Plume Of The Arawas:

Plume of the Arawas Frank Oswald Victor Acheson, 1938 Fear and Temptation Terry Goldie, 1993 Goldie skillfully reveals the ambivalence of white writers to indigenous culture through an examination of the stereotyping involved in the creation of the image of the Other The treacherous redskin and the Indian maiden embodiments of violence and sex also evoke emotional signs of fear and temptation of white repulsion from and attraction to the indigene and the land Goldie suggests that white culture deeply attracted to the impossible idea of becoming indigenous either rejects native land claims and denies recognition of the original indigenes or incorporates these claims into white assertions of native status After comparing the works of Canadian author Rudy Wiebe and Australian author Patrick White Goldie concludes by linking the results of his literary analysis to wider cultural concerns particularly land rights He shows that literary views of natives both positive and negative emphasize the same characteristics and he suggests that escape from this limited vision may open the door to solving the problems of native sovereignty Buying the Land, Selling the Land Richard Boast, 2008 Studying Crown Maori land policy and practice in the period 1869 1929 from the establishment of the Native Land Court power until the cessation of large scale Crown purchasing by Gordon Coates this investigation chronicles the bleak and grim tidal wave of Crown purchasing that dominated the Maori people under very difficult circumstances While recognizing that the government purchasing of Maori land was in its own way driven by genuine if blinkered idealism this work's deep research on land purchasing policy gives renewed insight on the significant politicians of the era such as Sir Donald McLean John Balance and John McKenzie who were strong advocates of expanded and state controlled land purchasing OLR Index, 1928 The Trials of Eric Moreo Charles Ferrall, Rebecca Ellis, 2002 When flamboyant musician Eric Moreo was convicted twice in 1936 of murdering his actress wife Thelma most New Zealanders believed that justice had been served But a few were not so sure including the second trial judge and the Crown's overseas medical expert Moreover the Crown's star witness the dancer Freda Stark had been having an affair with the dead woman Why did the vast majority of New Zealanders believe in Moreo's guilt when the scientific evidence was so weak and the Crown's case depended on a person who by the standards of the day would have been called a sexual pervert In the answer to this question lies an insight into the social mores of New Zealanders during the Depression and perhaps beyond The trials of Eric Moreo were a social drama that caught the conscience of a people BOOK JACKET The Oxford History of the Novel in English Patrick Parrinder, 2011 This series presents a comprehensive global and up to date history of English language prose fiction and written by a international team of scholars dust jacket Catalog of Copyright Entries. Copyright Office, 1931 [Totara Philip Simpson, 2017-06-19 The mighty totara is one of New Zealand's most extraordinary trees Among the biggest and oldest trees in the New Zealand forest the heart of Maori carving and culture trailing no 8 wire as fence posts on settler farms clambered up in the Pureora protests of the 1980s the story of New Zealand can be told through totara Simpson tells that story like nobody else could In words and pictures through waka and leaves farmers and carvers he takes us deep inside the trees their botany and evolution their role in Maori life and lore and their current status in New Zealand s environment and culture New Zealand s largest trees the kauri Tane Mahuta and the totara Pouakani are both thought to be around 1000 years old They were here before we humans were and their relatives will probably be here when we are gone This book tells a great tree s story and that is New Zealand s story too The Penguin History of New Zealand Michael King,2023-10-10 This bestselling book by the late Michael King is the unchallenged contemporary reference on the history of New Zealand First published in 2003 and hailed as a triumph of careful research wide reading and judicious assessment it has been continuously in print for 20 years and has sold over 300 000 copies It remains the definitive yet highly readable starting point for anybody wanting to understand this country New Zealand was the last country in the world to be discovered and settled by humankind It was also the first to introduce full democracy Between those events and in the century that followed the movements and conflicts of human history have been played out more intensively and more rapidly in New Zealand than anywhere else on Earth The Penguin History of New Zealand tells that story in all its colour and drama The narrative that emerges is an inclusive one about men and women M ori and P keh It shows that British motives in colonising New Zealand were essentially humane and that M ori far from being passive victims of a fatal impact coped heroically with colonisation and survived by selectively accepting and adapting what Western technology and culture had to offer Now more relevant than ever this edition includes a Foreword by Sir Tipene O Regan and a biographical essay on the author by Jock Phillips PLATINUM PREMIER NEW ZEALAND BESTSELLER READERS CHOICE AWARD 2004 MONTANA NEW ZEALAND BOOK AWARDS NIELSEN BOOKDATA NEW ZEALAND BOOKSELLERS CHOICE AWARD BEST OF THE BEST 2011 Book & Print in New Zealand Douglas Ross Harvey,K.
