Serial Killer Cinema Robert Cettl, 2007-10-18 The release of Silence of the Lambs in 1991 which swept the major Academy Awards categories legitimized the serial killer movie a genre that dates back as far as the silent era From Absence of the Good to Zodiac Killer this reference work allows a detailed study of the development of the serial killer film as a distinct genre with its own character types narrative patterns and styles An introduction outlines the historical evolution of this film genre and covers the whole range of cinematic interpretations from the response to Jack the Ripper and other real life serial killers through the late 1960s to the current state of the genre Arranged alphabetically by title the filmography covers over 500 feature films and select television movies Each entry contains a listing of the film's main credits a synopsis of the film a summary of the film's respective merits and a discussion of how they fit into the themes and structures outlined in the introduction Only films that portray the serial killer as a repeat pattern killer and directly or by suggestion reveal the killer's aberrant sexual motivations or their craving for manipulation domination and control with subsequent desires to punish women or society are included

Exploiting East Asian Cinemas Ken Provencher, Mike Dillon, 2018-01-11 From the 1970s onward exploitation cinema as a concept has circulated inside and outside of East Asian nations and cultures in terms of aesthetics and marketing However crucial questions about how global networks of production and circulation alter the identity of an East Asian film as mainstream or as exploitation have yet to be addressed in a comprehensive way Exploiting East Asian Cinemas serves as the first authoritative guide to the various ways in which contemporary cinema from and about East Asia has trafficked across the somewhat elusive line between mainstream and exploitation Focusing on networks of circulation distribution and reception this collection treats the exploitation cinemas of East Asia as mobile texts produced consumed and in many ways re appropriated across national and hemispheric boundaries As the processes of globalization have decoupled products from their nations of origin transnational taste cultures have declared certain works as art or trash regardless of how those works are received within their native locales By charting the routes of circulation of notable films from Japan China and South Korea this anthology contributes to transnationally accepted formulations of what constitutes East Asian exploitation cinema

Henry: Portrait of a Serial Killer Shaun Kimber, 2017-09-16 Henry Portrait of a Serial Killer 1986 is precisely that a cold eyed character study based on the crimes of Henry Lee Lucas who was convicted of eleven murders in the 1980s Director John McNaughton presents an unflinching portrayal of the semi fictional Henry's crimes The film proved immensely controversial notably in the UK where it confounded the British Board of Film Classification which went so far as to re edit a crucial scene in addition to cutting others Shaun Kimber's examination of the controversies surrounding Henry considers the history and implications of censors decisions about the film on both sides of the Atlantic Taking account of the views of audiences critics and academics both at the time the film was released and in the years since Kimber also looks at the changing political social and economic contexts within which the film was produced and has subsequently circulated Henry continues to represent a key film within the horror genre the history of censorship and the study of film violence Kimber s account of the film s production and its fortunes in the marketplace provides a fascinating case study of film censorship in action and offers a sustained and wide ranging analysis of what remains one of the most disturbing films ever made An excellent in depth analysis Kimber effectively combines close readings of key scenes with detailed consideration of the history of different versions of Henry and its various engagements with critics supporters and regulatory authorities Geoff King Brunel University Shaun Kimber is a Senior Lecturer in the Media School at Bournemouth University

The Cinematic Boogeyman Kevin McGuiness,2024-09-19 In the 1978 horror film classic Halloween little Tommy Doyle asks his babysitter Laurie Strode what is the Boogeyman This book answers this question by assessing the qualities that create the Boogeyman persona in Western popular culture particularly in the fairytale and the modern horror film Using an archetypal approach derived from the work of Carl Jung and his successors Erich Neumann and Edgar Herzog the book assesses the figure of the Boogeyman through an interdisciplinary lens that incorporates research from the fields of psychology philosophy and film studies The book begins with an examination of the key traits associated with Bluebeard a quintessential example of the folkloric Boogeyman featured in Charles Perrault s 1697 collection of fairytales Through an intense comparative analysis it highlights the presence of similar qualities in the popular villains from the contemporary American slasher movies of the 1970s and 80s Specifically these characters include Michael Myers from Halloween 1978 Jason Voorhees of Friday the 13th 1980 and Freddy Krueger featured in A Nightmare on Elm Street 1984 This examination situates these terrifying antagonists within a larger context of monstrosity and simultaneously establishes their role as cinematic manifestations of the folkloric Boogeyman

What's Eating You? Cynthia J. Miller,A. Bowdoin Van Riper,2017-02-23 Divided into four thematic sections What s Eating You explores the deeper significance of food on screen the ways in which they reflect or challenge our deepest fears about consuming and being consumed Among the questions it asks are How do these films mock our taboos and unsettle our notions about the human condition How do they critique our increasing focus on consumption In what ways do they hold a mirror to our taken for granted about food and humanity asking if what we eat truly matters Horror narratives routinely grasp those questions and spin them into nightmares Monstrous others dine on forbidden fare the tables of consumption are turned and the consumer becomes the consumed Overindulgence as Le Grande Bouffe 1973 and Street Trash 1987 warn can kill us and occasionally as films like The Stuff 1985 and Poultrygeist 2006 illustrate our food fights back From Blood Feast 1963 to Sweeney Todd 2007 motion pictures have reminded us that it is an eat or be eaten world

phenomenon in reality that is none the less remarkably widespread in the cultural imagination Moreover despite its rarity it is also taken to be an expression of characteristic aspects of humanity masculinity or our times Richard Dyer investigates this paradox focusing on the notion at its heart seriality He considers the aesthetics of the repetition of nastiness and how this relates to the perceptions and anxieties that images of serial killing highlight in the societies that produce them Shifting the focus away from the US which is often seen as the home of the serial killer Lethal Repetition instead examines serial killing in European culture and cinema ranging from Scandinavia to the Mediterranean and from Britain to Romania Spanning all brows of cinema including avant garde art mainstream and trash Dyer provides case studies on Jack the Ripper the equation of Nazism with serial killing and the Italian giallo film to explore what this marginal and uncommon crime is being made to mean on European screens

Real Lives, Celebrity Stories Bronwen Thomas, Julia Round, 2015-07-30 Explores the processes by which we narrate our own lives and the lives of others our motives and the role of media

American Horror Film Steffen Hantke, 2010-09-30 Creatively spent and politically irrelevant the American horror film is a mere ghost of its former self or so goes the old saw from fans and scholars alike Taking on this undeserved reputation the contributors to this collection provide a comprehensive look at a decade of cinematic production covering a wide variety of material from the last ten years with a clear critical eye Individual essays profile the work of up and coming director Alexandre Aja and reassess William Malone s much maligned FearDotCom in the light of the torture debate at the end of President George W Bush s administration Other essays look at the economic social and formal aspects of the genre the globalization of the US film industry the alleged escalation of cinematic violence and the massive commercial popularity of the remake Some essays examine specific subgenres from the teenage horror flick to the serial killer film and the spiritual horror film as well as the continuing relevance of classic directors such as George A Romero David Cronenberg John Landis and Stuart Gordon Essays deliberate on the marketing of nostalgia and its concomitant aesthetic and on the curiously schizophrenic perspective of fans who happen to be scholars as well Taken together the contributors to this collection make a compelling case that American horror cinema is as vital creative and thought provoking as it ever was
