Semblance And Reality:

Narrativity, Coherence and Literariness Eva Sabine Wagner, 2020-06-08 The search for the defining qualities of narrative has produced an expansive range of definitions which largely unconnected with each other obscure the notion of narrativity rather than clarifying it The first part of this study remedies this shortcoming by developing a graded macro model of narrativity which serves three aims Firstly it provides a structured overview of the field of narrative elements and processes Secondly it facilitates the classification of narratological approaches by locating them on different stages of narrativity Finally it focuses attention on narrative dynamics as interpretative processes by which readers seek to produce narrative coherence The second part of this study identifies three different narrative dynamics which characterise Laclos's Dangerous Connections Kafka's Castle and Toussaint's novels Wagner bases her analyses of these dynamics not only on the texts themselves but also on the ways in which literary scholars imbue the texts with narrative coherence This book provides a long overdue systematisation of the jumbled field of theories of narrativity and opens new perspectives on the difficult relationship between narrative theory and interpretation

Mood and Trope John Brenkman, 2020-01-28 Reconnect's affect studies with major issues in literary studies philosophy and aesthetics a fundamental contribution to this emergent field Jonathan Culler Cornell University author of Structuralist Poetics In Mood and Trope John Brenkman introduces two provocative propositions to affect theory that human emotion is intimately connected to persuasion and figurative language and that literature especially poetry lends precision to studying affect because it resides there not in speaking about feelings but in the way of speaking itself Engaging modern philosophers Kant Nietzsche Heidegger and Deleuze Brenkman explores how they all approach the question of affect primarily through literature and art He draws on the differences and dialogues among them arguing that the vocation of criticism is incapable of systematicity and instead must be attuned to the singularity and plurality of literary and artistic creations In addition he confronts these four philosophers and their essential concepts with a wide array of authors and artists including Pinter and Poe Baudelaire Jorie Graham and Li Young Lee Shakespeare Tino Sehgal and Francis Bacon Filled with surprising insights Mood and Trope provides a rich archive for rethinking the nature of affect and its aesthetic and rhetorical stakes Combining philosophical inquiry with brilliant interpretive readings Brenkman draws out the distinctive imbrications of mood and trope across a range of modern poetic projects

Amanda Anderson Brown University author of Psyche and Ethos Brenkman shows us how literature has extended and deepened the possibilities of feeling and knowledge of feeling alike Susan Stewart Princeton University author of The Open Studio Essays on Art and Aesthetics Eminently readable Choice

The Century Alain Badiou, 2018-05-18 Everywhere the twentieth century has been judged and condemned the century of totalitarian terror of utopian and criminal ideologies of empty illusions of genocides of false avant gardes of democratic realism everywhere replaced by abstraction It is not Badiou s wish to plead for an accused that is perfectly capable of defending itself without the authors aid Nor does he seek to proclaim like Frantz the hero of Sartre s Prisoners of Altona I have taken the century on my shoulders and I have said I will answer for it The Century simply aims to examine what this accursed century from within its own unfolding said that it was Badiou s proposal is to reopen the dossier on the century not from the angle of those wise and sated judges we too often claim to be but from the standpoint of the century itself

Language, Eros, Being Elliot R. Wolfson, 2009-08-25 This long awaited magisterial study an unparalleled blend of philosophy poetry and philology draws on theories of sexuality phenomenology comparative religion philological writings on Kabbalah Russian formalism Wittgenstein Rosenzweig William Blake and the very physics of the time space continuum to establish what will surely be a highwater mark in work on Kabbalah Not only a study of texts Language Eros Being is perhaps the fullest confrontation of the body in Jewish studies if not in religious studies as a whole Elliot R Wolfson explores the complex gender symbolism that permeates Kabbalistic literature Focusing on the nexus of asceticism and eroticism he seeks to define the role of symbolic and poetically charged language in the erotically configured visionary imagination of the medieval Kabbalists He demonstrates that the traditional Kabbalistic view of gender was a monolithic and androcentric one in which the feminine was conceived as being derived from the masculine He does not shrink from the negative implications of this doctrine but seeks to make an honest acknowledgment of it as the first step toward the redemption of an ancient wisdom Comparisons with other mystical traditions including those in Christianity Buddhism and Islam are a remarkable feature throughout the book They will make it important well beyond Jewish studies indeed a must for historians of comparative religion in particular of comparative mysticism Praise for Elliot R Wolfson Through a Speculum That Shines is an important and provocative contribution to the study of Jewish mysticism by one of the major scholars now working in this field Speculum

Fictions Markus Gabriel, 2024-03-12 From ancient philosophy to contemporary theories of fiction it is a common practice to relegate illusory appearances to the realm of the non-existent like shadows on the wall of Plato's cave Contrary to this traditional mode of drawing a metaphysical distinction between reality and fiction Markus Gabriel argues that the realm of the illusory fictional imaginary and conceptually indeterminate is as real as it gets Being in touch with reality need not and cannot require that we overcome appearances in order to grasp a meaningless reality which exists out there outside and maybe even beyond our minds Human mindedness Geist exists in the mode of fictions through which we achieve self-consciousness This novel approach provides a fresh perspective on our existence as subjects who lead their lives in the light of self-conceptions Fictions also develops a social ontology according to which the social unfolds as a constant renegotiation of dissent of different points of view onto the same reality Thus we cannot ever hope to ground human society in a fiction-free realm of objective transactions However this does not mean that truth and reality are somehow outdated concepts On the contrary we need to enlarge our conception of reality so that it fully encompasses ourselves as specifically minded social animals This major new work of philosophy will be of interest to students and scholars throughout the humanities and to anyone interested in contemporary philosophy and social thought

The Plague of Fantasies Slavoj Žižek, 2020-05-05 Modern audiovisual media have spawned a plague of fantasies electronically inspired phantasms that cloud the ability to reason and prevent a true understanding of a world increasingly dominated by abstractions whether those of digital technology or the speculative market Into this arena enters Žižek equipped with an agile wit and the skills of a prodigious scholar he confidently ranges among a dazzling array of cultural references explicating Robert Schumann as deftly as he does John Carpenter to demonstrate how the modern condition blinds us to the ideological basis of our lives

The new aestheticism John J. Joughin, Simon Malpas, 2018-07-30 This electronic version has been made available under a Creative Commons BY-NC-ND open access license The interest in aesthetics in Philosophy Literary and Cultural Studies is growing rapidly The new aestheticism contains exemplary essays by key practitioners in these fields which demonstrate the
