The Devil's Cookbook Sue Owen,2007-03-01 In the dark poetry of her newest collection Sue Owen reflects on the devil s dreams the hammering of the last nail in a coffin and the brilliant death of a shooting star Owen turns proverbial sayings in Getting to the Point Until Hell Freezes Over or If the Other Shoe Drops into fully developed parables that examine and elaborate upon the assumptions we all make This is a cookbook with recipes that instruct where hell becomes a kitchen of wisdom and insight The heat in these poems reminds us of the evil in our contemporary lives and challenges us to look straight at it without fear

The Crooked Inheritance Marge Piercy,2013-08-28 An exquisite spot on The Hudson Review collection of poems from one of our best loved and best selling poets that is both personal with poetry about love nature and reflections on the stages of life and political ranging from the war in Iraq and Katrina to concerns such as women s rights and the poet s childhood in Detroit

The Poetry of Paul Muldoon Jefferson Holdridge,2008-08-01 The Poetry of Paul Muldoon introduces the student and general reader to the critical discussion surrounding Muldoon s oeuvre as well as to his major themes It examines the poet s meditations on culture and nature human and animal speculations on the act of perception figures fragmented by the Troubles and philosophical considerations of colonisation It then discusses what rank among the most beautiful and intricate elegies of our time For Muldoon art s complicity in suffering is a political self indicting question which his best poems endeavour to answer If sometimes this Pulitzer Prize winner insists that art has a positive role to play at other times he fears that it merely feeds off the carnage This critical book shows how for Muldoon art should not merely repeat the devastation of the world although he is afraid that it does and engages in bitter moral despair that places his work among the very best any contemporary poet has written The Poetry of Paul Muldoon unearths difficult questions of form with a metaphysical significance that is suitable to our times

Negotiating Governance on Non-Traditional Security in Southeast Asia and Beyond Mely Caballero-Anthony,2018-12-18 The threats the world currently faces extend beyond traditional problems such as major power competition interstate conflict and nuclear proliferation Non traditional security challenges such as climate change migration and natural disasters surpass states capacity to address them These limitations have led to the proliferation of other actors regional and international organizations transnational networks local and international nongovernmental organizations that fill the gaps when states responses are lacking and provide security in places where there is none In this book Mely Caballero Anthony examines how non traditional security challenges have changed state behavior and security practices in Southeast Asia and the wider East Asia region Referencing the wide range of transborder security threats confronting Asia today she analyzes how non state actors are taking on the roles of security governors engaging with states regional organizations and institutional frameworks to address multifaceted problems From controlling the spread of pandemics and transboundary pollution to managing irregular migration and providing relief and assistance during humanitarian crises Caballero Anthony explains how and why non state actors have become crucial across multiple levels local national and regional and how they are challenging regional norms and reshaping security governance Combining theoretical discussions on securitization and governance with a detailed and policy oriented analysis of important recent developments Negotiating Governance on Non Traditional Security in Southeast Asia and Beyond points us toward state plus governance where a multiplicity of actors form the building blocks for multilateral cooperative security processes to meet future global challenges

Fergusson,2011-01-01 Since the mid 1950s successive Canadian governments have responded to US ballistic missile defence

initiatives with fear and uncertainty Officials have endlessly debated the implications at home and abroad of participation Drawing on previously classified government documents and interviews with senior officials James Fergusson offers the first full account of Canada's unsure response to US initiatives He reveals that factors such as weak leadership and a tendency to place uncertain and ill defined notions of international peace and security before national defence have resulted in indecision In the end policy makers have failed to transform the ballistic missile defence issue into an opportunity to define Canada's strategic interests at home and on the world stage Vodou in Haitian Memory Celucien L.
