Sad Paradise:

Signs of the Signs William Brevda, 2011-05-16 This book is a study of signs in American literature and culture. It is mainly about electric signs but also deals with non electric signs and related phenomena such as movie sets. The sign is considered in both the architectural and semiotic senses of the word. It is argued that the drama and spectacle of the electric sign called attention to the semiotic implications of the sign. In fiction, poetry and commentary the electric sign became a sign of manifold meanings that this book explores: a sign of the city, a sign of America, a sign of the twentieth century, a sign of modernism, a sign of postmodernism, a sign of noir, a sign of naturalism, a sign of the beats, a sign of signs systems, the Bible to Broadway, a sign of tropes, the Great White way to the neon jungle, a sign of the writers themselves, a sign of the sign itself. If Moby Dick is the great American novel then it is also the great American novel about signs as the prologue maintains. The chapters that follow demonstrate that the sign is indeed a sign of American literature. After the electric sign was invented it influenced Stephen Crane to become a nightlight impressionist and Theodore Dreiser to make the fire sign his metaphor for the city. An actual Broadway sign might have inspired F. Scott Fitzgerald's The Great Gatsby. In Manhattan Transfer and U.S.A. John Dos Passos portrayed America as just a spectacular sign. William Faulkner's electric signs are full of sound and fury signifying modernity. The Last Tycoon was a sign of Fitzgerald's decline. The signs of noir can be traced to Poe's The Man of the Crowd. Absence flickers in the neons of Raymond Chandler's Los Angeles. The death of God haunts the neon wilderness of Nelson Algren. Hitler's empire was an non intentional parody of Nathanael West's California. The beats reinvented Times Square in their own image. Jack Kerouac's search for the center of Saturday night was a quest for transcendence. Sad Paradise Britt Hagarty, 1981. Why Kerouac Matters John Leland, 2007. A lighthearted discussion of On the Road profiles Kerouac's classic work as a timeless coming of age primer in a literary study that focuses on the character of Sal Paradise and the lessons he imparts about such topics as work, sex and spirituality. Remembering World War II Refugees in Contemporary Portugal Verena Lindemann Lino, 2021-08-23. This book takes an innovative approach to the study of memories of transit and exile in Portugal between 1933 and 1945 in artistic media. Informed by contemporary debates within memory and translation studies it develops a translational perspective on transcultural memory and explores its ethical implications. This study provides an in depth analysis of Daniel Blaufuks's inter art project Sob Cus Estranhos, Domingos Amaral's novel Enquanto Salazar Dormia and Jo o Canijo's documentary Fantasia Lusitana. It examines the heterocultural networks of signification that these artistic media mobilize to implicate the presence of World War II refugees in Portugal in contemporary negotiations of communality. By approaching memory through a translational lens on culture this book also offers new perspectives on remediation, memory transfer and the ethical dimensions of remembrance in the context of transcultural memory and migration. Hitler's Jewish Refugees Marion Kaplan, 2020-01-07 An award-winning historian presents an emotional history of Jewish refugees biding their time in Portugal as they attempt to escape Nazi Europe. This riveting book describes the experience of Jewish refugees as they fled Hitler to live in limbo in Portugal until they could reach safer havens abroad. Drawing attention not only to the social and physical upheavals of refugee life, Kaplan highlights their feelings as they fled their homes and histories while begging strangers for kindness. An emotional history of fleeing, this book probes how specific locations touched refugees' inner lives, including the borders they nervously crossed or the overcrowded transatlantic ships that signaled their liberation.

Who is My Neighbor? Phillip K. Tompkins, 2015-11-17

Who Is My Neighbor is a compelling account of the author's ten-year journey as a volunteer at the St. Francis Center, a homeless shelter in Denver, Colorado. A retired Professor of Communication, Phil Tompkins marshals his considerable experience as a participant observer in recording the voices of the guests of the shelter as they teach us about their situation. We learn about their hopes for regaining a home and their fears as they are victimized; in some cases, even murdered. Tompkins shows how effective communication and organization can contribute to finding an end to homelessness and establishing a movement toward protective action, especially when a proactive local government gets involved. In addition to giving voice to homeless people, Who Is My Neighbor explores Denver Mayor John Hickenlooper's ambitious Commission to End Homelessness. This remarkable social experiment, now called Denver's Road Home, is two years into implementing an innovative plan for ending homelessness. It provides a model for other cities nationwide where persistent homelessness has defied resolution.

The Making of Buddhist Modernism David L. McMahan, 2008-11-14 In this book, David McMahan offers the first comprehensive attempt to chart the development of modern Buddhism. His position is critical but empathetic; while he presents modern Buddhism as a construction of numerous parties with varying interests, he does not reduce it to a mistake, a misrepresentation, or a fabrication. Rather, he presents modern Buddhism as a complex historical process constituted by a variety of responses, sometimes trivial, often profound, to some of the most important concerns of the modern era A Living Shakespeare Luke William, 2022-04-21 At the heart of A Living Shakespeare is the belief that contemporary poetry can bring us into an encounter with Shakespeare that has new and genuine vitality Shakespeare himself predicted that language would change and his poems would lose their modernity but asked that we continue to read them not for their style but for their love Luke William's poems coupled here with Shakespeare's breathe life into the sonnets and awaken fresh desire to become truly intimate with these works of art Composing for the State Esteban Buch, Igor Contreras Zubillaga, Manuel Deniz Silva, 2016-01-27 Under the dictatorships of the twentieth century music never ceased to sound Even when they did not impose aesthetic standards these regimes tended to favour certain kinds of art music such as occasional works for commemorations or celebrations symphonic poems cantatas and choral settings In the same way composers who were more or less ideologically close to the regime wrote pieces of music on their own initiative which amounted to a support of the political order This book presents ten studies focusing on music inspired and promoted by regimes such as Nazi Germany Fascist Italy France under Vichy the USSR and its satellites Franco's Spain Salazar's Portugal Maoist China and Latin American dictatorships By discussing the musical works themselves whether they were conceived as ways to provide music for the people to personally honour the dictator or to participate in State commemorations of glorious historical events the book examines the relationship between the composers and the State This important volume therefore addresses theoretical issues long neglected by both musicologists and historians What is the relationship between art music and propaganda How did composers participate in musical life under the control of an authoritarian State What was specifically political in the works produced in these contexts How did audiences react to them Can we speak confidently about State music In this way Composing for the State Music in Twentieth Century Dictatorships is an essential contribution to our understanding of musical cultures of the twentieth century as well as the symbolic policies of dictatorial regimes
