues for Arabic literature Ottoman studies and comparative literature The Undergraduate's Companion to Arab Writers and Their Web Sites Dona S. Straley, 2004-08-30 This companion provides information on the lives and works of about 150 authors who write primarily in Arabic covering the first known works of Arabic literature in the 5th and 6th centuries A D to the present day While concentrating on literary authors writers from the fields of history geography and philosophy are also represented The individuals represented were chosen primarily from the Encyclopedia of Arabic Literature Among the major authors are Najib Mahfuz the 1988 Nobel laureate Nawal Saadawi the Egyptian physician who is the leading female literary author in the Arab world and the most frequently translated into English Abu al Ala al Ma arri the 11th century poet whose verses are taught to every Arab schoolchild and Avicenna the great physician and philosopher transmitter and interpreter of Aristotle whose work on medicine was long the standard not only in the Middle East but also in Latin translation in Europe In addition entries will be included for the anonymous romances so common in Arabic literature such as The Arabian Nights a cycle of stories perhaps even better known in the West than in the Arab world Interest in the history and culture of the Arab world at U S universities has taken a quantum leap since the events of September 11 2001 In this book the author demonstrates that at least three major distinct literary and cultural traditions are included within the fields of Middle Eastern and Islamic studies Arabic Persian and Turkic The Arabic tradition is the oldest largest and most widely dispersed Undergraduate courses in Arabic literature and culture are now being taught at both lower and upper levels at many universities Such courses are often used by undergraduates to fulfill basic educational requirements for their degrees Students in such courses often have difficulty finding information on Arab writers and this volume fills the void

The Arabic Literary Heritage Roger Allen,2005-10-17 Roger Allen here offers an account of the cultural tradition of literary texts in Arabic from their unknown beginnings in the fifth century AD to the present day Allen s organising principle is not that of traditional literary histories but is rather based on an account of the major genres of Arabic literature After introductory chapters on principles and contexts there are chapters devoted to the Qur an as literature poetry belletristic prose drama and criticism Within each chapter the emphasis is on the texts themselves and those who created and commented on them but Allen also demonstrates his awareness of recent Western theoretical and critical approaches The volume as a whole which contains extensive quotations in English translation a chronology and a guide to further reading makes a major non Western literary tradition newly accessible to students and scholars of the West

The Thousand and One Nights and Twentieth-Century Fiction Richard van Leeuwen,2018-07-17 It is gradually being acknowledged that the Arabic story collection Thousand and One Nights has had a major influence on European and world literature This study analyses the influence of Thousand and One Nights as an intertextual model on 20th century prose from all over the world Works of approximately forty authors are examined those who were crucial to the development of the main currents in 20th century fiction such as modernism magical realism and post modernism The book contains six thematic sections divided into chapters discussing two or three authors works each from a narratological perspective and supplemented by references to the cultural and literary context It is shown how Thousand and One Nights became deeply rooted in modern world literature especially in phases of renewal and experiment The Oxford Handbook of Arab Novelistic Traditions Wail S. Hassan,2017-08-01 The Oxford Handbook of Arab Novelistic Traditions is the most comprehensive treatment of the subject to date In scope the book encompasses the genesis of the Arabic novel in the second half of the nineteenth century and its development to the present in every Arabic speaking country and in Arab immigrant destinations on six continents Editor Wa l S Hassan and his contributors describe a novelistic phenomenon which has pre modern roots stretching centuries back within the Arabic cultural tradition and branching outward geographically and linguistically to every Arab country and to Arab writing in many languages around the world The first of three innovative dimensions of this Handbook consists of examining the ways in which the Arabic novel emerged out of a syncretic merger between Arabic and European forms and techniques rather than being a simple importation of the latter and rejection of the former as early critics of the Arabic novel claimed The second involves mapping the novel geographically as it took root in every Arab country developing into often distinct though overlapping and interconnected local traditions Finally the Handbook concerns the multilingual character of the novel in the Arab world and by Arab immigrants and their descendants around the world both in Arabic and in at least a dozen other languages The Oxford Handbook of Arab Novelistic Traditions reflects the current status of research in the broad field of Arab novelistic traditions and signals toward new directions of inquiry The Theatre of Sa'dallah Wannous Sonja Mejcher-Atassi,Robert Myers,2021-05-27 The Theatre of Sa dallah Wannous is the first book in English to provide a clear sense of the significance and complexity of Wannous life and work It is unique in bringing cross disciplinary scholarship on Wannous together and aligning it with cultural practice and memory by including contributions from leading academics as well as renowned cultural figures from the Arab world This volume should be of interest to literary and theatre studies scholars cultural historians theatre practitioners and anyone who cares about contemporary theatre Syria and the Arab world Collectively the contributions demonstrate the role of cultural production especially dramatic literature in providing a portrait of and shaping a culture in the throes of profound transformation theatre and Islam Drawing on both historical and recent examples to trace their relationship and offer a new perspective on a topical subject this persuasive text argues against a long standing assumption that Islam has worked in opposition to theatrical presentation From the 13th century puppet plays of Ibn Daniyal to Islamic themes in 21st century productions Theatre and Islam is chronologically wide ranging and ambitious in its scope Ambitious yet concise this is the perfect introduction for undergraduate and postgraduate students of religious studies Islamic studies Middle Eastern studies and drama
