Henriette Michaelis

Ploughing The Seas:

El Libertador Simón Bolívar, 2003 General Simón Bolívar 1783-1830 called El Libertador and sometimes the George Washington of Latin America was the leading hero of the Latin American independence movement. His victories over Spain won independence for Bolivia, Panama, Colombia, Ecuador, Peru, and Venezuela. Bolívar became Colombia's first president in 1819. In 1822, he became dictator of Peru. Upper Peru became a separate state which was named Bolivia in Bolívar's honor in 1825. The constitution which he drew up for Bolivia is one of his most important political pronouncements. Today he is remembered throughout South America, and in Venezuela and Bolivia, his birthday is a national holiday. Although Bolívar never prepared a systematic treatise, his essays, proclamations, and letters constitute some of the most eloquent writing not of the independence period alone but of any period in Latin American history. His analysis of the region's fundamental problems, ideas on political organization, and proposals for Latin American integration are relevant and widely read today even among Latin Americans of all countries and of all political persuasions. The Cartagena Letter, the Jamaica Letter, and the Angostura Address are widely cited and reprinted. Harper's Weekly John Bonner, George William Curtis, Henry Mills Alden, Samuel Stillman Conant, Montgomery Schuyler, John Foord, Richard Harding Davis, Carl Schurz, Henry Loomis Nelson, John Kendrick Bangs, George Brinton McClellan Harvey, Norman Hapgood, 1909. For centuries the Dutch landscape and her inhabitants have been connected to the water, sometimes lovingly, sometimes full of fear, and often with awe. This is also reflected in the theme of this doctoral research: late medieval storm surges of the Zuiderzee on the one hand caused the loss of land and settlements in the heart of the Netherlands, while on the other hand these floods created new maritime trade routes that would eventually bring great wealth. The current research focuses more specifically on reconstructing the development of the landscape and habitation in the northeastern part of the Zuiderzee, the current Noordoostpolder, between approximately 1100 and 1400 AD. The research shows that in less than 500 years the research area transformed from unexplored and uninhabited peat areas with lakes into open sea, removing virtually all remnants of land reclamation, cultivation, and habitation.
