Sadness At The Private University:

Sadness at the Private University Ralph Adamo, 1978-04 The Public and Private Management of Grief Caroline Pearce, 2019-05-09 Through a critical analysis of theory policy and practice The Public and Private Management of Grief looks at how recovery is the prevailing discourse that measures and frames how people grieve and considers what happens when people fail to recover Pearce draws on in depth interviews with bereaved people and a range of bereavement professionals to contemplate how failures to recover are socially perceived and acted upon Grounded in Foucauldian theory this book problematises the notion of recovery and instead argues for the acknowledgment of the experience of non recovery highlighting how recovery is a socially and historically constructed notion linked to the individualised vision of health and happiness promoted by neo liberal governmentality This book will be of interest to students and scholars across sociology anthropology social work and psychology with a focus on death dying and bereavement grief studies health and social care as well as counsellors clinical psychologists and social workers Contemporary American Poetry Lloyd M. Davis, 1985 Lists over 5 200 titles of books published by American poets between 1973 and 1983 The Grief of God Ellen M. Ross, 1997-03-20 Graphic portrayals of the suffering Jesus Christ pervade late medieval English art literature drama and theology These images have been interpreted as signs of a new emphasis on the humanity of Jesus To others they indicate a fascination with a terrifying God of vengeance and a morbid obsession with death In The Grief of God however Ellen Ross offers a different understanding of the purpose of this imagery and its meaning to the people of the time Analyzing a wide range of textual and pictorial evidence the author finds that the bleeding flesh of the wounded Savior manifests divine presence in the intensified corporeality of the suffering Jesus whose flesh not only condemns but also nurtures heals and feeds believers meet a trinitarian God of mercy Ross explores the rhetoric of transformation common to English medieval artistic literary and devotional sources The extravagant depictions of pain and anguish the author shows constitute an urgent appeal to respond to Jesus expression of love She also explains how the inscribing of Christ s pain on the bodies of believers at times erased the boundaries between human and divine so that holy persons and in particular holy women participated in the transformative power of Christ In analyzing the dialects of mercy and justice the construction of sacred space and time sacraments and ritual celebration social action and divine judgment and the dynamics of women s public religious authority this study of religion and culture explores the meaning of the late medieval Christian affirmation that God bled and wept and suffered on the cross to draw persons to Godself This interdisciplinary study of sermon literature manuscript illuminations and church wall paintings drama hagiographic narratives and spiritual treatises illuminates the religious sensibilities practices and beliefs that constellate around the late medieval fascination with the bleeding body of the suffering Jesus Christ
